Monument to Be Dedicated

Members of Joseph L. Kaufman Post No. 279, American Legion, will dedicate a monument in memory of Sergt. Joseph L. Kaufman at the City Park, Temple City, at 3 p.m. Memorial Day, it was announced last night by Louis Ruff, commander. Joseph L. Kaufman was sergeant of Company C, 364th Infantry, 91st Division.

Commander Ruff stated in his announcement that the dedication services will honor every comrade who gave his life for his country. He added that the meeting of the post scheduled for last night has been postponed until June 6.

Harris Bill Move Set for Today

House Committee Will Meet to Consider Proposed Mexican Barrier

Administration Leaders Expect to Prevent Measure Going to Vote

By LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
Times Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 21. (Exclusive)—In spite of strong administration pressure to kill the legislation, the chambers today to the House will enter formal dispute point against what she sees as a proposed affront to national honor, the House Immigration Committee will meet tomorrow to consider the Harris-Box bill to admit Mexico under the European immigration quota act, despite definition that this or any restriction measure will be passed in the House.

However, there is believed little chance that House Republican leaders will permit the legislation to come to a vote in the session now drawing to a close. Once again the Democrats in the position of having a block, or at least attempting to block, ill-advised political action which the buck has been passed to them by the Senate. Those leaders—Speaker Longworth, Chairman Tilson, Hall and the others—are keenly alive to their responsibility and in all probability will be able to prevent the proposed legislation from coming on the floor. If they should fail the measure probably will pass in whatever form it goes from committee.

ADDITIONAL ALTERNATIVES

Developments tomorrow will present alternatives before it when Chairman Johnson of Washington, Representative Box of Texas and other members intend to gain winning influence for re-election campaigns by passing immigration from the south. So he is to take personal action and report the bill, evenly dropped through the mail and applying only to Mexico. Another would be to substitute for by Representative Box, aimed primarily at Mexico, allowing "poor quotas" also to the countries of the Western Hemisphere to get away from the discrimination. This proposal has been reported to have the support of the Administration, except for perfectionists on administrative details.

SPIRIT OF RIVALRY

Chairman Johnson was working on a "program" and it is said he will develop some plan or measure that goes to the House will carry his name. He

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, May 21. [To the Editor of The Times:] Every once in a while somebody or some State accidentally passes a good law. New York State has just passed one that makes it unlawful for anyone to stand in the roadway and ask for a ride in an auto.

Half of America looks like they are standing waving at the other half to take 'em somewhere. They don't care where. You can turn around and go back the other way. A hitch hiker won't care, they don't know any more where they are going than people in automobiles do.

There must be something the matter with this fellow Judge Roberts of the Supreme Court. The Senate passed him unanimously. He must be queer; he can't be human.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Young Attorney Accused of Taking Money for Aid in Landing Contracts

Vice-President's Scion Says Contractors Paid Him for Legal Advice

CHICAGO, May 21. (AP)—Harry K. Curtis, son of Vice-President Curtis, tonight defended the acceptance of fees from a group of building contractors, maintaining the money, approximately $10,000, was taken for legal advice. Curtis had been summoned to the State's Attorney's office for questioning concerning informal charges placed before the prosecutor by contractors who said they had paid the young attorney money in exchange for his influence in obtaining government contracts.

Concerning the acceptance of the fees, Curtis said, "Last year I was approached by a representative of some building interests and asked if I would obtain government contracts for his clients. I told him 'no.'

CITY'S GAIN INDICATED

Average of 104 Towns Given

Bay City's Official Figures Place Population at 625,974 There

A typical group of 104 cities, towns or other population units already enumerated in Southern California under the 1930 United States census show an aggregate population of 1,212,491, an increase of 707,851, or 140.2 per cent, over their 1920 census aggregate of 504,640, Guy C. Marion, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce census committee, calculated yesterday. One-fourth of the units grew from 95 to 2465 per cent in the ten years since the last census.

This growth together with the heretofore announced fact that the population of Los Angeles county outside of Los Angeles city has grown more than 228 per cent in the last ten years heightened hope in the chamber that Los Angeles city will be found on completion of its count to have grown more than the 125 per cent first estimated by the chamber. A 125 per cent gain would give the city a population of nearly 1,300,000.

The five census supervisors in this county will meet next week either to announce Los Angeles' population or to set a date for the announcement, it was said by Marion yesterday.

VENTURA TOWNSHIP HEADS COUNTY'S GAIN

VENTURA, May 21. (Exclusive) More than half of the 25,853 population gain that Ventura county made in the past ten years took place in Ventura township, census figures, revealed today.

The township gained 13,279 persons between 1920 and 1930, or 51.3 per cent of the total county growth in the same period.

Within its own boundaries, the township grew from 7273 to 20,552 between the last two enumerations, an increase of 182.5 per cent.

A rise of 306 per cent has taken place in the area in the past twenty years since the 1910 census when the population was 5052. No township figures are available earlier than 1910.

The township includes Ventura, Montalvo, Saticoy, Stony Plats, Casitas Springs, the Avenue and Santa Ana up to within two miles of the town of Ojai, and the Rincon to the county line.

BAY CITY'S CENSUS NOW SET AT 625,974

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21. (Exclusive)—San Francisco's official 1930 census as it will be forwarded to Washington was announced today as 625,974. It represents a gain of 119,318, or 23.3 per cent over the 1920 population figure and an increase of 4212 over the semi-official preliminary count but still falls uncomfortably short of the 700,000 mark it was hoped to attain.

Census Supervisor Taylor said the increase from the preliminary figure is due to ninety-five farms within city and county limits, which are the same, to mailed reports not previously included and to the elimination of the usual errors in the recheck.

WILL BE OFFICIAL

The figure, Taylor said, will be that announced from Washington as official unless something now unforeseen prompts inspectors there to make a change.

On the basis of this total and returns received from other cities and towns in the so-called metropolitan area, San Francisco, San Mateo, Contra Costa, Marin and Alameda counties are expected to disclose an estimated total of 1,400,000.

TOWNS MAKE GAINS

Figures from San Jose disclose doubling of population there in the last ten years. The final count is given as 77,135, an increase of 40,354, or 109.71 per cent over the 1920 figure of 36,781.

ZEPPELIN SPEEDS OVER SEA

Dirigible Hopes to Reach Pernambuco This Evening; Mail Dropped on Cape Verde Island

RIO DE JANEIRO, May 21. (AP)—The position of the dirigible Graf Zeppelin, bound for Pernambuco, at 1 a.m. Greenwich meridian time, Thursday (8 p.m., eastern standard time, Wednesday,) was given in a message received here as latitude 8.30 north, longitude 26.30 west, or about 400 miles northeast of St. Paul's Rock.

An earlier message, sent by Dr. Eckener to the National Telegraph Company, said the Graf was making "little speed against strong winds but all is well."

ABOARD THE GRAF ZEPPELIN, OVER THE ATLANTIC, May 21. (Exclusive)—Dropping the mail from the air at Porto Praia, on Sao Tiago Island, Cape Verde, this afternoon was an exciting experience. All the hundreds of negroes of Porto Praia were on hand and the Zeppelin's passengers joined in the excitement. We obtained our first aerial pictures of the wild and lonely high-peaked ocean islands.

The ship is now proceeding with clock-like regularity, each hour taking her exactly 1 deg. southward. She will cross the equatorial line Thursday morning, landing at Pernambuco probably on Thursday eve.

So far the Zeppelin has traveled over the ocean without any rocking or jarring. The passengers are perfectly happy over the cool and calm voyage and hope to land at Pernambuco Thursday afternoon.

The weather continues good but slightly foggy. The speed is sixty miles an hour.

We passed Teneriffe at 3 o'clock this morning.

Later we passed over the steamship Carnarvon Castle and the fully illuminated African liner radioed her admiration for the beauty of the Zeppelin in the night.

The weather is fair and the trade wind has been refound at last. Speed sixty knots (about seventy land miles) an hour.

PRINCESS UNHARMED IN FLAMES

Burning of Home Fails to Cause Any Ill Effects for Enceinte Norwegian

OSLO (Norway) May 21. (AP)—Princess Martha, wife of Crown Prince Olaf, is believed today to have suffered no ill effects from her experience last night as witness to the burning of their residence at Hvalstad, fifteen miles from the capital. She expects an announcement before autumn.

Throughout the blaze, which destroyed the residence and most of the royal couple's effects, the Crown Princess was sheltered by neighbors. Later she and Olaf will move to his apartment at the royal castle at Oslo. They had moved only last autumn into the residence which was destroyed.

The Crown Prince had just returned from a short yachting cruise when the fire, which had spread from a defective flue, was discovered. Clad in a sweater and knickerbockers, and bareheaded and blackened with smoke, he labored along with the farm hands and house servants, lending aid everywhere.

Loaded French Liner Reported Afire in Red Sea

LONDON, May 22. (AP)—Thursday)—Lloyd's received a message this morning from Port Sudan, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, saying that the French steamer Asia was afire with 1500 pilgrims aboard.

"We fear some loss of life," the message added. It said the pilgrims, bound for Red Sea ports embarked yesterday and that the fire began at 8 o'clock last night. Port Sudan relayed the message from Jeddah.

PREACHER IN TRANCE IDENTIFIED

Amnesia Victim Picked Up in Salt Lake City Proves to be from Los Angeles

SALT LAKE CITY, May 21. (AP)—A man found here yesterday by police, apparently suffering from amnesia, was identified as Rev. James L. Gordon, 70 years of age, of Los Angeles, former pastor of the Congregational Church in San Francisco.

Mr. Gordon, who told officers he suffered a stroke some time ago and since that time has fallen into trances during which his memory lapses, was unable to explain why he had left his home in Los Angeles or how long he had been in Salt Lake City.

Police were informed by Mrs. Gordon, wife of the former pastor, that a friend of the family soon will arrive in Salt Lake City to accompany Mr. Gordon back to Los Angeles.

At the home of Rev. James L. Gordon at 643 South Gramercy Place, a woman who did not identify herself said last night merely that the minister had gone to Salt Lake City by train, and that he is expected back home by train today. Further than that, she said, there is nothing to say about his trip and she expressed a desire that nothing be published about it in the newspapers.

Lloyd George Skeptical as to Briand Scheme

MANCHESTER (Eng.) May 21 (AP)—David Lloyd George, Liberal leader and former coalition Prime Minister, has expressed himself in typical fashion on Foreign Minister Briand's scheme for a union of European nations. In a speech here he remarked:

"If he pulls it I'll say, 'all blessings on his intellectual brow,' but I venture to say that as long as the nations of Europe maintain and multiply tariffs against each other the idea of a European federation must remain futile and negative."

Plans for 1932 Games Detailed

Garland's Report Tells Low Cost of Trip for Athletes Coming from Europe

Buildings Here Nearly All Ready Now, Congress Abroad Informed

Complete plans for conducting the 1932 Olympic Games were announced here yesterday to be presented to the International Olympic Committee at Berlin today by William May Garland, representing the organizing committee of the Los Angeles games. Dates chosen for the games are July 25 to August 8, 1932.

Mr. Garland's report, exhaustive and comprehensive, is the first official statement made by the Los Angeles organizing body and completely sets at rest the unfriendly rumors which have flooded Europe and which, for a time, threatened the success of the 1932 games. The two main questions that have served to worry the Europeans are answered by Mr. Garland's report as follows:

MOST BUILDINGS READY

(1.) In the matter of preparations Los Angeles is far ahead of schedule with more than 80 per cent of all buildings needed for the games already constructed two years in advance and conditions so well organized that it would be easy to hold the games here in six months if necessary.

(2.) Expenses of the round trip for European contestants are to be approximately $400 per man, including expenses for thirty days in Los Angeles. This is approximately one-quarter of the anticipated cost, due largely to the efforts of the Los Angeles committee in gaining the co-operation of railroad and steamship companies in careful planning of local arrangements.

Answering, in advance, all questions which are likely to arise at the meeting of the International Olympic Committee and the Olympic Congress, which follows a few days later, Mr. Garland's report requires only the final O.K. of the governing bodies to set the wheels in motion. The amount of groundwork done in advance by the Los Angeles organization is without equal in the history of the Olympic Games since their revival.

UP TO CONGRESS

Mr. Garland and Zack Farmer, secretary of the organizing committee, will present their report today. The International Olympic Committee is to pass the report along to the Olympic Congress, composed of the parent body and all governing bodies of the various branches of sport. The Olympic Congress will approve or disapprove the program, clearing the way for the Los Angeles body to proceed with the actual work of preparing to receive the athletes of the world two years hence.

Aside from the regular program of Olympic Games, the Los Angeles committee recommends the addition of two sports, tennis and polo, pointing out the excellent facilities which are already in existence in Los Angeles for conducting these two sports. The $400,000 plant of the Los Angeles Tennis Club, the largest hard-court club in the world, is recommended for the Olympic tennis games and the polo fields of the Riviera and Midwick Country clubs, and the Uplifters and Will Rogers's ranches are recommended for the polo competition.

Some changes are practically certain to be made in the program as presented by Mr. Garland. No Olympic program has ever been the same in two successive series of games. The proposition to include tennis is expected to be tabled, as the Tennis Federation withdrew from the Olympic body five or six years ago and has made no move to join again. Polo, on the other hand, is regarded as a possible addition to the program.

The complete list of sites for the 1932 games is revealed for the first time in Mr. Garland's report. Exposition Park, which is to be known during 1932 as "Olympic Park," is

LASH USED ON RASKOB

Robinson Makes Bitter Attack

Democratic Leader Charged With Centering Aims on Dry Law Repeal

Senator's Speech Follows Report on Huston's Shoals Activities

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—A speech assailing Chairman Raskob of the Democratic National Committee for his connection with the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment was delivered in the Senate today by Senator Robinson, Republican, of Indiana, after the Senate lobby committee had submitted a report on the Muscle Shoals activities of Chairman Huston of the Republican National Committee.

The Huston report was presented by Chairman Caraway of the lobby committee without comment almost at the same time that Robinson presented one discussing the lobby committee testimony concerning the Democratic national chairman.

TESTIMONY REVIEWED

That presented by Caraway reviewed testimony concerning the collection of $36,100 by Huston from the Union Carbide Company, which was interested in Muscle Shoals legislation, and the deposit of the fund in Huston's brokerage account, where it was used for purchase of stocks. No comment was made on the testimony by the committee, which confined its report entirely to a relation of the testimony.

After the report was read, Robinson, the only administration Republican member of the committee, characterized it as "entirely political and intended to achieve only political results on the eve of a political campaign."

Describing the report as a "condemnation of Huston," the Indianan asserted that he had not joined in it because of its "political nature." He said that was the first time the lobby committee had divided on a report.

Robinson asserted he was convinced that Raskob "went into the Democratic party and became chairman of the national executive committee for one purpose only, and that was to destroy the Eighteenth Amendment of the Constitution."

HUSTON DEFENDED

Robinson's report said Raskob was a director of the Association Against the Eighteenth Amendment, had contributed $77,000 and that the association "has generally had his active aid and assistance in all its plans and undertakings."

"In the evidence before your committee," the report continued: "It developed that few, if any, of the methods of lobbying were neglected by the Association Against the Eighteenth Amendment. In all of these activities, Mr. Raskob had an important part."

Speaking almost two hours, Robinson asserted that Huston had given every cent of the money he collected from the Union Carbide Company to the Tennessee River Improvement Association, of which he is a former president.

"And that's the whole case against Claudius Huston as it appeared in the record," he shouted, adding that he wondered what crime Huston committed unless it was that he "happened to be a prominent Republican."

BUYING STOCKS NO CRIME

Explaining that a number of prominent Democrats, including Senator Brock, Democrat, Tennessee, had been active in the work of the Tennessee River Improvement Association, Robinson said:

"Yet in this partisan report there is not one word of mention of any of these Democrats. Of course, the reason is perfectly obvious."

"What has Huston done," he demanded. "Is it a crime to buy stocks? Then millions of Americans are criminals. And how about John J. Raskob who advised everybody to go into the stock market and buy stocks?"

Robinson said the Association

SEX MYSTERIES SOLVED

Maturity in Young Females Forced by New Hormone, Scientist Tells Montreal Session

MONTREAL (Que.) May 21. (Exclusive)—The mystery of feminine sex was lessened somewhat when Dr. J. B. Collip of McGill University, one of the group of Canadian scientists who gave insulin to the world, told the Royal Society of Canada in annual session here details of his researches upon a hormone or powerful chemical substance that causes precocious maturity in young, immature and virgin animals.

Dr. Collip explained that the hormone is obtained from placenta of animals, a portion of the reproductive system, and he gave credit to a Japanese scientist, Hirosi, who nearly a decade ago found the first indication of the presence of this essential sex substance in the animal organism. Dr. B. P. Weisner of Edinburgh undertook the problem and his work formed the starting point of the McGill researches.

Dr. Collip and his co-workers have progressed in their investigations so far that they have called the placental hormone by the name "emmenin." From the tests made on rats and mice, Dr. Collip discovered that the hormone is involved in the maintenance of pregnancy and he has been led to suggest that the placenta is a ductless gland of pregnancy, just as the pancreas is concerned in the disease of diabetes and the thyroid controls the rate of burning of food within the body.

PROBLEM MORE COMPLEX

Dr. Collip's new researches, considered in connection with other researches on sex by Americans, Europeans and scientists of other nations, demonstrate that the problem of sex is much more complex than previously realized. At least two and probably more than two hormones are involved in the complex functions that surround the sexual activities of the female. Dr. Collip's hormone is different from other feminine sex hormones recently crystallized by American and German investigators.

In ten clinics in Canada and the United States, Dr. Collip's hormone preparation now is being tested experimentally upon human patients suffering from sexual disorders. It is hoped that some unhappy condi

SENATE SPEECH LASHES RASKOB

Huston Report Asserted to be Political Attack

Indianan Asserts Buying of Stock No Crime

McBride Says Home Brew Not Approved

Against the Prohibition Amendment contributed to campaigns for judges, governors, lieutenant-governors and Senators "provided not only that they should be members of the Democratic party but that they should be against the Constitution."

"If Claudius Huston was lobbying, trying to influence legislation and governmental action," he added, "it was for the industrial development down in the Tennessee Valley. John J. Raskob was engaged in lobbying against the Constitution of the United States."

BREW HOPES DESTROYED

Notice was given today by F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, that if any wets believed they were going to get home brew from his organization they were doomed to disappointment.

This statement was made by McBride before the Senate lobby committee, which is investigating his prohibition activities. It resulted from questioning by Chairman Caraway of the committee concerning the league's attitude toward Representative Fort, Republican of New Jersey, a candidate for the Republican Senatorial nomination.

Explaining that the New Jersey league had indorsed Fort's candidacy and that the national league would follow suit, McBride asserted that Fort had not said in a recent speech in the House of Representatives that home brew could legally be manufactured.

Senator Caraway quickly obtained a copy of Fort's speech which was widely interpreted as expressing the opinion that home brew could be manufactured legally and read a portion of it. He quoted Fort as saying in part:

SPEECH ANALYZED

"Perhaps the act needs clarification on the question of home brew although nobody has ever been convicted for making it for home use. But, otherwise, it seems to me pretty clearly to fulfill the purposes of its adoption and to satisfy the real wishes of the American people—for the preservation of their industrial system, their prosperity, and their homes."

Commenting on the speech, Caraway said, smilingly:

"He says nobody had ever been convicted for home brew, and they ought to be content, if they want beer, with what they made if they were not too lazy to make it."

"I will tell you what I think he is stressing in this speech," McBride replied. "There is a good thought in it. That is, as we are fighting this through, that we should probably stress the sale of liquor rather than some of the other things.

"That was just his thought. There are quite a number of people who feel that way about it."

McBride said he had read Fort's speech twice since testifying concerning it recently before the lobby committee and could not find "one line in it that authorized home brew or recommended it."

"I am sorry," he continued, "if any of the wets got the idea they were going to get home brew from the Anti-Saloon League and are now disappointed. And they certainly will be disappointed. We were not for it and never were for it."

McBride also testified that he did not approve a "score card" prepared by the South Dakota league for grading the qualifications of candidates for public office. He was questioned yesterday by Blaine about the card and they quarreled over the Senator's method of questioning.

July 25 to August 8, 1932

EVENTS AND WHERE TO BE HELD

Track and Field—Los Angeles Coliseum, which is to be enlarged to seat 105,000 spectators.

Soccer Football—Los Angeles Coliseum and the Rose Bowl at Pasadena.

Swimming and Diving—Swimming stadium to be built at Exposition Park in front of present grand stand.

Art Competition—Museum now standing in Exposition Park will be used.

Wrestling, Boxing, Weight Lifting—Olympic Auditorium at Grand avenue and Eighteenth street.

Fencing—Present Armory Building in Exposition Park to be used for these events.

Rowing—2000-meter straightaway course back of Long Beach and Alamitos Bay.

Yachting—Triangular course off Los Angeles Harbor Breakwater to be used.

Equestrian, Modern Pentathlon—Government Air Field at Arcadia to be used.

Cross-Country Bicycle Race—Three alternative 100-mile courses picked, all finishing in Coliseum.

26-Mile Marathon—Two alternative courses chosen, both starting and finishing in Coliseum.

Tennis (proposed)—Complete $400,000 plant of Los Angeles Tennis Club has been chosen.

Polo (proposed)—Fields of Uplifters, Will Rogers, Riviera and Midwick Country clubs chosen.

Training—Fifteen complete athletic plants of Los Angeles city school system and Los Angeles Playground Department, to be turned over to visiting teams for training purposes.

Housing—Olympic Village capable of taking care of 3000 athletes, trainers and officials to be constructed within fifteen minutes' ride of Coliseum.

Cost to European Contestants—Boat and train fare, meals en route, sleeping accommodations, food and transportation for thirty days in Los Angeles at total cost of $400 per athlete, about one-quarter normal expense.

OLYMPIC GAMES PLANS DETAILED

Garland to Present Report in Berlin Today

Unfriendly Rumors Abroad Fully Set at Rest

to be the center of activity, according to Mr. Garland's plans.

The Coliseum, which, it is hoped, will be enlarged to a seating capacity of 105,000, will be the scene of all track-and-field events, part of the soccer football and the exhibitions of native and foreign games which are a very interesting part of all Olympic Games. Executive offices, press headquarters and all other sources of information and official data will be centralized at the Coliseum.

The Olympic Art Competition, which is of particularly high importance to European contestants, will be held in the Museum at Exposition Park and promises to have an unusual number of contestants from all over the world. Fencing is to take place in the Exposition Park Armory, which is regarded as particularly well suited to the purpose.

Swimming and diving contests are to be conducted in a beautiful pool which will be constructed in front of the Exposition Park grand stand. The pool will be fifty meters in length and will be surrounded on all sides by stands, providing a seating capacity of unheard-of proportions for such contests.

In addition to the events already listed, the Coliseum will be the scene of the start and finish of the twenty-six-mile marathon, the high spot of Olympic competition, and also will mark the finish of the 100 miles cross-country bicycle race, which arouses terrific interest among the Europeans. Three tentative bicycle courses and two marathon courses are projected in Mr. Garland's report.

Outside of the Coliseum the activities will be numerous. The boxing, wrestling and weight-lifting events will all be held in the Olympic Auditorium at Eighteenth street and Grand avenue, which seats 10,000 spectators, many times as large as any pavilion in which these events have been held at previous games. It is expected that much of the soccer football will be played at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena.

PENTATHLON AT ARCADIA

The equestrian events and the modern pentathlon, two branches of the Olympic programs which have never been very enthusiastically participated in by the United States, but which are spectacular in the extreme and bring together the military experts of the world's armies, will be held at Rose Field, Arcadia, a remarkable site for such events.

The harbor district will be the scene of the aquatic events, naturally enough. Long Beach provides unexcelled facilities for the rowing contests, with a 2000-meter lagoon located back of Alamitos Bay, on which it is not only possible for four eight-oared crews to race abreast, but whose sloping, sandy shores provide excellent seats for 50,000 spectators. A yachting course off the breakwater at Los Angeles Harbor will take care of the sailing events in fine style.

Not the least interesting item on Mr. Garland's report is the plan for looking after the housing and training of the foreign athletes during the games. Fifteen high schools and playgrounds have been chosen as training fields, assuring each nation of its own private facilities where its athletes may work out without coming in contact with rivals.

Most important of all the new projects is that of building an Olympic village at a site not yet announced, but which will be within fifteen minutes of the Coliseum. This area will provide eating, sleeping and entertainment facilities for 3000 athletes. Each nation will have its own separate quarters and, in the massive dining and entertainment hall will have separate cooking facilities, so that the athletes of each country may enjoy their native foods. Under this plan the athletes will be housed and fed and all local transportation provided for a cost of $3 a day per athlete.

FINIS NEAR ON BARRIER BILL

House Group to Consider Mexican Quota

Republican Leaders Expect to Prevent Vote

grabbed the Mexican restriction "issue" away from Representative Box several months ago, after the latter had spent years working it up to where it amounted to something, politically, and if he can possibly avoid it he does not now intend to let the Texan again gain the upper hand. With Johnson it is a matter of impressing the strong union organizations in his district and easing his campaign problems somewhat from the extremely close call he had for re-election in 1928. And, being chairman of the committee, it is likely he will put through a measure he can call his own.

The Senate Agriculture Committee also will be meeting tomorrow and may take action on the resolution by Senator McNary of Oregon, chairman of the committee, providing for a Presidential commission to study the farm-labor situation over the country to determine among other things whether there is any satisfactory substitute for the Mexican workers now deemed essential in California and the Southwest. The resolution, sponsored by the Federal Farm Board, is regarded here by officials and others now interested in the purely political aspects of the proposed Mexican restriction as pointing the way to the only sensible determination of the Mexican immigration question.

An interesting fact is that while employers of Mexican common labor in the Southwest have agreed through their spokesmen in Washington to abide by the conclusions reached by the proposed fact-finding commission, the leading proponents of Mexican exclusion are doing all they can to prevent such an inquiry. The assumption can only be that they are afraid the facts brought out would knock down their pet arguments about the "Mexican problem." For example, the board of inquiry might take note of the fact that the State Department, through administrative action carrying no offense to a neighboring country, already has reduced immigration from below the Rio Grande to a figure meeting, except for campaign purposes, all the expectations of those who want a formal restrictive law.

The McNary resolution, however, treats the Mexican question as only one phase of a general survey which would be undertaken in an attempt to solve the labor problems of agriculture in all sections of the country. It has the backing of the national farm organizations.

PROTEST TO BE IGNORED

Both Chairman Johnson of the House Immigration Committee, and Representative Box said tonight that the protest to be made by Mexico through diplomatic channels to the State Department will have no effect on the committee's action on the restriction legislation.

"We have had representations referred to our committee from practically every country of Europe," said Johnson, "and we have gotten used to them. We've had a lot of experience along this line, from the time the European Quota Act was framed in 1924. We don't pay much attention to these diplomatic representations any more."

Representative Box declared Mexico's protest will be a "manufactured affair."

"I don't know what the committee will do," Box said, "but immigration is a purely domestic question and we have never permitted a foreign country to dictate our policies."

CITY'S CENSUS FORESHADOWED

923 in 1920. The largest increase in that district is claimed by Larkspur in Marin county with a 1930 figure of 1341, or a 104.4 per cent gain over the 612 count in 1920.

Other figures reported: Napa county, 23,541 against 17,105; Contra Costa county, 78,182 against 53,899; Yolo county, 22,870 against 20,678; Solano county, 40,644 against 40,602; Fort Bragg, 3033 against 2616; Ukiah, 3061 against 2616; Willits, 1434 against 1468; Lakeport, 1319 against 1024; Cloverdale, 759 against 718.

PAPER COMMENTS

The Chronicle, commenting editorially, will say tomorrow morning:

"The census figure has been officially announced. Frankly, it is disappointing. Well, that is that. The time has now come to stop grousing about the 1930 census and begin figuring on the 1940 census. What is 1940 going to show?

"The answer lies with the people of San Francisco. It lies in team work. The individual San Franciscan cannot dodge responsibility by complaining that somebody else lies down on the job. Buck passing is one of the things most frequently complained of in connection with delay in civic progress. Well, stop the buck passing and get down to brass tacks.

MAKE 1940 BETTER

"The man in the street berating some other person or some organization for failing to get action is looking at the beam in the other fellow's eye and not at the mote in his own.

"Cities that move ahead are those where people get together and agree on what is the best policy and then all climb on the band wagon and whoop it up. There are the places where treason to the city is the highest of civic misdemeanors. Places that get disappointed when the census man comes around are the cities where people would rather play tug of war than all pull together in the same direction.

"San Francisco can make its 1940 census anything it pleases."

THREE DIE WHEN SKIFF OVERTURNS

San Pedro Resident One of Victims in Tragedy; Two Men Rescued

MONTEREY, May 21. (AP)—Three men were drowned in the Pacific Ocean today when their skiff capsized off Point Lobos, seven miles south of Monterey. Two others were saved. The drowned are Alfred Vormland, 22 years of age, and Claud Connaughton, 34, of Carmel, and Glenn Pryor, 21, of San Pedro.

The two saved are Adolph Hess, 50, and Bernard Wetzel, 34, both of Carmel. They were picked up by four Japanese in a commercial fishing boat, who went to the rescue after seeing the skiff capsize. The bodies were not recovered.

The five had started out on a pleasure fishing trip shortly after 3 p.m., but encountered a heavy wind and high seas after rounding Point Lobos. The skiff overturned as they attempted to fight their way back to protected waters.

SMALL TOES USELESS

Little toes and small leg bones now present in ordinary human beings will disappear in the course of man's evolution in the far distant future of human history if a prediction made by Dr. Mackinzie to the Royal Society of Canada is fulfilled. Reasoning from the feet of lemurs, small primates that are primitive apes and distantly related to man, and studying rare human individuals who are born without a full complement of bones and toes, Dr. Mackinzie is able to foresee a time when little toes will be superfluous and lacking in newborn babes.

Natural immunity to diphtheria, which is possessed by about half the general run of population, lasts undiminished for at least seven years, Dr. D. J. Fitzgerald of the University of Toronto has discovered as the result of an extensive investigation of this disease. Some other studies indicated that possibility of infection varies at different seasons of the year, but Dr. Fitzgerald's work does not support this view.

With a new spectrographic camera described by Prof. J. C. McLennan of Toronto, photographs of faint aurorae invisible to the ordinary eye on moonless nights can be obtained. Exposures of as short a time as ten minutes have recorded for science disturbances on the upper atmosphere and Prof. McLennan expects to use the new instrument for determining the kinds of light on various parts of an auroral display.

PINCHOT GRABS PRIMARY LEAD

Francis Brown Nosed Out in Race for Governor

Amazing Comeback Shown in Pennsylvania Vote

Davis Piles Up Tremendous Plurality Over Grundy

PHILADELPHIA, May 21. (AP)—Gifford Pinchot, independent Republican candidate for Governor, led Francis Shunk Brown, backed by the Philadelphia Vare organization, by 10,000 votes on the face of unofficial returns from all but 212 districts in Pennsylvania in yesterday's primary.

James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor in the Cabinets of three Presidents, overwhelmed Senator Joseph R. Grundy in the contest for the Senatorial nomination, with 467 districts missing. Davis's lead was 239,624.

WET SLATE THIRD

The wet slate, consisting of Francis H. Bohlen for Senator and Thomas W. Phillips, Jr., for Governor, ran third, but polled approximately a quarter of a million votes.

The totals for Governor with 302 districts missing were: Brown, 604,945; Pinchot, 610,035, and Phillips, 259,755.

The Senate totals, with 467 districts missing, were: Grundy, 473,013; Davis, 712,837, and Bohlen, 233,268.

Brown and Davis, backed by the Vare Republican organization, ran up leads over Pinchot and Grundy of 187,730 and 183,695, respectively, in Philadelphia. While Davis went on to win additional pluralities up-State, Brown's figures slipped steadily backward as the Pinchot vote from rural up-State Pennsylvania became known. In Allegheny county Davis easily carried Pittsburgh, while incomplete returns showed Brown unable to hold his own in that metropolitan center.

CURTAINS FOR GRUNDY

The success of Davis removes from the United States Senate the man Gov. Fisher appointed to take the seat made vacant by the refusal of that body to seat William S. Vare.

Senator Grundy, who leaped into the public eye through his championship of high tariff rates during the last year's lobby investigation, campaigned on the basis of the necessity of a continuance of his work for protection of Pennsylvania industry. Davis also pledged support to a high tariff, but in addition sought the labor vote on his record as Secretary of Labor for the past decade.

Reports are current that in the even of a Pinchot victory a wet independent ticket will enter the field at the general election in November. Pinchot campaigned as a dry. Brown urged a referendum on the matter of repealing the State enforcement law. The wet ticket demanded repeal of the State enforcement act.

CAPITAL SURPRISED AT PENNSYLVANIA VOTE

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—The outcome of the Republican primary campaign in Pennsylvania today provided the largest morsel of political discussion in the national capital.

Surprise was the keynote of all conversations, in the capital lobbies, at the departments, in the hotel lobbies, and in all places where State and national Republican leaders foregathered.

The Senatorial victory of Secretary Davis over Senator Grundy and Francis H. Bohlen seemed to surprise political analysts as much as did the neck-and-neck race which Gifford Pinchot and Francis Shunk Brown are making for the gubernatorial nomination.

DAVIS VOICES THANKS

On his return to Washington at noon, Secretary Davis said he plans no vacation period and that he will not resign before writing the annual report of the Department of Labor for the fiscal year which ends June 30, next. He expressed appreciation for the large vote accorded him, and pledged his best efforts if elected in November. After paying a brief visit to his home and to his office he delivered an address before an advertising convention and then called on President Hoover.

Chairman Nye of the Senate Campaign Funds Investigating Committee, indicated the committee's future course with respect to an investigation of the primary largely will be guided by the reports he expects its agents to submit not later than tomorrow. These agents observed the voting in several cities and their reports will be confidential.

EXPENSE ACCOUNT

The committee will meet tomorrow and Nye said he will ask the managers of the Davis-Grundy-Bohlen campaigns to submit their expense accounts this week.

F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, said in a statement that the showing "demonstrates conclusively that the wet issue is not a good one for either State or national candidates."

Co-eds Fight Smoking Curb

SEATTLE, May 21. (AP)—University of Washington co-eds want to do their smoking without restrictions.

Mrs. Morton will rule on the petition tomorrow, she said.

matters, and I assured him I would undertake any legitimate legal work. I received $500 as a retainer. In December it came to my notice that a number of contractors had been told they were to receive work on an '18-22½ per cent cost-plus' basis. I called some of the men into my office and told them flatly they had been misinformed and if they thought I had not represented them commensurately with the fees they paid me I would return the money.

"I have since returned almost all of the fees," Curtis added.

Mike Malloy, reputed go-between for the contractors and Curtis, was questioned at length today and Curtis was excused upon his agreement to furnish the prosecutor's office with a list of his fees and the services rendered for them.

CONTRACTS SOUGHT

Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the State's Attorney, said contractors complained of paying Curtis sums of money, thinking he would be able to gain government contracts in a number of Middle Western cities for postoffice and other Federal building projects. Roche quoted one as saying he thought he was to get some of the "government's printing."

Detectives seeking George Williamson, an associate of Mike Malloy, found his office deserted today and files in it rifled of private papers. A search was started for him by the prosecutor's office.

E. C. Travis, one of the contractors, who protested to authorities, told them, they said, that he gave Curtis a check for $500 and exhibited the check, cancelled and bearing the signature of the attorney. Travis was quoted as saying it had been his understanding he would receive a government contract in Wisconsin, Illinois or Indiana within thirty days or he was to get his money back.

Travis said, according to the officials, he had been told that if he could qualify as eligible to do work for the government he would receive a contract on a cost-plus basis.

"They said," Roche said Travis told him, "that it would be cost-plus 22 per cent."

INDIA SALT PANS BOIL IN BATTLE

Passive Resistance Gives Way to Bloodshed

Woman Leader Since Gandhi Arrest Also Jailed

BOMBAY, May 21. (AP)—The Indian situation took a definite turn for the worse today, as the government viewed it, with the Nationalist campaign greatly increased in vigor and the resistance of the authorities stiffened proportionately.

The salt pans of Dharasana formed the chief battle ground—and battles really occurred today, in contrast to the more or less mild contest of passive resistance that had taken place in the same place for a week.

Violence developed today, and some 600 volunteers were reported to have been injured. In the first raid of the Nationalists this morning, they split into two groups, and while the police were beating back one offensive with their sticks the others closed in on the barbed wire surrounding the salt pans. The second group also was driven off, and about 300 were injured.

The second attack was conducted similarly, and about 300 casualties resulted.

The first dramatic action on the part of the authorities came with the arrest of Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, who has headed the Nationalist campaign since the arrest of Mahatma Gandhi and Abbas Tyabji.

Mrs. Naidu had been watching this morning's raid from a distance, since she had abstained from active participation following her arrest for a few moments last week.

MOCA-MELLO
Fancy Sundae

»» Featured this week at GREEN LANTERN FOUNTAINS «««««

Here is something new under the summer sun. And the sun isn't going to be pleased with this frosty competition.

On the first hot day, give the sun a cold shoulder. Step into a Green Lantern Fountain and treat yourself to a delicious, refreshing MOCA-MELLO.

Do you want to know how it is made? Of course you don't... the secret will make the surprise all the more appealing. It is a Green Lantern specialty... to most of you that is recommendation enough.

We will tell you this much about our new mystery sundae. It is made with Green Lantern Ice Cream and a new heavy dressing... a combination that is difficult to improve upon.

Now that the hot days are at hand, how pleasing it is to know that there is a clean soda fountain close at hand. Green Lantern Fountains have made special plans to serve you promptly and appetizingly. You'll be pleased. Green Lantern Fountains are found only in drug stores...operated by successful independent druggists, your neighbors.

MERGER OF BUS LINES GRANTED

State Gives Its Consent for Deal of Greyhound

Los Angeles-Bay City Lines Affected by Order

Espee Motor Properties and Rights Taken Over

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21. (AP)—The first step in the proposal to merge all the California lines of the Greyhound Corporation was effected here today when the State Railroad Commission issued a blanket order authorizing Pickwick Stages System, a Greyhound subsidiary, to consolidate all its operative rights between here and Los Angeles.

The order carries with it approval of the transfer to Pickwick of the operating rights and properties of the Southern Pacific Motor Transportation Company and the Peninsula Rapid Transit Company and authorizes the inauguration of an express package service between San Francisco, San Jose and intermediate points, including Redwood City and Palo Alto.

Southern Pacific Transport operates principally in Santa Cruz county, and to some extent in Monterey county. The Peninsula company operates between this city and San Jose.

Commissioner Thomas S. Loutitt, who wrote the opinion, said that the consolidation will, in the main, result in the establishment of rates and fares lower than those now being charged. Commenting upon the express package phase of the order, he said that "a review of the evidence justifies the conclusion that the service proposed, because the service proposed, because of its frequency and other features, is a service required by the shippers and one which will provide for the public a full measure of service."

At recent public hearings, railway express agency strennously opposed entrance of Pickwick into the express field.

INSULTED CHINESE RAISE CAIN DEMANDING JAILING

CHICAGO, May 21. (AP)—George Moy Yip and Benny Mei Chin, who, as may be suspected, are Chinese, ran in the detective bureau last night waving a Chinese newspaper and demanding to be arrested.

"See what it says here," said Yip.

"What ja mean, see what it says here?" inquired Sergt. Michael Lyng. "I can't read that lingo."

"It says," explained the Chinese, "that we are wanted for committing a robbery in Boston. We did no such a thing. We demand to be exonerated."

Sergt. Lyng studied the newspaper carefully.

"It may be as you say," he declared. "These hieroglyphics are Greek to me. Privately, I suspect they are a receipt for three shirts, six collars and two suits of underwear. Still, as I said before, I cannot be sure. Maybe some tong is chasing you and you think you can wave a Chinese newspaper at me and get into a nice safe jail. Maybe you want a ride to Boston, though I know of no reason why anyone should want to ride to Boston. And, again, everything may be as you say.

"Pick yourself out a nice hard cot and I'll telegraph the minions of law and order in Boston. If it's a robbery, and you demand exoneration, I'll help you, no matter how long you have to stay in jail."

This seemed highly satisfactory to George Moy Yip and Benny Mei Chin.

GRAPE CONTROL BOARD FORMED

New Coast Organization Begins Functioning

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21. (Exclusive)—The California Grape Control Board, Ltd., became a functioning actuality today with the first meeting of the temporary board of directors here. Temporary officers were elected and William Boekel, attorney for the Federal Farm Board, was chosen secretary and directed to draw up by-laws and other necessary papers for a permanent organization.

Roy Pike of San Francisco, was chosen first vice-president and A. L. Paddleford of Lodi, second vice-president. Lesley Einstein, Fresno; Walter V. Jahant, Fresno; James A. Barlotti, Los Angeles, and Pike and Paddleford were elected to the executive committee.

A president will not be elected until the permanent organization is effected, it was decided. A second meeting of the board will be held in two weeks, at which time it is hoped the organization will be completed.

Too Much Acid

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years, a quick, safe antacid. 25c and 50c a bottle. Also tablets.

"Milk of Magnesia" is the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Chas. H. Phillips, since 1875.

HUNT FOR ENGS BACK AT START

Search for Judge Centers Near Home Again

Officials Still Baffled by Complete Vanishing

Two Men Report They Saw Jurist in Oakland

OAKLAND, May 21. (AP)—The hunt for Superior Judge Edward W. Engs, missing Alameda county jurist, again centered in Oakland and its environs as the sixth day of search came to a close. Largely responsible for this was the failure to substantiate reports from many and widely scattered places that Judge Engs had been "recognized."

Authorities continued reluctant to abandon the search where it originally began—in the wooded and brush-covered hills rising east of Oakland a few blocks from the judge's home. Although several square miles there were tramped over by more than 1000 searchers during the first three days of the hunt, about fifty men continued probing brush patches and peering into any crevice large enough to contain a body.

LAKE TO BE DRAGGED

Orders also were issued to drag Lake Merritt, in the heart of Oakland, after Superintendent of Parks Lee Kerfott, personal friend of Judge Engs, had revealed the jurist was in the habit of taking walks around the lake.

While failure to locate Judge Engs brought growing apprehension, those still believing him alive and wandering about in a daze had hopes revived when two men reported seeing him crossing a street late today in North Oakland. One of these, Harold G. Islip, who said he is a personal friend of the Engs family, told police he saw Engs, in torn clothing and holding a handkerchief to his head, cross Claremont avenue a few blocks from the foothills. Islip ran to telephone police, but when they responded the man Islip believed was Engs had vanished.

INTENSIVE SEARCH

Sam Kee, Chinese laundryman, also reported he had seen the man mentioned by Islip, and said he answered Engs's general description. Police ordered an intensive search of the district, including the gardens and basements of private homes.

Authorities are mystified at the complete manner in which the 57-year-old jurist has vanished after arising last Friday morning from a sick bed and wandering away in a supposedly delirious condition brought on by a previous illness aggravated by a seven weeks' criminal trial.

Reports by two persons that they had seen the jurist wandering in an apparently dazed condition toward the hills shortly after he had vanished from his home turned the search in that direction, where it since has centered.

HOOVER WINNER ON DEBENTURE

Tariff Conferees Throw Out Senate's Amendment

Further Concessions Made by Both Houses

Compromise Over Flexible Clause Still Sought

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—Nearing a final agreement, the conferees on the tariff bill today agreed to throw out the Senate's export debenture amendment which is opposed by President Hoover and the House.

Making further concessions to the House, the Senate conferees agreed to eliminate the Senate's duty of 30 cents an ounce on silver and the amendment permitting free entry of cement for State and municipal public works, allowing to stand a rate of 6 cents a hundred pounds on all cement.

DUTY ON LUMBER

The House managers receded, however, and allowed a rate of $1 per 1000 board feet to be placed on fir, spruce, pine, hemlock and larch lumber despite defeat recently on the House floor of a levy of 75 cents on these softwoods. The Senate bill carried a rate of $1.50 per 1000 feet.

The House group would not accept that part of the Senate's lumber amendment applying the duty to railroad ties and telephone and telegraph poles of all kinds of wood and this section was eliminated.

The Senate's conferees won out on its Tariff Commission amendments calling for a bipartisan commission of six as at present, as against the House provision for a nonpartisan fact-finding body of seven, on motion of Senator Watson, Indiana, the Republican leader.

Under the Senate's amendment, a new commission will have to be appointed by the President within twenty days after enactment of the law. He can reappoint any commissioner he wants to retain, however.

Today's work of the conference committee left only a compromise of the flexible clause and some minor administrative provisions standing in the way of a complete agreement and report of the measure to the Senate.

President Hoover was consulted on the flexible section during the day by Senator Watson and Chairman Hawley of the House Ways and Means Committee, both conferees on the bill. They went to the White House on a possible compromise, which would be acceptable to the Executive.

The President was represented by his callers as being ready to surrender some of the power now vested in him to change customs duties after Tariff Commission investigation. In this connection, it is understood that serious consideration is being given a plan to make it mandatory that the President proclaim rate changes upon the submission of commission reports to him.

POWER REMOVED

This would take away the discretion given the Executive in existing law either to put the changes into operation, or ignore them, as was done by President Coolidge, when the commission by a 3-to-2 decision in 1924 found warranted a reduction in the sugar levy.

The conferees will reach the controverted flexible section tomorrow and hope to reach some kind of compromise between existing law and the House provision. The latter broadens existing Presidential authority by authorizing him to make rate increases or decreases based on differences in competitive conditions. The present law prescribes a basis for equalizing differences in cost of production.

Should a flexible provision curtailing some of the President's power be agreed upon, Republican leaders see little difficulty in the way of final passage. Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, chairman of the Senate Conference Committee, said it is not likely that the report can be made to the Senate before next week.

TAKE CALIFORNIA'S FINEST VACATION - AND HAVE VACATION MONEY LEFT OVER

Of course you have seen Yosemite—but have you ever gained a real impression, from two delightful weeks or more in this Valley of Vacations?

Then here is a suggestion that can so easily settle the perplexing vacation question that comes up every year. Spend all your time in Yosemite!

MOTOR TOURS

You'll find, too, that the vacation-allowances you usually spend for a summer trip will leave a pleasant surplus. Yosemite is near at hand—the traveling cost is small. And the complete range of accommodations, from tent-camps among the pines to the luxurious Ahwahnee, allow you to spend $4.00 a day or $12.00 a day—or almost any price between—for rooms and meals.

SADDLE TRIPS

Not to mention housekeeping cabins, or tents and meals ready and waiting a mile above the Valley floor.

You should have a booklet describing Yosemite in pictures. Ask today at any travel office, or—

JUSTICE FIRST REQUISITE OF CIVILIZED CULTURE

Sense of Guilt Regulates Relations Between Individuals in Groups, Freud Maintains

Dr. Freud, in the preceding installments of his latest book, "Civilization and Its Discontents," went into the various ways by which humanity has tried to find happiness, then said that men were hostile to the ideals they have set up. He continues in this installment to analyze the sense of guilt which has caused "man to become a god by means of artificial auxiliaries." He also explains the growth in man of a "superego," which is within him.

BY PROFESSOR SIGMUND FREUD.

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

We now have to consider the last and certainly by no means the least important of the components of culture—namely, the manner in which social relations, the relations of one man to another, are regulated, all that has to do with him as a neighbor, as an object of help, a member of a family or of a state.

Man in communities begins the whole field of social relations among human beings; we know already that it is the cause of the antagonism against which all civilization has to fight. It sets hard tasks for our scientific work, too; we have a great deal to explain here.

It is not easy to understand how it can become possible to withhold satisfaction from an instinct. Nor is it by any means without risk to do so; if the deprivation is not made good economically one may be certain of producing serious disorders.

What means does civilization make use of to hold in check the aggressiveness that opposes it, to make it harmless, perhaps to get rid of it? Some of these measures we have already come to know, though not yet the one that is apparently the most important.

We can study it in the evolution of the individual. What happens in him to render his craving for aggression innocuous? Something very curious, that we should never have guessed, and that yet seems simple enough.

TENSION SENSE OF GUILT

The aggressiveness is introjected, internalized; in fact it is sent back where it came from, i.e., directed against the ego. It is there taken over by a part of the ego that distinguishes itself from the rest as a superego, and now, in the form of "conscience," exercises the same propensity to harsh aggressiveness against the ego that the ego would have liked to enjoy against others.

The tension between the strict superego and the subordinate ego we call the sense of guilt; it manifests itself as the need for punishment. Civilization therefore obtains the mastery over the dangerous love of aggression in individuals by enfeebling and disarming it and setting up an institution within their minds to keep watch over it, like a garrison in a conquered city.

As to the origin of the sense of guilt, analysts have different views from those of the psychologists; nor is it easy for analysts to explain it, either. First of all, when one asks how a sense of guilt arises in anyone one is told something one cannot dispute: people feel guilty (pious people call it "sinful") when they have done something they know to be "bad." But then one sees how little this answer tells one.

An extraneous influence is evidently at work; it is this that decides what is to be called good and bad. Since their own feelings would not have led men along the same path, they must have had a motive for obeying this extraneous influence. It is easy to discover this motive in man's helplessness and dependence upon others; it can best be designated as a dread of losing love.

If he loses the love of others on whom he is dependent he will forfeit also their protection against many dangers, and above all he runs the risk that this stronger person will show his superiority in the form of punishing him.

What is bad is, therefore, to begin with, whatever causes one to be threatened with a loss of love; because of the dread of this loss one must desist from it.

BASE TRIP MAY BE POSTPONED

Opposition to Financing of "Junket" Develops

Pressure of Elections Also Used as Excuse

Hearing Degenerating Into Five-State Squabble

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 21. (Exclusive)—While Rear-Admiral J. M. Reeves was concluding his testimony in the California dirigible base controversy before the House Committee on Naval Affairs today it became increasingly apparent that the hearings are degenerating into a five-State squabble for this or future air bases.

At the same time a distinct tendency to postpone a summer trip to California to inspect the controversial sites began to take form.

Chairman Britten, although not taking credit for the idea himself, asserted today that he had "heard some talk" of postponing the trip until after March 4 next, when the new Congress will be sworn in and adjourned.

He gave as a reason for the proposed postponement lack of election and primary fights to harass committee members and said that the time will be more pleasant for a committee visit to the State. He did not mention that opposition to financing the trip has arisen in the House Appropriations Committee that a number of committee members feel that nothing could be gained by such a "junket" or that the Sunnyvale site, which he has favored since the opening of the hearings, is reported to have less fog at that time of year than in the summer.

OKLAHOMAN MORE FRANK

Representative McClintic of Oklahoma was more frank. He said that at least two members of the appropriations committee are against sending the committee on such a trip. Moreover, the committee in his opinion definitely will not go west this summer. That statement is apparently backed strongly by most of the Democratic members of the committee.

McClintic naturally hopes they will go west as he wants to show them a site in Oklahoma City which he says is the most central and efficient site in the country for an aircraft base. He cross-examined Admiral Reeves today as he had cross-examined previous witnesses, in the hopes of getting an indorsement for this locality. He was unsuccessful again.

Prior to McClintic's Oklahoma drive, Representative Miller of Washington had gone into long and detailed explanation of the danger from sea attack threatening the unprotected Bremerton Navy Yard at Seattle, and demanded several times to know why the Navy has not provided a better defense including a dirigible base for this section.

Reeves agreed that it should be better protected, but refused to agree with the representative that the yard is more important than the Panama Canal from the standpoint of locating lighter-than-air bases.

ADAMS TO TESTIFY

Reeves gave the committee another short lecture today on warfare, dealing primarily with defense, sea-line communications and his practical experience with aircraft. He is a qualified naval observer, and will return to the combat and battle fleet aviation corps when he ends his tour of duty with the general board.

Although Sunnyvale adherents say that tomorrow's hearing will really begin their case, it remains to be seen what Secretary of the Navy Adams will say during his appearance before the committee regarding his recommendation of the Camp Kearny site. This recommendation, the northern contingent asserts, was overthrown by a later letter written by Acting Secretary of the Navy Jancke, when Adams was at the London conference.

NEW LAW DATA ASKED OF GROUP

Enforcement Commission to File Additional Report

Dry Members in House Call on Atty.-Gen. Mitchell

Plan for More Federal Judges Approved by Committee

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—The National Law Enforcement Commission has indicated that it will comply with a request of the House Judiciary Committee to make a supplemental report on its recommendations to Congress to strengthen law enforcement and to relieve Federal court congestion.

The commission is to meet Friday to draft the supplemental report which is to be based on numerous bills before the Judiciary Committee that have been proposed to carry out the commission's original recommendations submitted by President Hoover January 14, last.

The committee has been divided over the commission's proposals to define minor liquor law violators under the prohibition act and to authorize United States commissioners to handle misdemeanor cases.

The supplemental report is to be submitted to the committee next Monday and is expected to advise which measures the commission believes will carry out its recommendations.

Considerable secrecy surrounded the actions of the committee today in formulating the new plan of efforts to carry out the commission's proposals.

A group of dry members of the committee held a hurried conference at the Justice Department with Atty.-Gen. Mitchell before the meeting. Chairman Wickersham of the commission was invited to appear at a closed hearing and discuss the proposals, but it is understood he was urged to delay his appearance for questioning until the commission has submitted the additional written report.

Representatives Christopherson, Republican, South Dakota, chairman of the subcommittee handling the commission's measures, Michener of Michigan, and Moore of Ohio, Republican drys, headed the group that conferred with Atty.-Gen. Mitchell and Chairman Wickersham.

Christopherson said the group held a round-table discussion on the commission's measures and that next Monday was set aside for final action by the committee on the proposals.

The committee today approved the Bachmann plan to provide additional judges for crowded district courts.

The Bachmann plan calls for seventeen additional Federal judges and one additional judge for the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals which includes southeastern and Gulf Coast States and the Canal Zone.

HOOVER URGES SEA PACT SPEED

Action in Present Session of Senate Demanded

Borah Would End Hearing on Naval Treaty Today

Johnson Wants Debate Put Over Until Fall

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—President Hoover and Senate advocates of the London naval limitations agreement today demanded prompt action on the treaty as Navy leaders continued their bombardment of the pact before two Senate committees.

Moving to quash the talk of deferring a vote on it until next session, the President informed Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, at a White House conference that he hoped for ratification before adjournment.

HEARINGS TODAY

At the same time, Chairman Borah of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, announced he is proceeding on the assumption that the treaty will be acted upon at this session and that he will be ready to conclude hearings by his committee tomorrow after hearing Rear-Admiral J. M. Reeves.

Senator Watson, who had been giving consideration to demands for postponing the treaty discussion, informed Mr. Hoover that if the Foreign Relations Committee has the pact before the Senate by the time the tariff bill is acted upon it will be taken up.

JOHNSON WANTS DELAY

Senator Johnson, Republican, California, who has shown considerable dissatisfaction with the treaty, demanded that the debate go over until fall and indicated he will want to question several more able experts before the Foreign Relations Committee.

"The Senate is worn out from the long grind," said Senator Johnson. "Moreover most of the Senate knows nothing about the treaty nor does the country. I do not see need for haste."

Senator Borah issued the following statement:

"Before the hearing began I asked the majority leader, Senator Watson, whether it was proposed to dispose of the treaty at this session. He said that was the program. I have had no notice to the contrary. As chairman I shall proceed upon the assumption that it is to be disposed of at this session."

FEARS STAMPEDE

Senator Fatson said that unless the treaty is before the Senate by the time the tariff is out of the way next week, the membership will be very restless and he fears a stampede to get away. With the treaty debate apparently destined to go on at this session, the Indiana Senator believes it will be near July before Congress could quit.

Rear-Admiral J. R. Pringle and J. B. Chase, who testified yesterday before the Naval and Foreign Relations committees, respectively, changed committees today. Both admirals reiterated their favor of the eight-inch-gun cruisers and expressed strong dissatisfaction with the terms of the treaty restricting the American fleet to eighteen eight-inch-gun cruisers and giving it eighteen six-inch-gun cruisers. They said the American fleet did not need eighten six-inch-gun cruisers.

REED MAKES DISCLOSURE

Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, who was one of the American delegates, disclosed in examination of Admiral Pringle that Australia and New Zealand had threatened not to sign the treaty if it gave America twenty-one eight-inch-gun cruisers on the ground that it would lead Japan to build up to a point upsetting naval balance in the Pacific.

Senators Johnson and Robinson, Republican, Indiana, demanded if the treaty did not constitute an abandonment of the American policy of the right to build the type of cruiser she needed. Admiral Pringle said it did.

PLANS NOTE EXCHANGE

Word reached the Capitol today Secretary Stimson has tentatively agreed to exchange notes with Great Britain in an attempt to clear up the disputed question of whether the British will be allowed to replace their tonnage with eight-inch cruisers instead of six-inch ships.

The delegates have contended Great Britain would not have this right, but Senator Swanson, Democrat, Virginia, asked that this point be definitely cleared. Senator Johnson contends Great Britain would have the right under the language of the treaty.

Admiral Chase told the Naval Committee the United States did not have the five-to-three ratio with Japan and would be at a disadvantage with that country in a war.

Rear-Admiral Bristol, who was recalled by both committees, took the same position.

JAPANESE CABINET HEARS NAVAL REPORT

TOKIO, May 21. (AP)—The Cabinet today heard the full report of Admiral Takarabe, Minister of the Navy, on the London conference and discussed the problem of ratifying the treaty, to which the navy general staff's opposition is authoritatively understood to be subsiding.

BRITISH ORDER WORK ON WARSHIPS TO PROCEED

LONDON, May 21. (AP)—A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, informed the House of Commons today orders had been given for work to proceed on some vessels of the 1929 naval program. These will include the three submarines upon which work had been held up pending outcome of the naval conference.

Such orders, said Mr. Alexander, had been given regarding the six-inch-gun cruiser Leander to be built at the Deveonport Dockyard, and two destroyers to be built at Portsmouth.

"Tenders for a destroyer leader and two remaining destroyers which will be built by contract, now are under construction," he said.

SILVER SCREEN CLOSE-UP SOON TO JOIN DODO BIRD

CHICAGO, May 21. (Exclusive) The close-up of the silver screen which enables film fans to count the glycerine tears on the weeping heroine's cheek, or the hairs in the hero's waxed mustache, is doomed, according to Jack Warner, vice-president of Warner Brothers, who is attending the annual convention of Warner Brothers and First National at the Drake Hotel.

"The three-dimensional pictures are the coming thing," he said. "They will require a much larger screen because the film is twice as wide as the present fifty-five-millimeter strips. The new method will reveal all there is in the picture, with sharp reliefs. It will do away with close-ups.

"The sharp details, with color photography, will come as near to revealing the human being as he is as anything we can conceive."

CHARGES OF SOUND FILM EVILS MADE

"Tyrannizing" of Picture Industry by Telephone Patent Control Assailed

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—Charges that the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and its subsidiaries are "tyrannizing" the motion-picture industry through control of patents were made today before the Senate Patents Committee.

C. C. Colby of Canton, Mass., chairman of the board of directors of the Audio Research Foundation, who made the assertion, added motion-picture theater owners have paid or contracted to pay $25,000,000 more than they would have had to pay independent manufacturers for installation of sound-picture equipment.

The telephone companies have "forced" the theaters, Colby said, to agree to pay an additional $50,000,000 for service during the next ten years.

Colby and other witnesses indorsed a bill by Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, to make patents unenforceable if use of them constitutes violation of the anti-trust laws.

Dill said he hopes to get final action on his measure at this session of Congress.

Ernest Reichmann, general counsel for the Radio Protective Association and other radio interests, asserted in a statement that the Justice Department's suit to test the legality of the unification arrangements of the Radio Corporation of America, and nine other corporations, is a "militant attack against a great evil."

MACNIDER PICKED FOR ENVOY POST

Former Head of Legion Selected by Hoover as Minister to Canada

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—Hanford MacNider of Iowa has been selected by President Hoover as Minister to Canada.

MacNider is a former assistant Secretary of War and a former National Commander of the American Legion. His home is at Mason City.

Recently MacNider and Senator Brookhart have been in opposite political camps in Iowa, although both are Republicans. A few weeks ago the Senator issued a statement bitterly assailing the former Legion Commander, who, he declared, was trying to control the Iowa Senatorial election.

The President's nominee is a banker and, since his retirement from the War Department, has returned to banking in his home State.

The White House announced the Canadian government had communicated its approval of the choice.

RAIN HELPS TO CONTROL FOREST FIRE

Blaze Near Susanville Checked as Wind Dies; Warning Sent Out

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21. (Exclusive)—The able assistance of the elements today enabled fire fighters in Lassen county to control the four-mile timber blaze between Susanville and Janesville, according to advices received by State and Federal forestry offices. Heavy showers fell during the night and the wind, which had been strong enough to uproot trees and telephone poles, completely disrupting communication between the two towns, died out.

The combination enabled rangers and volunteers to beat out the edges of the fire and get fire breaks established in time to check the advance of its core.

Although not extinguished the fire is reported beyond danger of spreading. The check was established before the flames reached the Susanville Country Club, which was considered doomed to destruction for several hours.

The blaze was the first of serious proportions this season and brought a warning from forestry officials to the public to exercise extreme vigilance as the annual danger period is at hand.

Joseph Troche Death Sentence Changed to Life

SACRAMENTO, May 21. (AP)—Gov. Young today commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence imposed upon Joseph Troche, 22 years of age, sentenced to hang at San Quentin prison Friday for the murder of his sweetheart, Mae Lorenzo of San Francisco.

The Governor said in a lengthy statement on his action that a voluntary letter from the State Supreme Court recommending reduction of the original sentence on the ground that evidence did not appear to warrant it, helped him to determine his course.

Two factors were given careful consideration, the Governor declared, Troche's mental condition and the fact that but one empty shell was found at the scene of the crime. This latter point was advanced to substantiate the contention that Miss Lorenzo was killed by the same bullet Troche fired through his head in a suicide attempt.

Miss Lorenzo was shot to death while motoring with Troche near Placerville on November 20, 1927.

ANDERSON DIVORCE CASE RULING MADE

REDWOOD CITY, May 21. (Exclusive)—Harold S. Anderson of Hillsborough and his divorced wife, Mrs. Cynthia Anderson Beal of Los Angeles, whose battle for the custody of their three sons has been in the San Mateo county courts for months, emerged with a draw decision today. Each is to have the boys for a month during the summer vacation, according to a ruling by Superior Judge Buck. At other times they are to be in the custody of their nurse and the Anderson home in Hillsborough. Under a former ruling Mrs. Beal may visit them there whenever Anderson is not at home.

Roadhouse Chef Slain in Hold-up

CHICAGO, May 21. (AP)—Michael Michaels, 50 years of age, chef at the Lincoln Inn, South Side suburban roadhouse, didn't even know the place was being robbed late last night and paid for his ignorance with his life.

While two gunmen were lining up six customers and the proprietor, Anthony Bilassas, before the bar, the chef entered the room. One of the robbers ordered Michaels to join the victims. Instead, he turned to flee. A sawed-off shotgun killed him instantly.

Royal Match Again Rumored

MADRID, May 21. (AP)—Palace circles again today heard rumors of negotiations between the royal families of Spain and Italy concerning the possible marriage of the Infanta Beatrice and the Duke of Spoleto.

The much-denied match, it was said today by persons usually considered well informed, has reached the stage of actual discussion between the two houses. As previously, no official support attaches to the reports.

Self-Designated 'A.P.' Worker Gets in Trouble

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) May 21. (AP)—Falsely purporting to represent the Associated Press caused Andrew J. Reed, 23 years of age, to miss seeing the Kentucky Derby, spend five days in jail here and pay a $19 fine. Reed, who said his home is in New York, was convicted before Police Judge Starck today of disorderly conduct, fined and ordered to leave town.

Associated Press representatives do not wear badges and Reed aroused the suspicions of Detectives Stucker and Brewer last Thursday in their derby-week round-up of undesirables by displaying a cheap tin badge with "Associated Press" stamped on it. He purported to be from the Cincinnati office of the Associated Press, but a few questions by the local Associated Press correspondent showed that Reed did not work for the organization. His arrest followed.

MILLIONS ASKED IN FILM ACTIONS

Two Indianapolis Concerns Demand Damages

Producers and Distributors Group Accused

Enforced Contracts Listed as One Grievance

NEW YORK, May 21. (AP)—Summonses and complaints were filed today by the F. J. Rembusch Enterprises, Inc., and the Capitol Amusement Company, both of Indianapolis, in suit against the Motion-Picture Producers and Distributors of America for $2,744,250.

The Rembusch Enterprises claim damages of $499,550, and the Capitol Amusement Company, $415,200 because of asserted enforcement by the Motion-Pictures Producers and Distributors of so-called uniform exhibition contracts and compulsory arbitration provisions. They ask judgment of thrice those amounts in Federal court under the exemplary damage clauses of the Clayton Act.

The complaints follow the general tenor of those filed by the government against the same defendant and dismissed in Federal court on the ground that the government had failed to show specific damages to any exhibitor.

Today's actions, however, charge that theater chains, as a result of the wrongful acts asserted, are no longer profitable and assert that the form of contracts compels exhibitors to settle differences with producers and distributors through film boards of trade.

The complaints say the defendant organization, of which Will H. Hays is head, controls about 95 per cent of motion-picture production and 98 per cent of distribution and that a system of blacklisting independent exhibitors who fail to conform to the organization's demands forced the two complaining companies to accept the rulings of the boards of trade.

Other defendants named besides Hays and the organization he directs are Paramount-Famous Lasky Corporation, Loew's, Inc., Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Distributing Corporation, First National Pictures, Universal Film Exchanges, United Artists Corporation, Pathe Exchange, R.-K.-O. Distributing Corporation, Educational Film Exchanges, Publix Theaters Corporation, Tiffany Productions, Warner Brothers Pictures, Nicholas Schenck, Charles O. Pettijohn, Gabriel Hess, Charles E. Millikan and "Frank" L. Herron, whose real first name is unknown to plaintiffs.

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Of the ape tribe, these two were to be Tarzan's companions upon his return to the village of Achmet Zek. The younger ape, Chulk, was in high spirits. Taglat, the other, was no longer young, but he had a secret and sinister incentive for going with Tarzan—a purpose, which, had Tarzan of the Apes known it, would have sent him at Taglat's throat in jealous rage. Taglat was still a formidable beast, mighty muscled, cruel and, because of his greater experience, crafty and cunning.

He was of a morose and sullen disposition that marked him even among his frowning fellows. And though Tarzan did not guess it, he hated the ape-man with ferocity. So these three set off. The balance of the tribe gave them only a parting stare and then went on with the serious business of feeding. Tarzan found some difficulty in keeping the minds of his fellows set upon the purpose of their adventure. There are so many things to distract one's attention along the way.

Chulk was, at first, for rushing rapidly ahead as though the village of the raiders was but an hour's march before them instead of several days. But within a few moments a fallen tree attracted his attention with its suggestion of rich and succulent forage beneath. Tarzan, missing him, returned in search to find Chulk squatted beside the rotting bole busily engaged in digging out grubs and beetles, and then Taglat would turn up missing. It was exasperating; but Tarzan was patient.

All this delay retarded Tarzan's journey to the village of Achmet Zek. There was no help for it, however, for in Tarzan's mind was a plan which necessitated the presence of Chulk and Taglat when he should come to his destination. It was not easy to keep them together and the ape-man succeeded only because Chulk's mind was full of the alluring pictures of food to be found in the white-ape's village and Taglat had his mind fixed on his own secret purpose in accompanying Tarzan.

report yesterday to the local Coast Guard base. Decomposition was too far advanced to recover the body. Possibility was advanced it might account for the mysterious disappearance of the forty-five-foot fishing boat Baltic, owned by Charles Tillman, 334 West Sepulveda street, San Pedro, which has been overdue forty days. Mr. Tillman is understood to have rented the craft to another fisherman, whose name has not been learned.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21. (AP)—A survey recently completed shows that more than sixty merchant ships will be launched from the country's shipyards within the next nine years. Nineteen of these new ships, ranging in speed from 16 to twenty-eight knots, will be operated from the port of San Francisco within three years.

Business conditions in maritime circles are brightening up, and the outlook is encouraging for the remainder of 1930, according to Fred Kohrer, general auditor of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company. He has just returned after an absence of six weeks on a tour of Gulf ports.

MOTHERS WEEP AT SONS' GRAVES

More Than 200 Reach Goal of Trip to France

Prayers Consecrate Heroes' Resting Places

Touching Welcomes Greet American Pilgrims

ROMAGNE-SOUS-MONTFAUCON (France) May 21. (AP)—Spring rains mingled with the tears of American mothers today to freshen the graves of Yankee boys who fell in the great war.

The mothers, more than 200 in number, reached the goal of their voyage from the United States this forenoon and spent a day that was alll too short in the six vast military cemeteries wherein their sons lie buried.

With tears and prayers they consecrated the resting places of the heroes they had elected to leave upon the battlefields where they gave their lives to democracy.

Over nearly all of the cemeteries the sun broke briefly through a leaden sky for that simple, solemn moment when the mothers, for the first time, knelt beside their boys.

PARTY DIVIDES

Here, where sleep 14,000 of America's war dead, 108 mothers saw the graves which they had longed to see for twelve dreary years. Another fifty went to Seringes-et-Nesles, near Soissons, and a score each went to Thiacourt, near Nancy, and Belleau Wood, a few miles back of the immortal Chateau Thierry.

Touching welcomes everywhere greeted the saddened pilgrims. The French widows and orphans, too, in thousands, were present to show the American mothers how they also had given the supreme gift to the cause of humanity.

The American mothers were taken from their hotels in ten large automobiles. At Verdun a vast throng wept and speakers choked with emotion at a ceremony at City Hall as they told of the siege that lasted virtually throughout the war, in which men died by thousands.

SUN APPEARS

As the mothers gathered at the cemetery entrance the sun came from behind a cloud and bathed them in its warmth, the raindrops glistened on every grave and cross as the women placed evergreen wreaths, entwined with pansies and carnations upon the green robes. The flowers were prepared and ready for their arrivals.

In a brief hour they tried to say all of the prayers that welled in their hearts. Then the rain descended again and they hurried back to shelter in the large cars. Through the windows they watched the cemetery as they ate their lunches. Then again the rain ceased and they resumed their prayers at the marble crosses.

Sixteen Gold Star Mothers made their third pilgrimage to the Mount Walerien Cemetery, overlooking Paris, and there they stood by the graves of their sons at the same hour that the others, in five different localities, were making their first pilgrimage.

ORDNANCE CHIEF NAMED

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—President Hoover today nominated Brig.-Gen. Samuel Hof to succeed Maj.-Gen. C. C. Williams as chief of ordnance. Gen. Williams retired from active service April 1 after more than thirty-nine years in the Army.

GOLD STAR MOTHER TIRED

It Wasn't Trip Across Continent, But Close Attention That Got on Nerves of 92-Year-Old Woman

NEW YORK, May 21, (AP)—It was with a sigh of relief that Mrs. Elizabeth G. Hutchins, 92 years of age, went aboard the steamship George Washington today to sail for France with the third contingent of 262 Gold-Star Mothers.

Mrs. Hutchins was tired out, but not, she explained, from the effects of her five-day trip across the country from her home in Oakland, Cal.

"It's the doctor," she said. "They won't leave me alone. They think I'm too old to go to France—I, who still earn my living by runing a rooming-house out in Oakland—and they keep pestering the life out of me.

"All the way across the continent they kept hopping onto the train and wanting to take my pulse—I suppose people in Oakland wired ahead to them, and they meant well. And I tried to be nice and polite about it.

"I refused only once. That was in Logansport, Ind. But you do get tired of having your pulse taken all the time. It's made me wonder if, after all, maybe I'm too old to travel."

Mrs. Hutchins, who, besides being a Gold Star Mother, also is a member of an organization formed nearly seventy years ago by young women who wanted to knit socks for the Union soldiers in the Civil War, is en route to France to visit the grave of her stepson, Creighton Hutchins.

Her own children are all dead. It was her stepson, Creighton Hutchins, who was killed in action in France. Her son, Willis N. Mills, was chief assistant to the Attorney-General in the administrations of Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson. His son, Willis N. Mills, Jr., a New York architect, met her on her arrival here. And in Paris she will be met by her son-in-law, Charles De Vidal Hunt, a newspaper man.

Harbor Measure Wins Approval of Senate Group

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—Completing action on the House rivers and harbors bill tonight, the Senate Commerce Committee ordered the measure favorably reported and Chairman Johnson announced he will present it to the Senate Friday.

The committee acted with the opposition of Senator Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan, the only dissent recorded. The latter said after the night session that he will fight the measure on the floor.

Johnson said he will seek to have the bill made the unfinished business of the Senate, bringing it up before the London treaty, probably at the beginning of next week. He estimated two weeks will be required to pass it.

As now framed the measure would carry authorizations estimated by the chairman at $122,000,000, while Vandenberg said he considered the bill contemplated $300,000,000 of expenditures.

COLORADO RAIL DEAL FAVORED

Rio Grande-Salt Lake Line Combine Proposed

Interstate Agent Declares Action Desirable

Transfer of Buffalo Road Given Approval

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—Purchase of the control of the Denver and Salt Lake Railroad by the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad, the Interstate Commerce Commission was advised today in a tentative report by one of its agents, is in the public interest and should be permitted.

The Denver and Salt Lake line now holds a lease of the Moffat Tunnel, a tube piercing the continental divide west of Denver, and the fact is rated as making the Salt Lake line strategically important in transcontinental service.

M. J. Jameson, a commission examiner, assigned to investigate the Rio Grande Western's proposal, reported today that 21,234 shares of Salt Lake stock had already been purchased by the Rio Grande at $155 per share.

In addition he found that the Rio Grande held a contract to purchase 7635 additional shares of Salt Lake stock from George H. Burr & Co. of New York at the same price, the two holdings constituting approximately 58 per cent of Salt Lake voting stock.

He advised the commission to impose one condition by which minority stockholders of the Salt Lake would be given the right to sell their stock to the Rio Grande at the same price as that paid for the stock in the Salt Lake which the Rio Grande now holds.

The commission will allow argument and further consideration of the report before making a final decision.

MANY IGNORE HOUSE QUESTIONNAIRE

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—Chairman Parker of the House Interstate Commerce Committee said today more than 100 railroad holding and investment trust companies had refused to reply to the questionnaire issued by his committee in its investigation of railroad consolidation and ownership.

Six hundred questionnaires were mailed by the committee to the holding and investment companies with a request they reply by the 10th inst. Fewer than 500 have been received, Parker said.

"Practically all of the major holdings and investment companies have replied," Parker said, "but the others have taken the attitude that their activities are none of our business. However, we have all the power we need to compel them to give us detailed information as to their holdings and we intend to do so."

BUFFALO ROAD TRANSFER APPROVED

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—Approval for transfer of the ownership of the Buffalo and Susquehanna Railroad to the Baltimore and Ohio system was announced today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The acquisition will enable the Baltimore and Ohio to establish a new short route from New York to Chicago, running north of Pittsburgh, and shortening the present route by about eighty-three miles.

SENATE PASSES BILL TO HALT RAIL MERGERS

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—The Senate today passed and sent to the House the Cousens resolution to suspend until March 4, 1931, the authority of he Interstate Commerce Commission to approve consolidations or unifications of railroads. The vote was 46 to 27.

The resolution would make illegal joint control of railroads through holding companies or otherwise without the authorization of the Interstate Commerce Commission and would prescribe protection of labor in unifications allowed.

KING MAKES PLEA ON DAM TO HOOVER

Utah Senator Reports to President States Ignored on Boulder Contracts

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—Urging greater co-operation between the State and Federal governments in the development of Boulder Canyon Dam, Senator King, Utah, today told President Hoover, the States are being ignored in making contracts for the project's development.

Leaning heavily upon his cane, after his recent illness, Senator King said he had called upon the President to present the views of the Governor of Utah and others in his State on the Boulder Dam project.

Commissioner Mead, supervising director of the project, today said construction of a railroad spur from Las Vegas, Nev., to the site of the dam will begin as soon as funds are made available by Congress.

Mead said although it has not definitely been decided, the government probably will build the railroad and the Boulder Dam contractor will operate it. Union Pacific Railroad engineers are co-operating with the government in laying out the line, he said.

WIFE OF PLAYWRIGHT IN ALIENATION SUIT

NEW YORK, May 21. (Exclusive) Mrs. Cosmo Hamilton, wife of the novelist and playwright, was sued in the Supreme Court today for $25,000 damages on the ground that she alienated the affections of Constantine Penzin Satar-Khan, who was described as a former lieutenant-colonel in the imperial Russian army. The action was filed by Mrs. Nina Caracciolo Satar-Khan, teacher of dancing, who states that she married Satar-Khan in March, 1929, and lived with him happily until last November.

Your health will never get "in dutch" if you drink at least six glasses a day of Arrowhead Spring Water. It "chases thirst" in a big way. You'll find that it brightens up your whole life! You can "scour" the country but you'll never find another water like Arrowhead—because it's "juvenile."

BUT MORE SERIOUSLY, Arrowhead is endowed with qualities that do make it more refreshing, more invigorating. It bubbles forth from the granite depths of the earth where it is naturally formed from hydrogen and dissolved oxygen—pure H₂O. Just the proper amount of minerals vital to normal health are absorbed as it seeps up to the surface. Being "juvenile," it is youthful and actually peps you up instantly. You will enjoy Arrowhead's taste, its buoyancy, its freshness. Have it delivered to your home or office. It comes to you on the same day it is drawn from its protected spring.

This famous drinking water is delivered everywhere in Southern California. Five gallons—50c—in metropolitan area. Coolers loaned. Phone WEstmore 5231, California Consolidated Water Co.

COOLERS LOANED FREE

JUVENILE drinking water is the geological term for virgin pure water coming from profound depths, wherein nature's Hydrogen rising through miles of granite dissolves with Oxygen, forming naturally pure H₂O. This is the deep-seated source of ARROWHEAD SPRING WATER. Being juvenile, it is fresh, pure, healthful and better tasting.*

EMPLOYEES ASK LONG VACATION

Veterans in City Service Try to Get Extra Two Weeks on Their Rest Period

The Twenty-five-Year Club, a group of twenty-eight city employees who have been in the municipal service for more than a quarter century, have asked the City Council to grant them an extra two weeks vacation annually, and the Council yesterday referred the matter to the Civil Service Commission to determine the number of men affected. City Attorney Werner has ruled that the charter contains no bar to the requested action.

Three excellent singers are to be featured following — the first at 8:45 when Arthur Lang, baritone, is heard in concert ensemble; Olive Lee Shoemaker, mezzo soprano, at 9:15 in musical oddities, and Robert Hurd at 9:30 in concert repertoire.

KECA will feature three local programs. Marcella Burke, Hollywood Chatterer, at 3 p.m., is to present Dorothy Burgess, stage and screen star. Wedgewood Nowell, pianist and singer, will be heard in Playgoers' Memories at 7 tonight, and Bob and Monte, harmony twins, in 'synchronised sentiment' at 7:45 p.m.

MORNING FEATURE

KNX at 8:15 a.m. will feature Pietro Gentile, opera and talking film singing star, on a Hollywood Breakfast Club frolic. At 7:30 tonight the Royal Hidalgos will be presented in their first program on this station. These native musicians will present an all-Spanish half-hour of tunes seldom heard. At 9 tonight the "Five Minute Men" and "Musical Musketeers" will put over a snappy fifteen-minute program, to be followed by Ernest Charles, who will sing and play original and unpublished songs.

KFWB will feature two good Negro programs with Sweet William and Bad Bill, recording stars, at 7:30 p.m. and another excellent offering at 9 p.m. with "Miss Somaphine" and a lot of cronnin'.

Second Jubilee to Raise Funds for Sanatorium

Los Angeles civic, business and entertainment leaders again have come to the front to assist the Los Angeles Sanatorium at Duarte, and as a result a second annual Hollywood midsummer jubilee will be given to raise funds further to equip and enlarge the institution.

The show will be given in Hollywood Bowl Wednesday night, July 2, with a sponsoring committee which will read like the proverbial blue book. The use of the amphitheater has been donated, as well as the services of scores of artists of stage and screen.

At a meeting of the committee on preliminary arrangements held yesterday at the Roosevelt, Samuel Goldwyn was named honorary chairman of the jubilee. An active charman and various committees will be selected before the end of the week.

Parole Granted to Young Cline

Herman Cline, Jr., was given a parole yesterday from the County Jail, where he was serving a two-year sentence for failure to provide for a divorced wife and child.

Freedom of Cline came after he had decided to assume certain obligations toward his family placed on him following a divorce action in March, 1929. He was sentenced to two years last March when he failed to pay $30 a month to Mrs. Irma Cline, 819 1-4 West Eighty-fourth street, for the support of herself and 6-year-old son.

DORN CONGRATULATED ON HIS NEW HONORS

Friends of Dr. J. George Dorn, pastor of Hollywood Lutheran Church, congratulated him yesterday on his election to the presidency of the Southern Conference of Evangelical Lutheran Churches of California. He was elected at the meeting of the California synod at Sacramento. The position automatically makes Dr. Dorn first vice-president of the synod and also a member of the executive committee and chairman of the mission board of the Southern California conference.

LACY AGAIN TO HEAD WELFARE FEDERATION

At the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Community Welfare Federation, operating the Community Chest, held yesterday, officers were elected for the ensuing year. Following are those elected: President, William Lacy; vice-presidents, John G. Bullock, E. A. Meserve, Joseph Scott and C. I. D. Moore; treasurer, Ben R. Meyer; secretary and general manager, D. C. NAPOLEON TO BE TOPIC

"The Vicissitudes of the Amorous Life of Napoleon" is the title of a lecture which will be given in French by Lucien N. Brunswig, president of the Alliance Francaise, at the organization's soiree de gala tonight in the president's parlors of the Administration Building of the University of Southern California. The musical program will be provided by Mlle. d'Aquin.

JUDGMENT GIVEN AGENT AGAINST SCREEN ACTRESS

Arthur Lyons, New York theatrical booking agent, was given a judgment for $1751, against Lola Lane, stage and screen actress, by Superior Judge Blake late yesterday at the close of the trial of the suit brought by Lyons to collect commissions he asserted the actress owed him for obtaining her employment. The original amount asked was $1840.

During the trial efforts were made to prove by letters and testimony of employees of Lyons in his New York office that the relations between the actress and the booking agent were more than of a mere business nature.

Depositions from some of the clerks in the office of Lyons, read at the hearing, declared that when Lyons obtained a contract with the Fox studios for Miss Lane, she ran over to him, threw her arms about his neck and kissed him.

The kissing and hugging scene was denied by Miss Lane.

According to Lyons the defendant entered into a contract with him at New York on March 1, 1928, wherein he was to act as her manager and find her employment. For his work he was to receive 10 per cent of her earnings. He asked for a judgment for $1075 for commissions and $775 which he says was advanced to her.

In her defense Miss Lane contended that Lyons did not live up to their contract; that he failed to advertise and exploit her, and to get her the amount of work he agreed to get her.

SURVEY ON ROAD SIGNS AUTHORIZED

Supervisors Seek Costs on Markers Formerly Put Up by Automobile Club

The Board of Supervisors yesterday approved plans for a survey of county highways to determine the expense of providing and maintaining traffic signs.

Action was taken by the board following a communication received several weeks ago from the Automobile Club of Southern California, which in the past has erected and maintained practically all the signposts on the county's boulevards.

Due to the completion of new highways and the creation of numerous stop boulevards, the Automobile Club informed the board that the expense of signposting all the roads had become too expensive for a private organization to bear and asked the board to cooperate in assuming responsibility for some of the signposting.

It was reported the club intends to continue its major directional posting, but will leave to the county and municipalities the duty of posting signs advising motorists of local traffic regulations.

The survey will be conducted by W. H. M. Freeman of the County Road Department.

PORTER WILL SPEAK

Mayor Porter, George Pepperdine and Ira E. King will be speakers at the meeting of the Brotherhood Club at noon today at the Young Men's Christian Association. Mrs. Earl Evans and Miss Hildegarde Wilkinson will give a musical program.

Hundreds of thousands of Frigidaires have never required any Service

this is ONE reason why

3 times as many Frigidaires are now in use as any other make of electric refrigerator

Frigidaire is sold with a definite guarantee—backed by General Motors.
And still more important to you as a purchaser is the fact that year after year Frigidaire continues to give satisfaction—long after the guarantee has expired.
If service should be required it is rendered instantly and without removing the machine from the premises.

Other reasons why 3 times as many Frigidaires are now in use as any other make of electric refrigerator

Ice and desserts freeze faster with the "Cold Control." Vegetables stay fresh and crisp in the Hydrator. Foods are always kept safely cold by surplus power. Stooping is made unnecessary by elevated shelves. The Porcelain-on-steel finish won't rust, peel or blister. The mechanism is in the bottom, out of the way. The smooth, flat top provides an extra kitchen shelf. The price is lower because of quantity production. Operating cost is lower because the motor runs less.

FIRST DIVIDEND VOTED BY BANK

German-American Savings to Pay $1 on Stock

Action Unusual, Considering Age of Institution

Steady Growth Since Start Viewed as Gratifying

Directors of the German-American Savings Bank have authorized the payment of its first dividend of $1 per share on June 30, next, to stockholders of record June 15, Carl L. Schloessmann, president, announced yesterday. Organized with a paid-in capital of $500,000 and a surplus of $125,000, the bank began operations on March 18, 1927, with deposits of $700,468, and since then has shown a rapid growth.

In the last call for a statement on March 27, last, the bank reported deposits of $2,511,664, and total assets of $3,169,766. The total assets were higher than on either of the two previous calls and the bank was one of only two local banks to make this showing.

The paying of a dividend at this time is an indication of the confidence which the directors have for the future growth of the bank, Mr. Schloessmann said.

"Rarely has a bank paid dividends after being operated for such a short period of time as has the German-American Savings Bank," said the bank executive. "The reason why it has been able to do so is due to its economic management and the fact that it is strictly a savings bank under State supervision."

The bank is the only one in Los Angeles doing a savings business exclusively.

INCOME OF MEXICO OIL CONCERN UP

Seaboard Reports First Quarter Net Increase on 1929 of $280,569

NEW YORK, May 21. (Exclusive) Mexican Seaboard Oil Company and subsidiaries, including Cia Internacional de Petroleo y Oleductos, S. A., reported today March quarter consolidated net income of $291,539, after all charges, including depreciation, depletion and reserve for drilling expenses, equivalent to 24 cents a share on 1,244,383 capital shares outstanding.

These earnings compare with $10,970 for the same organization for the first three months of 1929 before depletion. Mexican Seaboard Oil and its domestic subsidiaries only reported net earnings of $25,944 for the initial quarter of 1929 before depletion but after all other charges. Cia Internacional de Petroleo y Oleductos reported a net loss of $14,974 for the first quarter of 1929.

Stockholders at their annual meeting, at which the report was issued, elected Andrew E. Baldwin director of the company, to succeed Clarence Bitting. Other directors were re-elected and all officers were re-elected at the subsequent meeting of the board.

Operations for the full year of 1929, including the South American subsidiary, resulted in a net loss of $28,850, which compared with a net loss of $1,332,906 for 1928, exclusive of the foreign subsidiary. The current position on December 31, last, according to the annual report recently published, revealed current assets of $2,262,367, against current liabilities of $906,609, leaving a net working capital of $1,355,758, which compared with a current deficit of $1,525,827 at the close of the previous year.

PROFITS OF SOUTHWEST UTILITY UP

Nevada-California's Net for Year Ending April 30 Sets New Mark

Consolidated gross operating earnings of the Nevada-California Electric Corporation and subsidiaries for the twelve months closed April 30, last, reached the largest figure for any twelve-month period in the history of the company, according to a statement issued yesterday by the company which attributed the increase, in part, to the growth of Riverside county served principally by the Southern Sierras Power Company, a subsidiary.

The company is at present negotiating for the sale of certain lands and water rights to the city of Los Angeles and it is expected that these properties will be acquired since Tuesday's referendum on the water-bond issue was carried. It was stated that such sales would not affect the corporation's power developments in any way.

The gross operating earnings for the twelve months aggregated $5,737,581.74 as against $5,521,104.76 for the same period a year ago, an increase of $216,446.98 or nearly 4 per cent. Operating and general expenses, including taxes, increased $227,071.68 to $2,765,670.63.

The net operating income before fixed charges or other income amounted to $2,971,881.06, off $10,624.70 from the total for the same period a year ago. With non-operating income up $22,000 to $184,087.60 and other net credits, the net income available for dividends and surplus after fixed charges, amounted to $1,060,503.69 against $990,101.54 a year ago, a gain of $70,402.15, or 7 per cent.

Leading Sugar Refiners Lower Level of Prices

NEW YORK, May 21. (Exclusive) Leading sugar refiners today cut the price of refined sugar for prompt or thirty-day shipment 20 points to 4.70 cents a pound, while the Great Western Sugar Company went on a 4.50 cents basis. Price changes are immediately effective.

The list of companies dropping to the 4.70 cents a pound basis includes Arbuckle Bros., American Sugar Refining, National & Revere, and Spreckels Sugar Refining Company.

Effective immediately Great Western Sugar established a 4.50 cents price on guaranteed thirty-day contracts from Chicago west, including Colorado and Wyoming, and on no guarantees in Arkansas. The company re-established the 51-cent prepay at Chicago, Milwaukee, Duluth and regular prepays will apply at all other points with no freight allowance.

RAIL DEAL HAS PARALLEL

Strategic Situation of Western Pacific Compared to El Paso Affair; James Master Hand

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Plans of Arthur Curtiss James relating to the future of the Western Pacific were brought closer to realization yesterday through a report filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission on the Moffat Tunnel situation. Approval of the purchase by the Denver and Rio Grande Western of the Denver and Salt Lake Line, owner of the tunnel franchise, is recommended in the report.

Once final indorsement of the Denver and Rio Grande-Denver and Salt Lake fusion is given by the commission, the way will be cleared for definite negotiations for a new transcontinental line over this route. Missouri Pacific, the Great Northern group, and the Rock Island are all manifesting lively interest in the preliminary maneuvers.

HOLDS TRUMP CARD

Holding the highest trump in this railroad deal is Arthur Curtiss James, largest single owner of American rail stocks and the man who successfully played the Southern Pacific and Rock Island against each other in his El Paso and Southwestern deal of six years ago.

While Mr. James has denied any intention of disposing of the Western Pacific, stating he bought the property to develop himself, an interesting parallel can be drawn between the Western Pacific and the El Paso and Southwestern, the latter of which he sold to the Southern Pacific in 1924 at a tremendous profit.

Connecting over 1139 miles of track between the Southern Pacific at Tucumcari, N. M., the El Paso and Southwestern was the line necessary for the extension of the Southern Pacific eastward and the Rock Island westward. After having built the road up into an efficient property, James acquired a forty-acre terminal site in Los Angeles. The purchase was reported to be for the joint account of the El Paso and Southwestern and the Rock Island preparatory to construction of a through line to Los Angeles.

To circumvent this plan, the Southern Pacific set out to deal with James for his railroad. The negotiations ended in the purchase of the line for approximately $57,000,000, which was reported to have been around $15,000,000 in excess of what the El Paso and Southwestern would have brought under normal conditions.

SITUATION SIMILAR

James, with his Western Pacific line running from Salt Lake to San Francisco, controls the tidewater outlet for the proposed transcontinental routes between Chicago or St. Louis to San Francisco. Through Western Pacific, he also holds a half interest in the Denver and Rio Grande, which extends from Salt Lake City to Denver by way of the Dotsero cut-off and the Moffat Tunnel. The cut-off and the tunnel shorten the distance between the Coast and Chicago by 173 miles.

At different points, the Denver and Rio Grande connects with the Burlington, the Missouri Pacific and the Rock Island, all of which are anxious to reach San Francisco over their own lines. This situation emphasizes the strategic importance of the Western Pacific, and accounts for the recent rumors of offers to James from the Van Sweringens, new owners of the Missouri Pacific.

In the Western Pacific situation, James is favored with three possible bidders. The Van Sweringens, who also own a half interest in the Denver and Rio Grande Western, are the most likely, since this grouping is the one approved by the I.C.C.'s consolidation plan. Or the Rock Island may take a hand, or possibly James may succeed in throwing the Western Pacific to the Burlington-Great Northern-Northern Pacific combine, in which he is one of the largest stockholders.

Rockefeller on Anaconda Board

ANACONDA (Mont.) May 21. (AP) Percy Rockefeller, John C. Coe and James R. Hobbins were elected directors of the Anaconda Copper Mining Company at its annual stockholders' meeting here today. Hobbins, vice-president of the company, succeeds the late Nicholas F. Brady. The others were re-elected. The terms are for three years.

There were represented at the meeting by proxy and in person 5,048,201 shares of the company's capital stock. Hobbins was elected chairman of the meeting and John C. Ryan acted as secretary. Minutes of the previous stockholders' meetings and minutes of directors' meetings for the past year were read and approved, as were all actions of the officers and directors subsequent to the last annual meeting.

RIO GRANDE APPOINTS NEW SALES DIRECTOR

Rio Grande Oil Company has appointed W. C. Pettingill as general director of sales, with headquarters in Los Angeles, according to an announcement yesterday. Mr. Pettingill for ten years was connected with the Tidewater Oil Sales Corporation of New York, advancing from salesman to regional manager in charge of marketing activities in the eleven Western States.

LORILLARD COMPANY

The P. Lorillard Company, generally recognized through extensive radio, newspaper and periodical advertising as the "Old Gold" company, ranks among the five leading tobacco-manufacturing units in the United States. Besides the Old Gold cigarettes, the company's main lines consist of smoking and plug tobaccos, little cigars and Turkish cigarettes.

From the outset of 1930 it became apparent that Lorillard intended to spend to the limit in making its Old Gold cigarettes a best seller, but with the intense competition existing, it is wondered what will be the outcome of this contest between the cigarette makers of the nation.

General evidence in the past few years, since gross business is not reported, points to a wide expansion in cigarette sales and a relative stability for the company's other products. Declines in net income since 1925 have reflected heavy expenses in marketing Old Gold, and the decline was furthered with the 1929 competitive price cuts. Net income for the year was reported at $1,336,700, equal to 29 cents per share on the common after preferred dividends, compared with $1,817,400 for 1928, or 75 cents a common share.

Magnavox and Amrad Finish Merger Plans

NEW YORK, May 21. (AP)—Announcement was made today that arrangements have been completed for the merger of the Amrad Corporation and the Magnavox Company as the Magnavox, Ltd., of Delaware, through an exchange of stock.

The merger of the two radio companies industry will become effective as soon as 55 per cent of the Amrad stock has been deposited. The merger is on the basis of seven shares of Magnavox for each share of Amrad.

James E. Hahn, president of Amrad, said that the new company would concentrate on the exploitation of radio accessories. The radio receiving business of Amrad has been sold to the Crosley Radio Corporation of Cincinnati, with which Amrad is affiliated. Amrad's plant is at Medford, Mass., and the Magnavox Company at Emeryville, Cal. headquarters of the new company will be at Cincinnati.

INSURANCE UNIT SHOWS LARGE GAIN

Pacific American Fire Net Premiums Increase 54 Per Cent

Showing large increases in both gross and net writings for the first four months of this year over the same period of last year, Pacific American Fire Insurance Company reported gross premiums of $324,978 as against $234,936 in the 1929 period, a gain of 38.33 per cent, while net premiums were $141,999, up 54 per cent, according to a statement issued by Lee A. Phillips, president, following a directors' meeting yesterday.

D. W. Pierce, Sr., was advanced to the position of executive vice-president and general manager and M. R. Johnson was elected a director and member of the executive committee.

Mr. Pierce reported on the establishment of general agencies at New Orleans to cover Louisiana and Mississippi, at Oklahoma City for the States of Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas, at Denver for the States of Colorado and Wyoming and at Kansas City for Kansas and Missouri. The company is also entering Utah, Montana and Idaho.

During the first four months of this year, the company has enjoyed an unusually favorable loss experience, it was stated. Although the reserve for unearned premiums has increased from $152,583 as of April 30, 1929, to $393,063 as of April 30, last, the net surplus of the company over all liabilities shows as of April 30, last, $3,417,343 against $3,220,325 on April 30, 1929.

Glad Tidings for Group of Stockholders

Five corporations yesterday sounded good news for their stockholders in the form of initial, special or extra dividend declarations. Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad Company declared an initial dividend of $1 a share on its common stock, payable June 30 to stock of record June 5. The company stated that full consideration had been given to the decrease in business but that the directors believed the earning power of the company in the past seven years and the prospect for the future justified the disbursement.

National Bond and Share Corporation declared an initial dividend of 25 cents a share, payable June 15 to stock of record June 2. R. H. Macy & Co., Inc., authorized an extra cash dividend of $1 a share on its common stock, payable July 2 to stock of record June 13.

Lynch Glass Machine Company voted a 1 per cent in stock dividend in addition to the regular quarterly of 50 cents in cash, both payable August 15 to stock of record August 5. Southern Pipe Line Company authorized a payment of $5 per share from the capital stock reduction account on the 100,000 shares of the company's capital stock, payable September 2 to stock of record August 15.

Trade in Local Area Still Lags

Manufacturers and wholesalers in most lines continue to report sales below a year ago with indications of a decreased production for the balance of the year with factory output considerably ahead of sales, according to the weekly summary of business in the Los Angeles territory issued yesterday by the Bradstreet Company.

The summary points out that the trade finds it difficult to adjust itself to prevailing conditions and explains that this is partly due to an attitude of ultra cautiousness on the part of the consumer, who is not buying as freely as two or more years ago. Railroads report that reservations to and from the East since the summer rates went into effect are equally as good as a year ago.

TARIFF ACT FOES MULTIPLY

General Motors Head, Isaac Marcosson and Henry Ford See Peril in Smoot-Hawley Bill

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, May 21.—Business America is just waking up to what the Hawley-Smoot bill really does—substantially increases the present tariff rates.

James D. Mooney, president of the General Motors Export Corporation, seeing in its passage a direct slap at America's foreign trade expansion, warns that in the automobile industry alone a shrinkage in foreign trade would directly affect 1,214,459 workers employed and three times as many persons depending on their wages.

General Motors export business is 15 per cent of its total volume. It now fears a drop of 60 per cent of its sales abroad for 1930, as compared with last year.

"It would be an understatement to say that our foreign trade may be imperiled by the impending tariff," said Mr. Mooney yesterday. "It's already imperiled, but let us hope that the seriousness of this crisis becomes impressed upon our statesmen before further damage is done."

Isaac Marcosson, writer, paying his respects to the new and higher tariff rates as outlined in the Hawley-Smoot bill, characterizes America's present tariff policy as "utterly stupid and economically short-sighted."

"If the tariff, as projected, is carried through," says this writer, "it means that we will be entering into a pact of economic suicide. The thing lying at the base of Briand's pan-European scheme, which is even now crystallizing, is a great economic federation of the world aimed at us."

A tariff is a two-edged sword. France showed that when it provided for an immediate increase in its tariff on wheat imports "to adequately protect French wheat growers," as Premier Tardieu explained. The increase in duty was from 50 to 80 francs ($3.20) per quintal.

The protests of thirty nations, already on file with the American government, and the retaliatory measures put into effect in the last two weeks, particularly by Canada and France, show how serious the export situation has become.

Henry Ford's factories were never busier. His car production is increasing every month. He knows business. This much is admitted even by his enemies.

No business man has come out stronger against the present Hawley-Smoot tariff bill than Mr. Ford.

"It will stultify business and industry and increase unemployment," he says, "people cannot keep on buying from us unless we buy from them, and unless international trade can go on, our business will stagnate at home."

A frank, straight, business statement—and fundamentally true.

"Should Congress pass the measure, I do not for one moment doubt that the President will veto it the minute it lands on his desk," Mr. Ford concluded.

Strong words these, but of vital importance now.

The bill has not yet passed. But with the Senate withdrawing from its position on the debenture plan, it probably will pass Congress.

Will the President veto it?

Net of United Utility Gains

NEW YORK, May 21. (Exclusive) The United Corporation for the period from January 1, last, to May 12, last, today reported net income of $3,734,738, after charges and Federal taxes. Profit and loss surplus as of the 12th inst. was $5,955,880, compared with $3,588,678 on December 31, last. Total assets were $412,648,599.

F. L. Carlisle, B. C. Cobb, P. G. Gossler, T. M. McCarter and J. E. Zimmerman were elected directors. It was announced that individual members of the Columbia Gas and Electric Corporation board have agreed to deposit approximately 25 per cent of their holdings of Columbia common stock in connection with the proposal of United Corporation to acquire 25 per cent of Columbia common stock. The time for the deposit expires June 10.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, May 21. (F)—The bond market was lethargic today, returning to its slow pace of the past few weeks after early orders were satisfied.

The stock privilege issues and secondary bonds in the liquidating group gave a ragged appearance to the market. Best investment bonds in the railroad and utility group moved up slightly. Traders apparently turned their attention to the new financing that was offered this week. Industrial issues slumped.

Trading in foreign bonds covered a wide field. Many inactive issues being in fair demand. On the whole they gained some ground. United States governments being the only issue to gain attention.

A $30,000,000 6 per cent convertible issue of R. F. Goodrich Company will be offered tomorrow at 98.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the last sale is the low, and both bid and close when same as high.

Thermoid Company

(Listed New York Stock Exchange)

ONE OF THE LARGEST MANUFACTURERS OF BRAKE LINING AND ASBESTOS PRODUCTS

As the outgrowth of a business founded in 1897, the company today ranks among the leaders in its line. It manufactures a large proportion of the brake lining used by leading automobile manufacturers, as well as a diversified list of other asbestos and rubber products. It owns all of the capital stock of the THERMOID RUBBER CO., of the STOKES ASBESTOS CO., and over 90% of the SOUTHERN ASBESTOS CO.

At present market prices of about $26 per share, the stock is selling at only seven times earnings and yields nearly 8% in cash. Regular quarterly dividends at the rate of $2.00 annually are being paid, and the stock during 1929 earned $3.76 per share net. Prospects for increased earnings in the future are decidedly attractive.

An interesting analysis of this company will be sent on request.

Fixed Trust Oil Shares, sponsored by the originators of Fixed Trust Shares, Corporate Trust Shares and Basic Industry Shares, represent participating ownership in the common stocks of a group of leading domestic companies in the oil industry. Stocks of companies in the Standard Oil group and leading independent companies have been included in order to provide a more complete cross-section of the industry. This trust is of the fixed type but differs from most fixed investment trusts in the following important respects:

1. A varying number of shares of each company is held in the trust. The exact amount of this holding is based on a careful analysis of the present financial status and trend of earnings of each unit in relation to the group as a whole.

2. Appreciation in market value of underlying stocks is distributed sem

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21. (P)—Stock market operators of Montgomery street preferred golf and fishing to business today. The utterly neglected majority of stocks went unsold or drifted lower as a few accounts were dressed for summer inactivity expected by many. Sales totaled only 19,304 shares and brought $744,645. Bond sales continued hisher at $17,000.

The industrials had two issues that moved counter to the trend. Langendorf B moved up a half point, and General Paint B rose an eighth.

Transamerica fluctuated nervously, but over a narrow range, and without much trading being stimulated by the moves. It closed up an eighth, but was a half-point below the New York Curb closing price.

Great Western 7s gained a quarter point, otherwise the utilities were lower, but the losses were fractional. The oils were generally down fractions. All groups appeared under the influence of uncertain business conditions.

Stock market economists continued to watch the trend of commodity prices for the key to trade recovery, it being generally believed falling prices would defer large tide pick-up until buyers were moderately assured further wafting would profit them little.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Stock Prices Hold Steady on Listless Trading; Signal Oil Advances Sharply

Traders on the floor of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday engaged in one of dullest sessions since inauguration of the post trading system two years ago. The volume of transactions amounted to only 9366 shares against 22,819 on the preceding day. Price fluctuations were mixed and narrow and no trend in either direction was indicated at any period.

Signal Oil & Gas, following announcement of the increased dividend from $1.75 to $2 annually, spurted 1 1-4 points to 34 and marked the broadest price change of the market.

Petroleum issues held generally firm on the light turnover as even Standard Oil of California, which has consistently featured the activity, had but a single transaction of 100 shares. The stock yielded 5-8 to 68 7-8. Union Oil firmed up 1-8 to 44 7-8 while Rio Grande dropped ½ to 20½ and Richfield held steady to 22 3-8.

Transamerica, which on Tuesday had a turnover of more than 9000 shares, led the activity with sales of 2700 shares. The stock after dipping to 42 7-8 advanced to 43 3-4 late in the session and reacted to close at 43, up 1-4 net.

Southern California Edison ranged within 1-8 of a point and ending at 64½ was off 1-8. Pacific Finance eased a similar amount to 37 3-8. Pacific American Fire fell off a point to 52 and Pacific Mutual 5-8 to 87 while International Re-Insurance advanced ½ to 45. Taylor Milling continued strong marking another new top for the year at 30 3-4, up 1-8.

Sales totaled 9366 shares valued at $304,724; previous day 22,819 shares valued at $1,061,689.

Sinclair States Prairie Trade Still on Slate

NEW YORK, May 21. (Exclusive) Harry F. Sinclair, chairman of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation, told stockholders at their annual meeting here today that negotiations for a consolidation with Prairie Oil and Gas Company were still alive and progressing and that sooner or later he believed a trade would be made.

O. M. Gerstung was elected a director of the Sinclair company and stockholders approved the proposed increase in the authorized common stock from 10,000,000 to 20,000,000 shares.

Concerning the recent acquisition of the Pierce Petroleum Corporation, Mr. Sinclair pointed out that the physical assets of the company were being assigned to the Sinclair system and that the deal should be very beneficial in that the Pierce Petroleum does approximately 25 per cent of the petroleum business in all Mexico. Pierce's principal business is in the marketing end of the industry. Sales throughout its stations last year were around 100,000,000 gallons and sales of the Sinclair system about 1,000,000,000 gallons.

American Smelting and Refining Company

6% Cumulative Second Preferred Stock

The following information has been furnished by Honorable Simon Guggenheim, President of the Company:

History and Business

American Smelting and Refining Company, incorporated under the laws of the State of New Jersey in 1899, is the largest non-ferrous metal smelting and refining enterprise in the world.

The Company, directly or through its subsidiaries, is engaged in the mining, milling, reducing, smelting and refining of copper, lead, zinc, gold, silver and other metals, and manufactures a wide variety of metal and chemical products. Its operations in the field of smelting and refining are conducted at numerous plants strategically located in the important mining districts of Utah, Texas and Arizona and at locations on the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards. The Company owns or leases and operates, producing properties situated in Mexico, Peru and Newfoundland.

The Company in recent years, through substantial investments in the General Cable Corporation and Revere Copper and Brass, Inc., has materially broadened its interests in the manufacture and fabrication of copper rods, wire, cable and similar metal products.

Purpose of Issue

The proceeds of this issue, together with the proceeds of $2,500,000 additional authorized Second Preferred Stock presently to be issued for cash, are to be used for the acquisition of properties or securities, the construction of additional plants and for other corporate purposes.

Capitalization

(To be outstanding upon completion of present financing)

Series "A" 5% First Mortgage Bonds due April 1, 1947	$36,601,800
7% Cumulative Preferred Stock—$100 par value	50,000,000
6% Cumulative Second Preferred Stock—$100 par value (including this issue)	20,000,000
Common Stock—no par value	1,829,940 shs.

Balance Sheet

The consolidated balance sheet of the Company and its subsidiaries, as of December 31, 1929, adjusted to give effect to this financing and after deducting all reserves and the outstanding 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock at its par value, shows net tangible assets of $123,401,312, equivalent to more than $600 per share of the Second Preferred Stock presently to be outstanding.

Net working capital as of March 30, 1930, without giving effect to the proceeds from the sale of Second Preferred Stock, amounted to $66,007,091, as compared with $67,465,642 on December 31, 1929. Cash, demand loans and United States Government securities owned alone amounted to $25,039,662, as against total current liabilities of $22,613,064.

Earnings

Net earnings and net income of the Company and its subsidiaries, as certified by Messrs. Haskins and Sells, based upon their audit of the general books and examination of reports received from plants, mines and subsidiaries, have been as follows:

Year Ended December 31	Net Earnings from Operations and Miscellaneous Sources	Net Income after Depreciation, Obsolescence, Depletion, Interest Charges and Federal Taxes
1925	$27,978,626	$15,190,760
1926	30,151,293	17,760,721
1927	27,970,606	15,477,770
1928	31,101,763	18,586,204
1929	34,462,872	21,831,583

Net income for the 5 years ended December 31, 1929, as shown above, averaged $17,769,408, or more than 3.7 times the annual dividend requirements on the 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock and 6% Cumulative Second Preferred Stock to be outstanding upon completion of this financing.

Net income for the year ended December 31, 1929, amounted to over 4.6 times such annual dividend requirements. These earnings do not reflect any benefits from the additional money to be provided by the present financing.

It is expected that the unsatisfactory conditions at present existing in industry and the low prices prevailing for refined non-ferrous metals will be reflected in the current earnings of the Company.

Equity

Dividends are being paid at the rate of $4 per share per annum on the common stock which, at present quoted prices, has an indicated market value of more than $125,000,000.

Application will be made in due course to list the Second Preferred Stock on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Cumulative Second Preferred Stock authorized and presently to be outstanding (including this issue), $20,000,000. Par value $100 per share. Dividends payable quarterly, March 1, June 1, September 1 and December 1, beginning September 1, 1930. Subject to the $50.- 000,000 authorized and issued 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock, the 6% Cumulative Second Preferred Stock is preferred as to assets and as to cumulative dividends, and entitled to payment at its par value and accrued dividends upon any distribution of assets other than dividends payable in stock. Entitled to equal voting power per share with each of the other classes of stock.

Redeemable, as a whole or in part, at the option of the Company on any dividend date on sixty days notice at 105% and accrued dividend.

Dividends exempt from present normal Federal Income Tax.

$103 per share flat

When, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval of counsel. It is expected that temporary stock certificates will be delivered on or about May 26, 1930, exchangeable for definitive stock certificates when prepared. All legal matters pertaining to the offering will be passed upon for the Bankers by Messrs. Davis, Polk, Wardwell, Gardiner & Reed and for the Company by Charles Earl, Esq.

General Water Works and Electric Corporation

Class A Common Stock

(No Par Value)

Class A Common Stock, the rights of which are subject to the rights of the Preferred Stock, is entitled to cumulative dividends payable January 1, April 1, July 1, and October 1, at the annual rate of $2 per share (hereinafter referred to as preferential dividends) before any dividends are paid on the Class B Common Stock, after which Class B Common Stock as a class is entitled to dividends, when and as declared, to the extent of the aggregate amount of preferential dividends for that year paid or set apart for the Class A Common Stock as a class. Thereafter, the Class A Common Stock and Class B Common Stock participate equally as classes in any further dividends. The Class A Common Stock in preference to Class B Common Stock is entitled to receive in involuntary liquidation or dissolution up to $55 per share and in voluntary liquidation or dissolution up to $45 per share plus in either case accrued preferential dividends. Class A Common Stock is redeemable as a whole or in part on any dividend date upon at least 30 days' notice at $45 per share and accrued preferential dividends. The Class A Common Stock is not entitled to vote under ordinary circumstances. Transfer Agents: The Bank of America National Association, New York, Central Trust Company of Illinois, Chicago. Registrars: Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company, New York, Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Company, Chicago.

Mr. C. A. Brooks, Vice-President of the Corporation, summarizes his letter to us, as follows:

General Water Works and Electric Corporation, incorporated under the laws of Delaware, through subsidiary companies, renders electric light, power, water, gas and/or other services in 248 communities located in 17 states, including Alabama, New York, Missouri, California, Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Kentucky, New Mexico, Pennsylvania, Idaho and Indiana. The combined population of the territories served by such companies is estimated to be 732,900, and the total number of consumers served with the various classes of service is approximately 123,500. Among the principal subsidiaries are Texas-Louisiana Power Company, Consolidated Water Company of Utica, N. Y., San Jose Water Works and Alabama Utilities Company.

Earnings: Consolidated Earnings of the Corporation and its subsidiaries (irrespective of dates of acquisition) as reported by the Corporation for the twelve months ended January 31, 1930, after giving effect to the proposed sale of 50,000 additional shares of Class A Common Stock:

Gross earnings (including non-operating income)	$7,544,016
Operating expenses, maintenance and taxes (except Federal income taxes)	3,388,176
Net earnings before depreciation, Federal income taxes, etc.	$4,155,840
Annual interest and dividend requirements on obligations and preferred stocks of subsidiary companies and the Corporation outstanding with the public January 31, 1930	2,924,201
Balance	$1,231,639
Annual preferential dividend requirements on 287,383 shares Class A Common Stock to be presently outstanding	574,766

Above balance equivalent to approximately $4.30 per share on the Class A Common Stock presently to be outstanding.

Dividends: Dividends on the Class A Common Stock have been paid continuously since issuance at the full preferential rate. The Board of Directors has determined that, when and as declared and paid, the cash dividends on the Class A Common Stock to an amount not exceeding the preferential dividend of $2.00 per share per annum, may, from time to time, to and including July 1st, 1931, and thereafter until otherwise determined by the Board of Directors, be applied to the purchase of additional shares of Class A Common Stock at the price of $20 per share, which is on the basis of 1/10 of one share of Class A Common Stock per share per year.

Management: The properties of the General Water Works and Electric Corporation system are under the management of experienced utility engineers, many of whom have long been identified with the successful development of operating units now in the system.

American Equities Company includes among its important holdings in public utility stocks, all of the outstanding 500,000 shares of Class B Common Stock of General Water Works and Electric Corporation, representing a substantial investment on the part of American Equities Company.

The foregoing is subject to the more complete information contained in the offering circular, and the offering of this Stock is made subject to allotment.

Only a part of the present offering represents new financing.

The Class A Common Stock is listed on The Chicago Stock Exchange and traded in on The New York Curb Exchange.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Receipts of approximately 800 cattle were increased by 453 holdovers from Tuesday. Trade was very slow and a few loads were still in first hands including some that arrived Monday. Best steers available brought about steady prices with other killing classes ranging from weak to 25c lower.

A load of 630-pound baby beef type steers and two loads of 1057 to 1187-pound California steers brought 11.00 with a few small lots of low medium steers at 10.00@10.50 and common kinds down to 9.00 and below. A few loads of Mexican steers cashed at 7.75@8.50 with some light weight feeders at 7.50.

A few head of 540-pound heifers brought 10.00 with best heifers of low grade at 7.85@9.00 and a few at 7.00. Practically no cows passed 8.00 with bulk of common to medium offerings at 6.50@7.50 with a few slightly better animals at 7.75. Low cutters and cutters ranged from 3.25@6.25 with shells even lower.

Scattered sales of bulls were noted at 6.00@7.00 with one weighty animal at 7.50.

CALVES—Trade was fairly active on calves and yealers with little change in values. Medium to good yealers brought 12.00@13.00 with a few odd head up to 13.50 and above. Plainer quality and weighty calves turned at 9.50@11.50 with light culls down to 7.00.

HOGS—Trade on the three loads and few lots of trucked-in butchers was of short duration at about steady rates, quality considered. A load of 172-pound New Mexico butchers with freight benefit went out at 11.50, while a load of 162-pound Coloradoes scored 11.35. A load of 167-pound Californias made 10.75. Several lots of desirable weight trucked-in hogs brought 10.75@11.25 with weighty kinds at 9.75 and packing sows at 8.25@8.85.

SHEEP—Eight decks of lambs arrived late in the forenoon and 472 were held over from Tuesday. Trade was slow on everything finally changed hands. Quality was mostly plain with a large share of the lambs being in the feeder class, sold to killers. With nothing available to test top prices it is somewhat doubtful just where desirable lambs would sell, but very probably some decline would have been effected. Nearly two decks of 84 to 76-pound spring lambs brought 9.00 with a few 69-pound lambs at 8.50 and some 61-pound averages at 8.10. Close to three decks of thin 62-pound lambs brought 7.25 with four decks of 68-pound weights at 7.00. A part deck of 115-pound shorn ewes made 4.00 with a deck of 105-pound weights at 3.50, sorted 10 per cent at 2.50. Some 108-pound ewes scored 3.00.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, May 21. (AP)—Demand for worsted types of greasy domestic wools is broader, with sales being closed quite freely on moderate quantities. The bulk of business is in 44s and finer quality western wools and 48-50s fleece and territory lines. Prices on these grades are showing a stiffening tendency.

The B. F. Goodrich Company

Fifteen Year 6% Convertible Gold Debentures

To be dated June 1, 1930 — To mature June 1, 1945

Redeemable at the option of the Company as a whole or in part by lot at any time on sixty days' published notice at 107½% and accrued interest on or before June 1, 1931, with successive decreases of ½ of 1% during each succeeding twelve months' period prior to maturity.

Each Debenture is convertible at the principal amount thereof into Common Stock of the Company at $65 a share to and including June 1, 1932, at $70 a share thereafter to and including June 1, 1935, at $75 a share thereafter to and including June 1, 1940, and at $80 a share thereafter until maturity. The Indenture will include provisions designed to safeguard this conversion privilege. In the event of redemption of Debentures, the conversion privilege will terminate on the date fixed for redemption.

The Chase National Bank of the City of New York, Trustee

The following information has been summarized by Mr. J. D. Tew, President of The B. F. Goodrich Company, from his letter dated May 21, 1930 and is subject to the more complete information contained therein:

THE COMPANY

The B. F. Goodrich Company, with main plants at Akron, Ohio, is one of the largest and oldest rubber manufacturing concerns in the United States. The business, originally established in 1870 as a partnership, was incorporated under the laws of Ohio in 1880, and reincorporated in 1912 under the laws of New York. In the same year the assets and business of The Diamond Rubber Company were acquired. The assets and business of Hood Rubber Company of Watertown, Massachusetts, were acquired in August, 1929 and of The Miller Rubber Company of Akron, Ohio, in February, 1930.

The history of the Company has been one of steady progress and the business has been broadened until it now embraces the production of over 30,000 types of rubber products, comprising a complete line of tires, including Goodrich Silvertown Cord tires and Goodrich Solid and Semi-Pneumatic truck tires, as well as footwear, including the Goodrich Zipper line, belting, hose, packing, druggists sundries, etc.

CAPITALIZATION

The capitalization of the Company, as of December 31, 1929, adjusted to give effect to the present financing and to changes in its capital structure is as follows:

	Authorized	Outstanding
Twenty-five Year 6½% 1st Mortgage Gold Bonds	$25,000,000*	$21,572,000
Fifteen Year 6% Convertible Gold Debentures (this issue)	30,000,000	30,000,000
7% Cumulative Preferred Stock ($100 par)	36,532,000	31,532,000
Common Stock (no par)	4,000,000 Shs.†	1,167,142 Shs.

*$3,428,000 retired by operation of sinking fund.
†Includes 604,030 shares reserved for sale to employees and for conversion of these Debentures and subsidiary funded debt.

Subsidiary funded debt outstanding at December 31, 1929, totalled $12,152,640, and minority stockholders' interests in subsidiary companies amounted to $2,504,721.

EARNINGS

Consolidated net earnings of the Company, as certified by Messrs. Stagg, Mather & Hough, available for interest on funded debt after depreciation but before Federal Taxes, for the five year period 1925 to 1929, inclusive, and adjusted to eliminate interest (averaging $481,715 per annum for the period) paid on indebtedness to be retired from the proceeds of this issue of Debentures, were as set forth below. These figures include the earnings of Hood Rubber for the last four months of 1929 only, and give no effect to the operations of Miller Rubber whose assets were acquired in 1930.

Year ending Dec. 31	Net Sales Including Those of Subsidiaries since Date of Acquisition	Net Earnings as above
1925	$136,239,527	$16,737,759
1926	148,391,478	7,741,033
1927	151,684,961	16,173,611
1928	148,805,179	6,206,183
1929	164,494,957	10,414,520
Five-Year Average		$11,454,621

Net earnings as shown above averaged $11,454,621 per annum or 2.91 times the total annual interest requirement of $3,930,099 on the First Mortgage Bonds, subsidiary funded debt and this issue of Debentures. After allowance for interest on the First Mortgage Bonds and subsidiary funded debt, such earnings averaged 5.18 times the maximum annual interest requirement of $1,800,000 on this issue of Debentures.

The operations of the Company for the first quarter of 1930, reflecting not only the normally low seasonal tire demand, but also the abnormal business conditions prevailing in the last few months, resulted in a loss of approximately $400,000 after depreciation but before interest. The Company charged to current operations all losses due to write-downs of raw materials as of March 31, 1930. No part of the reserve of $1,330,000 existing on December 31, 1929, has been used.

The Company's business for the current year, in lines other than tires, has been, in the aggregate, in excess of that for the same period of 1929, and since April 1 there has been a marked improvement in tire demand with good indication of its continuance.

ASSETS

The pro forma consolidated balance sheet of the Company and its subsidiaries as of December 31, 1929, certified by Messrs. Stagg, Mather & Hough, adjusted to give effect, among other things, to the subsequent acquisition of The Miller Rubber Company and to this financing, shows net tangible assets applicable to this issue of Debentures equivalent to more than $4,000 for each $1,000 Debenture. Such balance shows current assets of $100,418,334 or 9.6 times current liabilities of $10,452,554. Current assets exceed total indebtedness, including these Debentures, by more than $25,000,000.

EQUITY

These Debentures will be followed by $31,532,000 par value of 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock and 1,167,142 shares of no par value Common Stock, which stocks have an indicated market value, based on current quotations, of more than $75,000,000.

The Company's Preferred and Common Stocks are listed on the New York Stock Exchange and the Company has agreed to make application to list these Debentures.

We offer these Debentures, less the amount thereof subscribed for by stockholders, when, as and if issued and accepted by us and subject to approval of our counsel. It is expected that delivery will be made on or about June 4, 1930, in the form of temporary Debentures or Interim Receipts.

Price 98 and accrued interest to yield about 6.20%

Making a Barrel of Oil Work Twice as Hard

AT ITS GREAT new steam plant at Long Beach, Southern California Edison is extracting 500 kilowatt-hours of power from the same barrel of oil that produced only 250 kilowatt-hours a few years ago.

And Southern California Edison has found an equally economical fuel in the vast supply of natural gas that has been going to waste in the oil fields which lie at the very door of its Long Beach plant.

The entire community benefits from such economies, in cheaper, more abundant power. You may benefit even more directly as a preferred partner in Southern California Edison undertakings. As little as $25 will buy you a share of Edison Preferred. Mail the coupon for our new financial folder and full details.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 21. (AP)—The curb market was a listless affair today, sales aggregating less than 700,000 shares, and prices moving irregularly and uncertain. A few natural gas, oil and specialty issues made moderate progress.

Utilities were generally inclined to sag. Electric Bond and Share, and American Superpower were active features, and each lost nearly a point. United Light A sold up a little, but lost its gain and closed a shade lower. Associated Gas and American and Foreign Power warrants lost about a point each. Nevada California Electric, however, shot up 7½ points in one of its characteristically wide moves.

In the oils, Gulf made an extreme gain of 5 points, and closed up 3 net. Cosden and Columbia each lost about a point.

Technicolor was an acutely weak feature in the industrial specialties, tumbling nearly 9 points to a record low at 51 and closing at 52. Columbia Pictures lost more than 3 points.

The Dresser Manufacturing stocks were firm and Pacific Coast Biscuit rose more than 2 points, duplicating its best level of the year in sympathy with strength of National Biscuit on the big board.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

Investment Suggestions IN THE CURRENT ISSUE OF BARRON'S

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

The first deep test for the Torrance field has just been undertaken by the Superior Oil Company in its No. 63, located at the extreme eastern edge of that field and at the lower end of the structure.

With approximately sixty holes to choose from, Superior selected No. 63 to deepen in search of a deeper producing formation and perhaps pick up a new extension of the field. The project was originally brought in for about sixty barrels of oil a day at a depth of 3797 feet. At the time it was killed to deepen it was producing four or five barrels of oil a day.

Superior's present production at Torrance is about 42,000 barrels of oil per month. The company's producers, like a majority of other operators' wells, have declined due greatly because of natural depletion of the shallow sand. For several months various reports have named other companies which have planned to test for deeper production, among them is the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company, which has considerable shallow production at Torrance.

To Spud Soon

Rapid progress has been made on the Standard Oil Company's James Irvine No. 1 wildcat, located on a 1000-acre lease, a portion of the Irvine ranch along the coast and in the upper reaches of Newport Bay. The project is scheduled to start drilling operations on the 27th inst. and now is rigging up.

Standard's Irvine No. 1 has a modern steel derrick which is reported to be larger than any in the Huntington Beach field. Its base is twenty-six feet square and the derrick is 136 feet high.

Four twenty-five to sixty-five-horsepower electric motors and two power-driven mud pumps have been installed, and two of these electric motors will drive the drilling outfit. The site selected by Standard for prospecting is about half a mile from the coast highway, between Newport Beach and Laguna Beach, and approximately one mile from the bridge which crosses the bay over the Coast Boulevard. A long dirt road was constructed to the 300-foot culvert built to carry the trucks from the mainland to the tideland and then to a bulwark which prevents tidewaters from washing over the location.

To Complete Five

The Texas Company's operations at Santa Springs have simmered down to five projects, four to be completed in the lower Clarke sand and one in the Meyer zone. Of fifty-nine producers in that field, Texaco has shut in more than one-half and is observing the state-wide curtailment program. No more locations will be made there by the company, according to an announcement.

Returns From Tour

J. A. Bermingham, vice-president and manager of the production department of the Texas Company, recently ended a two weeks' tour with other division managers throughout the midcontinent oil fields on an inspection trip and to study conditions.

Coring Ahead

The Barnsdall Oil Company has resumed operations in Borchard No. 1 at the extreme easterly end of the Huntington Beach field and plans to give the test another try for production soon. The company's project came in wet a week ago with bottom of the hole at 5600 feet, having tested about 100 feet of oil sand formation.

Preparing to Test

Having cored continuously in oil sand and brown shale, the Petroleum Securities Company's Hartmann No. 1 core on the north flank of the Ventura-avenue field is preparing to run four and three-quarter-inch casing for a production test with bottom at 8137 feet. Completion of this well would extend the field a short distance north.

Drilling Permits Increase

The increase last week in the number of drilling permits issued by the State Mining Bureau is based on increased activity in the Los Cerritos section of the Signal Hill field, the decision to prospect fee land at Kettleman Hills and new completions in Santa Barbara and Ventura counties.

Of the twenty-seven new permits seven were for Signal Hill, three southeast of Venice, three at Seacliff, two at Kettleman Hills, two at Richfield, three in Los Angeles county, two in the Arroyo Grande district, one each in Ventura, county, Santa Barbara county, and two in the fields of Kern county. Following are the permits:

George F. Getty's No. V-1, Santa Fe Springs Oil Company's Venice No. 1, Knickerbocker Petroleum Company's No. 1 southeast of Venice, Republic Petroleum Company's Lockhart No. 1 two miles south of the Potrero town lot area, Western American Petroleum Company's No. 1 and H. A. Hardeen's Puente No. 1 in Los Angeles county, Plymouth Oil Company's Plymouth No. 11, Davis Investment Company's No. 16, Rawco's Booth No. 1, C. W. Murphy's No. 2, Otis Hoyt's No. 11, Venage Petroleum Company's No. 1 and Standlee Oil Company's No. 1 at Signal Hill, Continental Oil Company's Ross-Schlachter No. 2 and Continental's Santa Fe No. 4 at Richfield, Rincon Oil Company's Shadde No. 1, Indian Petroleum Company's Boone No. 1 and Neil C. Needham's Needham No. 1 in Seacliff field, G. C. Thompson's No. 1 in Santa Paula field, Shell Oil Company's Everett No. 1 in Ventura county, J. D. Martin's Pricco No. C-1 and Martin's Pricco No. A-1 in Arroyo Grande district, General Petroleum Corporation's Erburu No. 5 in Santa Barbara county.

Kettleman Committee Meets

The Kettleman Hills Oil Conservation Committee, headed by William Reinhardt, held a brief session yesterday at the offices of the California Oil and Gas Association. But took up nothing of importance from an operatine standpoint. Adjournment was taken until next Tuesday.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boulevard—Washington at Vermont—"Temple Tower." Opens today.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"All Quiet on the Western Front." A mighty drama of war and its aftermath. This is one which should not be missed.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"Song o' My Heart." John McCormack and his Irish tenor cast their same spell around this gentle, sentimental tale.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"The Divorcee." A daring and well-defined exposition of the modern mode in which Norma Shearer gives one of the finest performances.

Filmarte, 1228 Vine — "Tartuffe, the Hypocrite." A revival of an Emil Jannings picture which was at its best some years ago.

Fox, Plaza at Norton—"Song of the West." Love in the outdoors is sung to music by John Boles and Vivienne Segal.

Grauman's Egyptian, 6708 Hollywood Boulevard—"The Light of Western Stars." Out where the West begins there is romance. Richard Arlen and Mary Brian make the most of it.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Born Reckless." Opens today.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Scotland Yard Murder Case." More sophisticated sleuthing by that master mind, Philo Vance.

Pantages, Broadway bet. 6th and 7th.—"Montana Moon."

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"Devil's Holiday." Opens today.

Rita, Wilshire at La Brea—"Free and Easy." Inside dope on Hollywood are exposed by Buster Keaton in his first talkie.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Rich People." Opens today.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Cuckoos." One laugh after another is had at the expense of those two clowns, Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth—"Hold Everything." A rough and tumble comedy of the ring, battled by Winnie Lightner and Joe E. Brown.

Uptown, Western at Testh—"Young Eagles."

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"The Second Floor Mystery." A novel gone astray upon the screen, presenting Grant Withers and Loretta Young.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Dumb-bells" in Ermine." Much of the general confusion springs romance, which is, after all, the excuse for most movies. With James Gleason and Robert Armstrong.

Westlake, 628 Alvarado—"The Benson Murder Case."

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at Eleventh—"The Criminal Code." A remarkable bit of somber artistry, beautifully portrayed by a cast headed by Arthur Byron.

Biltmore, Fifth and Grand—"Strictly Dishonorable." A New York success about Bohemian romance, which may or may not prove disappointing. Starring Margaret Perry.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland —Brothers." A sure-fire stage hit in which Bert Lytell returns to the theater he two brothers.

Mason, Broadway near First—"Arms and the Man." A company of British actors play for the fun of it one of their countrymen's wittiest comedies.

Mayan, Hill near Eleventh—Maurice Chevalier. Comedy and song in English and French by Maurice Chevalier, music and nonsense by Ben Bernie provide delightful entertainment.

Music Box, 6126 Hollywood Blvd.—"Goin' Home." A fine stirring drama of a Negro in a white man's world and featuring Robert Griffin.

Philharmonic, 5th and Olive—Mei Lan-Fang, China's greatest actor in delicate flights of fancy.

President, Broadway at Eighth—"Elizabeth Sleeps Out." A comedy of olden-time maidenhood and light indiscretion. With Marion Lord.

Vine Street, 1615 Vine—"The Great John Ganton." George Fawcett makes a welcome return to the stage, but in a somewhat time-worn dissension between capital and labor.

VARIETIES

Follies, 4th and Main—Burlesque.

PHYSICIST AIRS BELIEF IN CREATOR

Compton, Nobel Award Winner, Voices Views in Talk to Business Men

CHICAGO, May 21. (Exclusive)—Belief in a divine intelligent creator was expressed by Dr. Arthur Holly Compton, Nobel prize winner and internationally known physicist of the University of Chicago, in an address before 300 business men at Oak Park this afternoon. The conclusions of Dr. Compton's study of the eternal question, "Is there a God?" were given by him as follows:

"Evidence points to the existence of a Beginner, a Creator of the universe.

"A physicist's studies and experiments lead him to believe this Creator to be an intelligent creator.

"From a biological point of view the studies cause one to conclude there is an intelligence back of all earthly things, leading to a definite end or conclusion.

"The intelligent God has an interest in and relation to man.

"If there be an intelligent God, it is reasonable to assume that He would be interested in creating a being intelligent like Himself."

BAY CITIAN FOUND DEAD

SANTA CRUZ, May 21. (AP)—Charles Robert McClerie, 43 years of age, of San Francisco, was found dead in his summer cabin at Lompico, seven miles from here, today, the victim of a shotgun wound authorities believe was self-inflicted. He apparently had been dead about three days. A stepmother, Mrs. Ida McClerie, lives in Burlingame.

WATER BOND SALE WILL BE SPEEDED

Van Norman Soon to Push Work Authorized to Give City Greater Supply

With the approval of the $38,800,000 water bonds by a landslide vote, the question of where the first work is to be started and the amount of the first block of the bonds to be offered for sale is to be the subject of a conference between Chief Engineer Van Norman and the Board of Water and Power Commissioners tomorrow.

H. A. VAN NORMAN.

As to the procedure, it was explained that the board determines the amount of money needed for the immediate program and makes the request to the City Council that bonds to cover the amount be sold. The Council authorizes City Clerk Domingues to advertise for bids for the bonds, and upon receipt of bids the sale is awarded. The bonds are then printed and signed by the necessary officials. The procedure can be gone through with easily in about sixty days.

Van Norman said that his department is ready to begin work immediately on certain phases of the construction program. "We are ready to push forward without interruption the work called for in the water program," he declared. "We will continue without stopping until this water supply project is an accomplished fact."

Purchase of ranch lands in the Owens Valley already optioned, about 10,000 acres, is expected to be speeded up. The purchase of the town properties will require the clearing up of certain legal matters.

The vote on the bonds will be canvassed by the City Council Monday, whereupon the official result will be declared. After the legal formalities have been complied with the bonds can be advertised when desired.

City Clerk Dominguez, who handled the machinery of the election, yesterday stated the semiofficial result of the balloting in the 1648 precincts to be 189,927 for the bonds and 22,082 against them. This is a vote of better than 52 per cent of the registration, a record vote at a special election.

COMMITTEE GRATEFUL FOR AID ON WATER BONDS

The Citizens' Water Committee, meeting yesterday noon at the Hotel Hayward, expressed appreciation to groups and individuals who participated in the successful completion of the water bond campaign.

Joseph Scott, president of the Citizens' Committee, stated that for the first time in many years the people of various political, religious and economic faiths presented a united front in time of emergency in the life of the city.

"The confidence of the people in the present as well as the future of our city," Mr. Scott said, "not only is bound to have beneficial effects at home, but will result in a favorable reaction of the rest of the country which will reflect itself in increased prosperity for Los Angeles."

Thirteen Airmen to Take License Test Tomorrow

While students of local high schools and universities are making graduation plans, thirteen future airmen expect to receive their "diplomas" in the form of United States Department of Commerce pilot licenses at Standard Air Schools, South Western avenue, tomorrow afternoon.

They will take their final examinations—written and flying-ability demonstrations—all in the same afternoon. Landings, stalls, spins and turns will have to be executed to meet the strict demands of the Federal examiners.

C. W. Schellbach is the single graduate who expects to be named a transport pilot. Limited commercial tests will be taken by R. E. Daniels, W. H. Phillips, R. E. House, J. B. Galvin, S. F. Meyer and W. H. Holladay. Private licenses are expected to be granted to W. J. Tanahill, K. T. Johnstone, O. F. Clark, A. L. England, Dr. J. H. Gahagan and Dr. C. K. Emery.

INCE ESTATE ACCOUNTING COMPLETED

Final Report Presented by Two Executors to Court; Total Now $633,960

Final accounting of the estate of Thomas H. Ince, motion-picture director, was filed in Probate Court yesterday by the two executors, Elen Priscilla Ince, the widow, and Ingall Carpenter.

It shows that the total value of the estate was $930,732.54, and that it has increased $57,790.20 since the last accounting. There are $296,472.03 in expenses listed, leaving a total for distribution of $633,960.51. This, according to a statement by Attorney Charles W. Fourl, for the estate, is community property, half of which goes to the widow, notwithstanding provisions in the will against her remarriage.

Of the expenses credited against the estate, there is $150,000 for an allowance to the widow and three sons, William I., 21 years of age; Thomas H., 18, and Richard, 14. A fee of $40,096.02 is paid to the executors, $20,096.02 to Attorney Fourl, and $65,372.97 for Federal income taxes.

The executors were appointed in January, 1925.

Mrs. Ince was married to Holmes Herbert, an actor, the 3rd inst.

Harold Lloyd Able to be Up

Harold Lloyd, film comedian, passed the crisis of his illness yesterday when he was permitted to get up from his bed for the first time since Saturday to help his daughter Gloria celebrate her sixth birthday anniversary.

The comedian was stricken a week ago today with an attack of what appeared to be appendicitis, when all work on his picture was suspended and a trip with his company to Honolulu to take scenes was canceled. He now plans to make the trip about June 6.

HAWAII CALLS TO TRADERS

Islands Delegation at Foreign Commerce Sessions Working Hard for 1932 Convention

Hawaii, with the largest and most colorful delegation attending the Foreign Trade Convention, in session this week at the Biltmore, is here with the avowed purpose of capturing the 1932 conference for Honolulu. Headed by Gov. Judd of the islands, the delegation is working hard to convince the convention that the islands is the logical place to gather two years from now.

Everywhere in the halls and corridors of the hotel yesterday the Hawaiians were in evidence. Their gay orange and red leis gave a brilliant note of tropical color to the affair. At noon a luncheon was given them by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

DIRIGIBLE LINE EXPECTED

Gov. Judd believes that Los Angeles and Honolulu will be drawn close within two or three years as he thinks a dirigible line will be running by that time. He expressed himself as amazed at the growth of Los Angeles which has changed every time he has visited here, he said.

Another leader seeking the 1932 convention for Hawaii is former Gov. Farrington, publisher of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin.

"Hawaii and Honolulu are asking for the 1932 conference," he said, "and we have the support of the Pacific Coast back of us. Honolulu is the nearest center in the United States to Japan, China, Indo-China, the Philippines, Java and the Antipodes. We have shown that we can get key industrial men to come that far in this direction. The speed of the new steamers has cut the time to seven and one-half days from New York. New steamers are now building and will be in operation in time for the conference and we will have the last word in ocean travel then. The Empress Line boats now stop at the islands on their way from Vancouver.

PART OF UNITED STATES

"The islands are part of the United States where practical friendship of the American people for the peoples of the Orient has been demonstrated. It is a wonderful ground for the one who is looking to promote American interest in the Orient.

"Another reason for the holding of the conference in Honolulu would be the possibility of allowing heads of firms to meet their representatives in the Orient on a half-way ground for trade conferences of a private nature.

"Of course we have climate and recreation to which we give a great deal of attention. We have had

TWO CITIES SEEK NEXT CONCLAVE

Pittsburgh Has Edge Over New York in Contest for Foreign Trade Session

Two contenders looming for the national foreign trade convention in 1931 are Pittsburgh and New York with an indicated trend in favor of the Pennsylvania city.

That Honolulu will be chosen for the 1932 convention is the desire of that city's delegation and it has been receiving much encouragement in this regard from Los Angeles delegates.

It is generally understood that President Farrell will continue to head the national foreign trade council.

This will be the busiest day of the convention. Ralph J. Chandler, vice-president and general manager of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, will be chairman of the general session this morning. The inter-American highway, shipbuilding and American exports to Europe will be discussed. Of special interest will be an address by Will H. Hays on the importance of promoting international salesmanship via film presentations.

The American Manufacturers' Export Association meeting will be featured with an address by Edward N. Hurley, the organization's president. Group sessions will consider foreign trade and export advertising. A trade promotion dinner tonight will afford opportunity to trade experts to consult with and advise foreign traders on subjects in which they are particularly interested. A special meeting of the national foreign trade council will be held tonight.

LECTURE ANNOUNCED

"What Are You Fitted For" will be the subject of the lecture to be given tomorrow evening at the Downtown Sentous Evening High School, 1205 West Pico street.

USURY CASE POINT SCORED

Prosecution in Julian Action Finally Gets Piece of Documentary Evidence Into Records

After seven days of continued effort, the prosecution in the Julian usury cases yesterday got its first piece of documentary evidence into the records of Superior Judge Aggeler's court and thereby laid a foundation which may serve as a basis for the introduction of all of the State's evidence.

The document allowed in evidence yesterday is a lengthy letter written in 1927 to the then District Attorney Asa Keyes. The missive was declared to have been prepared by Attorney John Cooper and to have been signed and authorized by Abe Prell, once a defendant in the usury cases, and to have contained a detailed account of Prell's connection with the Julian stock pool on which the usury charges are based.

When the letter was introduced in Judge Aggeler's court yesterday Cooper, whose right to testify has been hotly contested for two days, the defense attorneys claiming that he would reveal communications between attorney and client, was on the stand and the missive to Keyes was produced by the prosecution with the contention that by its authorization Prell had waived claim to privilege.

The defense objected vigorously, but Judge Aggeler finally ruled with the prosecution and, with this foundation laid, Cooper was allowed to testify to things he had learned about the stock pool while investigating for Prell.

Cooper testified that, at Prell's instigation, he went to the office of Motley Flint, banker, in September, 1926, and that while there Flint explained the stock pool and gave him a copy of the pool agreements to read. Asked if certain signatures he saw on the original pool agreement are the same as those appearing on purported photographic copies the State hopes to get into the evidence in Judge Aggeler's court, Cooper said that they are.

Cooper said Flint told him that various reputable business men were entering the stock pool, the purpose of which was to stabilize Julian

PAIR WHOSE YEARS TOTAL 184 TAKE PLANE RIDES

Capt. Henry Ward, 95 years of age, and Capt. S. W. Bell, 89, arrived here yesterday over the T.A.T.-Maddux Air Lines from San Diego and departed soon after over the same transportation system for eastern points.

CAPT. HENRY WARD.

CAPT. J. W. BELL.

Capt. Ward says records show him to be the first white child born in Chicago. This was in 1835. He is en route to Kansas City, and after a visit will proceed to his birthplace.

Capt. Bell also is going to his birthplace, Newcastle, Pa., where he will attend the reunion of the Grand Army. This is to be the last assembly of the Civil War veterans, according to plans made several months ago.

In going to the first G.A.R. reunion he ever attended, Capt. Bell made part of the trip in an ox-cart, and he seemed happy to make part of the last reunion trip in an airplane. Both men are hale and hearty despite their advanced years.

Dr. Maude Ramer of San Diego, physician to the two veterans, advised them to make the air trip, despite advice from friends "to stay on the ground for a few more years," Capt. Bell declared.

FOREIGN TRADE CONCLAVE PICKS PROSPERITY PATH

Sound business economics and an understanding of the peoples of other lands are at the foundation of America's favorable foreign-trade outlook. This keynote sentiment was emphasized at the first day's meeting in the Biltmore Ballroom, of the National Foreign Trade Convention which yesterday began its three days' deliberations here. Thirty-nine States and nineteen foreign countries are represented at the convention by business leaders and governmental spokesmen. There are 2035 registrations.

The foreign trade outlook, the meaning and intent of the international bank and reparations settlement and the importance of Pacific relations were detailed at the first general session. The part played by credits and credit information in foreign trade and the importance of Latin-American trade occupied the attention of group sessions during the afternoon. Greetings from distinguished foreign representatives featured the convention dinner in the Biltmore last night.

PRESIDENT'S GREETING

Following the convening of the general session by Chairman James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, he read the following greeting from President Hoover:

"Please extend my cordial greetings of the national foreign trade convention. It is especially appropriate at this particular juncture that representatives of the various factors of foreign trade from all parts of the United States should meet to examine the world-trade situation and to study its special current problems. The work of the foreign trade conventions is a fine example of co-operative leadership in business. Such meetings as yours benefit the whole enterprise of international commerce. They improve understanding of other markets and peoples by American producers and traders and aid in developing merchandising skill and in establishing American practice on the sound basis of service to an understanding of the peoples of other lands."

LOS ANGELES LAUDED

In his introductory remarks, Chairman Farrell said it is especially appropriate for the foreign trade convention to meet in this foreign trade city which he designated as the fourth in population in the United States and among the foremost cities in overseas commerce. There are to be no formal resolutions for the consideration of the convention, he announced.

A general convention committee will canvass the addresses and conferences incident to the convention and will present a formulated opinion as the convention's consensus regarding ways and means to further the nation's business relationships with other lands. Los Angeles members of this committee are E. W. Clark, R. J. Cope, Shannon Crandall, J. C. Darby, Will Forker, G. C. Gearhart, C. C. C. Hine, William Lacy, Eugene A. Mills, Clarence Matson, Eugene Overton, Samuel B. Robertson, Emerson Speak, Fred Sumption, Frank Van Camp and F. O. Wallschlaeger.

FAVORABLE OUTLOOK

In his address on "The World Trade Outlook," which was one of the features of the first general session, Chairman Farrell forecast a favorable outlook for American overseas trade. Incidentally he called attention to California's importance in the world of trade. Chairman Farrell's address in its entirety is presented in another column of The Times today.

J. A. H. Kerr, chairman of the convention's local executive committee, was presented by Mr. Farrell as the session chairman, and he in turn introduced Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan, Mayor Porter and John C. Austin, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who officially welcomed the delegates to the State and city.

An address on "The International Bank and the Reparations Settlement" by George P. Auld of Haskins & Sells, New York, and formerly accountant-general of the Reparations Commission, and a talk on "Pacific Relations" by J. J. Donovan, vice-president Bloedel-Donovan Lumber Mills, Bellingham, Wash., also were highlights of the first general session.

REPARATIONS EFFECTS

Mr. Auld described the formation of the Bank for International Settlements under the plan devised by the Young committee.

"The bank," he said, "can operate only by common consent, and this

FARRELL TAKES BRIGHTER VIEW

Foreign Trade Convention Hears His Address

Reasons Traced for Slump in World Business

Future Said to Hold Hope of New Activity

An optimistic view of American foreign trade was expressed by James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation and chairman of the National Foreign Trade Council, in his keynote speech on "The World Trade Outlook" at the first general session of the National Foreign Trade Convention at the Biltmore yesterday morning. The address of Mr. Farrell, who came to Los Angeles specifically for the convention now in progress, follows:

The international commerce of the world is passing through a period which finds no close parallel in recent years. Measured by the usual standard of the dollar values of exports and imports, its present rate of activity is shown to be considerably slower than that of only a few months ago. The customary examination of totals for the calendar year does not correctly reveal the present situation. The trade of the first eight or nine months of 1929 proceeded at an unusual pace so that despite the slackening that occurred toward the close of the year the aggregate for the full twelve months constituted a new record, both for the United States and for the world. Our exports for 1929 approximated $5,250,000,000. They were the greatest in value since 1920, which was a year marked by special conditions that unfitted it for use as a standard of comparison. In volume, our exports for last year were the greatest ever recorded, a fact which is emphasized by consideration of the lower commodity prices which obtained generally throughout the year.

GAIN IN IMPORTS

There was a gain in imports during 1929 of 7½ per cent in value and probably of a higher percentage in volume due to the fact that prices were lower on several of the raw materials and crude foodstuffs,

GATHERING COSMOPOLITAN

Delegates From Twenty Foreign Countries Lend Color to National Trade Convention

Delegates from twenty countries abroad are lending color to the sessions of the National Foreign Trade Convention which opened here at the Biltmore yesterday.

Government officials, foreign trade representatives of American concerns abroad and American representatives of foreign concerns give the delegates direct contact with the trade situations in countries all over the world, in addition to the thirty States of the Union represented among the 2000 delegates from all important industries and sections of the United States.

From the Near West E. W. Frazar, senior partner of Frazar & Co., an American concern with ninety years of foreign trade behind it, is here from Yokohama.

One of the interesting features of the convention dinner last night was a colorful Japanese contribution. This was the Movietone shown with personal addresses by Baron Takuma Dan, head of the Mitsui industries, and Kiyucho Hayasaki, governor of the Bank of Japan, who were introduced by William E. Castle, American Ambassador at Tokio.

Among the prominent representatives from China are Dr. E. J. Anderson, manager and principal of the American-Shanghai School, and J. C. Huston, United States Consul-General in Shanghai. The Chinese official service is represented by Henry K. Chang, Chinese Consul-General in San Francisco, who will make an address on "China's Trade With the United States."

An unusual delegation is here from far-away South Africa, headed by Eric H. Louw, Minister Plenipotentiary of the Union of South Africa to the United States, from Washington. Dr. P. R. Botha, commercial secretary of the South African Legation in New York, also represents the South African government.

Two well-known business men concerned in South African trade are George Birk, just arrived in this country from Johannesburg, where

by Harry Carr

JUDGING from the proceedings of the Federation of Women's Clubs in session at Oakland, babies—and a lot of 'em—are to be in high favor from now on among our co-ed friends.

It's all right if it doesn't lead the movie news reels to deluge us with an epidemic of baby-show pictures. What I like to see in news reels is pictures of troops; but they always find out I am coming and hurry in with a million feet of naked babies showing their fat stomachs.

And when I manage to fool them and get in on a picture of soldiers they always yank them off just as they get interesting. It's a hard life.

FIGHT 'EM, JOHN

I haven't found out why the Standard Oil Company is mad at the Santa Fe Springs independents, but as it is apparently leading to another gasoline war, it is all right with me. Sic 'em, John D.!

NAVAL LIMITATION

It is discouraging to know that tense and furious opposition to the naval limitation treaty has developed in the British Parliament.

Being the only country which could engage in a navy-building war and survive financially, it would seem that the United States is entitled to some credit for idealism. Surveying all the proceedings from one end to the other, it is hard to discover any motive in any of the European countries other than a desire to trick the world into giving each one a bigger navy than the others.

ENGLAND'S PROBLEM

The Gandhi rebels in India are not applying much lard to the wounds. Never was Great Britain less inclined to accept a navy cut than now in the face of these disturbances.

England's military problem is an extraordinary and peculiar one. Her strength depends, not upon the defense of her shores, but on the number of men she can land on the shores of any of her possessions.

To accomplish this military feat it is absolutely necessary for her to control at least that part of the seven seas lying between England and India.

SEVEN SEAS

No expression is more general in use than this one—"the seven seas." If you will count them you will find that there are not seven. The expression comes from Kipling.

SNOB STUFF

Returning from a concert tour, Lawrence Tibbett makes the interesting declaration that he finds interest in music to be stimulated all over the country as a direct result of talking films.

It is impossible to overestimate the influence of fine music in the talkies. If motion pictures have lived only to that end they will not have lived in vain. The talkies bring grand-opera voices into the daily lives of the five-and-ten-cent public. Until now grand opera has been largely snob stuff.

CHINESE CONSUL TO SPEAK

Henry K. Chang, Chinese Consul-General for California, will be the guest of honor at a dinner given by the China Club tomorrow evening at the Masonic Club, 633 South Grand avenue. He will make an address on "Present Conditions in China." It has been only a few months since the Consul-General arrived in San Francisco from China and this will be his first official visit to Los Angeles.

Sea Gamblers Battle With Guns for Control of Floating Palace of Chance off Seal Be

SHIP CAPTURED BY ARMED MEN

Monfalcon Seized in Surprise Raid of Quintet

Water Taxi 'Commandeered' by Boarding Party

Attorney Says He Will File Piracy Complaint

Warfare on the high seas between asserted rival gamblers operating the ships Monfalcon and the Johanna Smith, off Seal Beach, Tuesday night, in which the Monfalcon was "captured" by one faction, is to come under inquiry by the Federal and State courts today. The investigation followed reports of a gun battle between five asserted men who had commandeered a "water taxi," and the crew of the notorious gambling ship.

James (Doc) Daugherty is asserted to have led the "water taxi" crew, according to Attorney George D. Blair, representing owners of the Monfalcon, who reported the "piratical raid" to the District-Attorney's office. According to Attorney Blair a dispute arose several weeks ago over the ownership of the Monfalcon.

CLASH ON PATRONAGE

Men, who claimed an interest in the Johanna Smith, clashed with others who had asserted claims on the profits of the Monfalcon. The rivalry that arose as a consequence of the dispute as to the patronage of the "water taxi" customers became acute and the asserted "cappers" were reported to have armed themselves.

Police of Long Beach, Seal Beach and Huntington Beach had been warned of impending trouble, but they were powerless to halt persons from boarding the "water taxis" which conveyed customers to the two gambling ships. Tuesday night five men boarded a "water taxi" belonging to the owners of the Johanna Smith.

When the small craft was about five miles from the Seal Beach pier, one of the passengers pressed a pistol against the pilot's head and ordered him to steer toward the Monfalcon. Arriving at the side of the gambling ship the small boat was recognized by the "lookout" of the Monfalcon, who immediately gave an alarm. A half-dozen members of the crew of the Monfalcon responded as the five men climbed aboard.

A hand-to-hand battle followed and some one fired two shots. Immediately the crew of the Monfalcon capitulated, and out of the melee emerged Daugherty. He took command, according to the complaint of Attorney Blair. Customers of the gaming tables, who had rushed to the top deck at the firing of the shots, were assured that "no harm would befall them" and they returned to the dice tables and roulette wheels.

COMPLAINT EXPECTED

According to Attorney Blair, Daugherty and his "crew" took possession of all the receipts of the ship and continued operation of every department of the boat. Yesterday morning a demand was made on Daugherty to relinquish possession of the ship and when he refused Attorney Blair prepared a complaint which he asserted he will file before the District Attorney today.

He asserted his complaint, filed on behalf of Nick Oswald, one of the reputed owners of the ship, will charge Daugherty with "piracy on the high seas." In the meantime, Blair asserted, the "business of the ship continues."

DANCER'S TRIAL DATE SET

Trial of Josephine Pelletier Graham, 26-year-old taxi dancer, on charges of obtaining $90 from Otto Hundt, 1510 West Sixty-third street, on a promise to marry him, will be held before Municipal Judge MacCoy on the 27th inst. Judge MacCoy set the date yesterday when the woman entered a plea of not guilty.

U.C.L.A. Women Students in Spring Fashion Revue

Presenting all the newer models in sports and campus clothes the Associated Women Students at the University of California at Los Angeles presented their annual spring fashion show yesterday.

Following the installation of newly elected officers fifteen university women displayed costumes. Among the models shown were clever Shantung jacket suits, sun-tan modes, printed crepes and chiffons for afternoon wear, and daintily feminine evening gowns. In addition, sports costumes for tennis, riding, golf and swimming were shown.

The girl models were chosen because they were best suited to portray sport and campus types of clothes.

Preceding the show Lucy Guild was installed as president by the outgoing president, Dorothy Parker; Bettie Edmundson as vice-president by Lucy Guild; Elsie Frieberg as secretary by Helen Sinsabaugh, and Virginia Lambrecht as treasurer by Marjory Freeborn.

A short talk on "What to Wear" was given by Miss Louise Sooy of the art department.

STAFFORD FREED FOR OPERATION

Convicted Grain Merchant Posts $25,000 Bond When Court Orders Release

C. G. Stafford, El Monte grain merchant, convicted on a charge of having attacked his secretary, Miss Rae Schade, was granted his release from the County Jail yesterday by Superior Judge Wilson on bail of $25,000.

The release of Stafford came after three physicians had told the court that the convicted man is suffering from kidney ailment and that an operation is necessary immediately to save his life. Judge Wilson made the freedom of Stafford conditional on his undergoing the operation within the next five days.

The physicians testifying were Dr. Benjamin Blank, jail physician, and Dr. G. E. Belt, personal physician of Stafford, and Dr. Dozier H. Gibbs. All agreed that the physical condition of the convicted man, who has been held in jail since last summer, is such that the operation is necessary.

Bond, assured by property holdings, was posted and Stafford released. His appeal is pending.

OLD CITY HALL USE URGED

On recommendation of the Finance Committee, the City Council yesterday suggested that the Health Commission utilize vacant space in the old Watts City Hall, rather than to lease property at 10321 Compton avenue.

OIL-DRILLING POLL SOUGHT

Santa Monica Controversy Results in Circulation of Petitions for Referendum Vote

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, May 21.—Demanding that the ordinance which permits drilling for oil in a zone embracing approximately a third of this city's area be submitted to a vote of the people, referendum petitions addressed to the City Council were in circulation here today. Morton H. Anderson, chairman of a special committee appointed by the Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce, is in charge of a concerted fight against a threatened invasion of Santa Monica by the oil industry.

Figures obtained at the office of Frank A. Helton, commissioner of finance and city clerk, show that between 3000 and 4000 voters, who have registered since last January, must sign the petition to make the referendum mandatory. The ordinance which threw the city open to drilling was adopted last month after stormy public hearings before the Planning Commission and City Council. The former recommended the ordinance, which was unanimously adopted by the latter body.

LEAGUE ORGANIZED

An organization known as the United Santa Monica-Ocean Park League, favoring the drilling, has opened headquarters in the Elks' Building, Ocean Park. J. B. O'Neal is the chairman and Anthony Jurich the attorney.

"The people of Ocean Park believe that oil exists in their territory," according to a statement from the league. "None of us favors drilling in Santa Monica proper or the amusement zone. Our opponents threaten to cause the question to be submitted to a referendum vote, notwithstanding the fact that the Planning Commission and the City Council, who have heard all the facts and investigated the matter, have approved the drilling for oil in Ocean Park. An election on the question will serve only one purpose to cause bitter feeling. Let Ocean Park develop its natural resources and we will be a happier, more prosperous and progressive city."

NAMES SET FORTH

The league's statement, prefacing a plea to voters not to sign the referendum, published a list of names of members of the Chamber of Commerce and the Ocean Park Business Men's Association who assertedly are in favor of drilling. Denial is made that an adverse report by the chamber's committee represents the real attitude of the entire chamber membership. Denial also is made of a report by the chamber's investigating committee that oil in any town will do more harm than good. Huntington Beach is cited as an instance of "oil prosperity," and declared to be the richest city per capita in the State.

Both sides have organized to work in every precinct between now and the election, which probably will be held during the regular primary balloting this fall. Chamber heads and many prominent business men and property owners have declared that oil drilling in any part of the city will ruin Santa Monica's standing as a residential community.

Today's predictions were made that the petitions will receive the required signatures without difficulty, and that the referendum vote will defeat the oil invasion overwhelmingly. These statements, however, are contradicted by many of the proponents.

HAWAII SEEKS 1932 MEETING

many previous conferences there amidst these delightful surroundings and we know that it is possible to get representative leaders of the entire Pacific area to attend a gathering of this kind. We are not asking the convention to come to the islands for amusement but for business and to come in on the new Pacific era which has just dawned."

CONTACTS STRESSED

At the noon luncheon expressions from representative spokesmen stressed the close contacts that bind these two localities together in mutual friendship and commercial relationships.

Gov. Judd, Farrington, and Mason Young, president of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce, described Hawaiian conditions, told of Honolulu's impressive growth and lauded Los Angeles. Appreciation was expressed of the significant part taken by the Los Angeles Steamship Company in the development of friendship and business between Southern California and Hawaii.

Harry Chandler extended a welcome to the visitors. Speaking of the development of the Los Angeles Harbor, Mr. Chandler pointed out that in days when cave dwelling was in vogue, the utilization of natural harbors was the natural situation, but that as civilization brought the construction of dwellings, built harbors likewise manifested their superiority. Los Angeles Harbor is a foremost example of constructed harbor.

Will Farrell addressed the meeting in the native Hawaiian language.

President Austin of the local chamber presided and presented the following Hawaiian and Los Angeles citizens:

J. P. Winne, Republican National Committeeman for Hawaii; George Armitage, of the tourist bureau of Hawaii; Worth Aiken, manager of the Hawaiian Airways; Wallace M. Alexander, chairman of the board of Alexander & Baldwin, and vice-president of the Matson Navigation Company; W. P. Roth, president of the Matson Navigation Company; William Thompson, Ralph Woolley, vice-president of the Honolulu chamber; Gen. M. H. Sherman, president of the Los Angeles Steamship Company; Ralph J. Chandler, vice-president and general manager of the Los Angeles Steamship Company; J. A. H. Kerr and C. C. Haine, vice-presidents of the local Chamber of Commerce; Eugene Overton, chairman of the harbor and foreign commerce committee; J. C. Darby, chairman, committee on Hawaiian trade; Robert Linton, chairman, manufacturing and industries committee.

DEMURRER TO PASTOR'S SUIT DENIED

Court Upholds Plaint of Dyer in Action Asking $110,000 Damages

Rev. Frank Dyer, former pastor of the fashionable Wilshire Boulevard Congregational Church, won a round in his fight against the Los Angeles Association of Congregational Churches and Ministers yesterday, when Superior Judge Gould denied the church organization's demurrer to his complaint in the suit wherein he asks $110,000 damages. The defendants were given ten days to answer.

Dr. Dyer left the pulpit of the Wilshire Boulevard Congregational church after a split in his congregation. He asserts that during the trouble the Los Angeles Association of Congregational Churches withdrew its fellowship from him on June 7, 1928. He contends that he was never given a trial as provided by the rules of the body.

The pastor asserts that because of the attitude of the defendant association he has lost not less than $100,000 in salary and has lost the benefits of an annuity fund which he values at $10,000.

In their demurrer to the suit, attorneys for the church body assert that Dr. Dyer was notified of the withdrawal of fellowship at the time, but he failed to answer it. Also that the civil courts have no jurisdiction in a case like Dr. Dyer's.

Judge and Four Attorneys Seek Posts on Bench

One municipal judge and four attorneys yesterday filed nominating petitions for Superior Court posts with County Registrar of Voters Kerr.

Municipal Judge Turney and Thomas R. Mould, attorney of 1778 West Fifth street, are candidates for the post now held by Superior Judge Hardy. Judge Turney, while presiding judge of the Municipal Court last year, established the night court and campaigned against "fixing" of cases in the criminal courts. With Municipal Judge Willis, who previously filed his petition, there are four candidates for Judge Hardy's post, including the incumbent.

Walter B. Thompson, attorney, of 530 South Manhattan Place, filed his nominating petition for the post occupied by Superior Judge Bishop; L. R. Wharton, attorney, of 1262 Ridgeley Drive, filed against Judge Guerin and Attorney Charles Reiche, 943 Embury street, filed against Judge Shaw.

Author-Artist to Talk to Children

A treat for child booklovers is announced for 11 a.m. Saturday in the lounge of Bullock's-Wilshire where J. Paget Fredericks, author-illustrator of "Green Pipes" and "Miss Pert's Christmas Tree," will entertain his young readers with amusing stories and pictures. The writer and illustrator is 24 years of age, a San Franciscan whose art has won recognition in America and Europe. His paintings have been exhibited in the Los Angeles Museum, Chicago Art Institute, New York Public Library and Grand Central Art Galleries, also of New York.

Among the notables who have praised his art are Mme. Pavlowa, Elinor Wylie, La Loie Fuller, Samuel J. Hume and La Marchesa Casti.

Legion Names Rodeo Judges

Judges who will preside at the first annual Los Angeles rodeo, which will start tomorrow afternoon at the American Legion Speedway under auspices of Post No. 127, were appointed yesterday. They are Lloyd Saunders of Sonora, Charles Mulhall of Oklahoma and Kenneth Rios of San Fernando.

The shipments of Brahma steers and "outlaw" horses furnished by "Cuff" Burrell of Salinas have arrived and every arrangement has been made at the speedway in construction of stables, chutes for the broncbos and runways where the contests will be held.

LONG MARRIED LIFE CLOSED BY DIVORCE

After thirty-eight years of married life, Mrs. May O'Neill was granted a divorce yesterday from John O'Neill on the grounds of cruelty and nonsupport. The wife was assisted in the winning of her decree, signed by Superior Judge Anderson, by her daughter, Mrs. Helen Anna Price. The wife asserted that for the last ten years her husband failed to support her and she had to work in a laundry. The daughter said her father was continually humiliating her mother before other people.

MYSTERY CASE WITNESS GONE

Baumgarteker "Informant" Suddenly Vanishes

Brother Fears Missing Man "Taken for Ride"

Stock Salesman Last Seen in Town 6th Inst.

Presenting elements of mystery similar to those in the unsolved disappearance of Frank Baumgarteker, wealthy local wine merchant, search for Tony Buccola, 40 years of age, stock salesman, missing since the 6th inst., was started yesterday by Captain of Detectives Allen of the police missing persons bureau.

Coincidentally both cases have become involved in the same investigation. Buccola, according to rumor, at one time offered information concerning Baumgarteker's whereabouts. He is said to have made a rendesvous with another person being questioned in regard to the disappearance of the wine merchant but fled when he observed detectives waiting at the appointed meeting place.

SEEN LAST 6TH INST.

Chief of Detectives Taylor yesterday denied that he had ever heard of Buccola's connection with the Baumgarteker case. Captains of Detectives Allen and Condaffer also denied the report.

Buccola, according to the report made by his brother, George Buccola, of Ontario, was last seen by a man named Smith at Seventh and Spring streets at 1 p.m. on the 6th inst.

On the 13th inst., his wrecked automobile was found by Venice police officers. Buccola, his brother said, sold stock in the National Self-Feeding Soldering Iron Company, which later failed. The brother said he fears Buccola has been taken for a ride.

HOME VISITED

Buccola's wife, daughter Mary and son live at 1550 Alvaredo street. The son works at a local department store. The daughter is employed at the stock exchange.

Detective Lieutenants Hickey and Corsini late yesterday visited the Buccola home but members of the family were absent. Carl Rodarty, 8 years of age, who lives near by, told the detectives that he saw Buccola around his home Tuesday.

The detectives will make a visit to the home to interview the wife.

STATE SCORES IN USURY CASE

stock on the market, which would result in a benefit to small stock investor as well as the pool operators.

PROPOSITION DESCRIBED

Flint's proposition was, Cooper said, that the pool investors would be guaranteed against loss and that when the Julian market steadied and the stock advanced in value the pool stock was to be slowly fed into the market at a profit.

However, when the forty-day pool agreement ended, Cooper recited, Flint told him that, despite the fact that the price of the stock had risen from $15.50 a share to $22 a share, that to dump the pool stock on the market again would reduce the price and advocated a thirty-day extension for which a $3 a share profit was guaranteed.

All of Cooper's testimony was objected to by Defense Attorneys Geisler, Le Compte Davis and others. It finally was admitted by the court to apply to the defendant Flint only and subject to a motion to strike from the records if the prosecution fails to establish the charge of conspiracy to commit usury asserted in the indictment under which sixteen men are on trial.

Quiz Continued in Romola Sales

Inquiry by the District Attorney's office into the sale of land in Riverside county by Romola, Inc., will be continued today, it was announced last night by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Moses.

Some twenty-five of the protesting property holders, who assert in a lengthy petition that certain promises of the land-selling concern have not been carried out and that they are suffering great losses, were questioned at length yesterday by Moses. They added information to that already placed before the District Attorney.

CLUB PRESENTS "KEMPY"

As the first play to be produced in the new Masonic clubhouse at the University of California at Los Angeles, the comedy "Kempy" is announced for tomorrow evening with several former students in the cast. C. H. Dodds, president of the club, announced that extra lighting and stage effects have been added for this premiere.

NOT LIKE LOS ANGELES
Berlin gives a 24.85-miles street-car ride for 4.8 cents. The customs of two great cities can be so different.

CONTINUING THE WAR
Eighty-seven-year-old Confederate veteran in Alabama weds girl of 17. That confirms the report that some of those old southern soldiers never did surrender.

CAPITAL CASUALTIES
Washington has more doctors than any other city in the country. Let's see: Wounded vanities, political heart-breaks, overwrought voices, split eardrums, lame ducks. Oh, well, they're needed.

SOME WILL DOUBT IT
Valentino executor claims the famous funeral cortege through the United States, when millions paid homage to the memory of the fallen movie star, was just a publicity stunt. If that is so, he should be able to name his own figure as a press agent.

REVERSE ENGLISH
There used to be at least a pretense of the man seeking the woman. Now, in England, they are to hold classes to teach women how to get their men. If the lessons will include ways and means to hold them, the school should succeed.

THE HIGHER, THE FEWER
Twenty men made successful parachute jumps from one plane. The feat was touted as a victory for the safety of passengers. The plane was at a high altitude. Which brings the thought that the longer the drop the safer the fall. If you must fly, fly high.

ROUGH ROADS
It costs 2.37 cents more a mile to drive over rough roads than over good pavements. When a motorist travels 10,000 miles a year over rough roads, it costs him just $237 more than if he were going over paved highways. Complaining taxpayers should meditate upon this finding of the Iowa State College.

HEART
If the New York woman who carves caricatures of famous people out of vegetables needs any ears, she will find plenty of corn; or if she wants a head, there is cabbage or lettuce; or if she would have eyes, there are potatoes, says the Christian Science Monitor. And if she wants heart, we suggest celery.

TO THINK IS TO LIVE
Dr. Lillien J. Martin, 80-year-old emeritus professor of psychology of Stanford, says that people can be young at 90 by keeping mentally active. Also they can be old at 25 by becoming dogmatic, mentally brittle and inhospitable to new ideas. She says that "the secret of a happy life for old age is to keep a keen intellectual interest in life," in new things and new inventions. Dr. Martin learned to drive an automobile at the age of 75. She is always seeking "new interests."

If one continues in old age under the "physical and emotional tyrannies of youth," the learned psychologist remarks, one cannot feel that new sense of happiness which tends to prolong life. It was because of their liberation from those tyrannies that Charles W. Eliot and Arthur Twining Hadley were able to attain old age and at the same time keep in step with their times. Edwin Markham, at 78, is beginning to write a life of Christ. He is described by the New York Times as a man with an intense interest in modern affairs.

Johnson, Franklin, Carlyle, Newman and Emerson were lively old septuagenarians and octogenarians. Their intellectual interest in the affairs of their contemporaries was about as keen after 70 as before. Also they were fully as bent upon service. Gladstone, who lived to be 89, was engrossed in literature and politics for more than sixty years.

If, as one gathers from the testimony of Dr. Martin, an intellectual interest in life is the great desideratum in age as it is in youth and that one's years are prolonged by it, then it would seem that to think is to live and one should never cease one's self-culture.

THE WATER BOND VICTORY
Victory for the $38,800,000 water bonds by a majority of approximately nine to one spells security for years to come in the city's most essential commodity. And the favorable vote itself is a splendid and inspiring indication of the intelligence and energy of the community. Los Angeles advertises itself as a growing and a going concern.

The bonds carried overwhelmingly in all sections. The unanimity of popular opinion extended to all classes of our population and to all sections of the city. Reports from the first two or three precincts gave the same ratio of support and opposition shown by the last few scattering returns. An average of approximately 8.6 votes for the bonds as against one negative vote was established by the first block of precincts counted. Succeeding tabulations did not vary the result two-tenths of a vote either way.

The same strong spirit of progress that caused Los Angeles in 1907, with a population of 200,000, to vote bonds for the first Owens Valley-Los Angeles aqueduct, inspired the present population of more than 1,000,000 to act in the present crisis for the city's greatest good. Tuesday's vote total, by the way, is greater than the entire population twenty-three years ago.

The very fact that the approval given by the bonds was community-wide and so emphatic as to constitute an extraordinary example of civic unanimity robs the issue of any aspect of sectionalism or politics. The result definitely shows that no single agency or group is responsible for victory. If congratulations are to be extended they are due to the electorate and not to specific individuals or organizations identified with the bond campaign.

The gratitude of Los Angeles, of course, is due to those working unselfishly and tirelessly for the success of the water-development program, and the hundreds of workers and leaders in the fight have their reward in this proof of confidence shown by the voters in the arguments and facts presented to them.

This confidence is not confined to any individual or department in the city government. It is an expression of the faith of Los Angeles in itself, and the very magnitude of the bond majority tremendously adds to the responsibilities of those directly charged with translating this expression of the popular will into actual accomplishment.

The safeguards against waste, graft, inexpert handling of the project and political meddling which have been guaranteed to the people must be exercised to the fullest extent. When the city's millions are expended for additional land and water rights in Owens Valley and in the Mono Basin there must be no question of legal technicalities or of deferred litigation. The city can and must obtain a full dollar's value for each dollar expended. And, with no facetious intent, it may be said that the city's title to the additional properties must be water tight.

The care with which the bond program was developed should be extended and increased in the steps that now must be taken to bring the great project to completion.

By their action on Tuesday the voters of Los Angeles have signed a guaranty that the remarkable vitality and growth shown by the community during the last ten years shall continue in even greater measure during the decade ahead.

DAVIS WINS OUT
The success of Secretary of Labor Davis in the Pennsylvania Senatorial race appears to have been the result of a combination of forces. It can be interpreted as a victory for the Hoover administration, as a victory for Boss Vare of Philadelphia, a rebuke to the Senate for interfering in Pennsylvania affairs and depriving that State for several years of its right to equal representation in that national body, and as a prohibition victory. Probably it was all of them together.

While the national administration as such did not, of course, take part in the canvass, Secretary Davis probably had the good wishes of President Hoover and will, in general, support Hoover policies in the Senate. While he received the support of the Vare organization, there is no indication that he bargained for it.

As for prohibition, the fact that the wet candidates for both Senator and Governor ran a bad third in the primary is pretty conclusive proof that those who have been proclaiming Pennsylvania a wet State are mistaken. Both Secretary Davis and Senator Grundy, who between them obtained an overwhelming majority of the vote, were outspoken drys, and the two leading candidates for Governor also were dry. The candidates of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment barely made a showing in the totals.

Since an astounding political overturn next fall would be required to defeat Secretary Davis for the Senatorship, his succession to Senator Grundy may be regarded as assured. Upon the whole, the outcome will be received with national satisfaction.

EXIT GROVER WHALEN
The resignation of Grover Whalen as Police Commissioner of New York City and the appointment of a policeman who has come up through the ranks to succeed him is an interesting development in the experiment New York has now been trying for a generation—that of seeking to obtain satisfactory police administration. Mr. Whalen, as a business executive, was rated high. As a police commissioner he does not seem to have been conspicuously better or worse than most of his predecessors. The job of governing New York City has been called the most difficult job in the world. The post of Police Commissioner is unquestionably the most difficult under that government, and his relative failure perhaps reflects no real discredit on the late commissioner.

The difficulty of the post is not inherent, but due to extrinsic factors. Police administration in metropolitan London or Paris has as much crime, potential or actual, to contend with as it has in New York, but it has a vast deal less politics and political interference. To do away with political interference in New York, it is necessary first to do away with Tammany Hall and all organizations similarly constituted, a task which will hardly be completed next week. Under the circumstances, the job of Police Commissioner in New York is likely to continue to be the most difficult job in the world.

Army officers, civilians and policemen have all had a whack at it and now a policeman is to be tried again. Theoretically he should come nearest to success; it takes a policeman to handle policemen, and a lifetime spent in learning police work is not too long. The police have hardly had a fair trial; Mayor Hylan's commissioner, Enright, was not representative, save of the politician-policeman type. On his record, the new man should do better. He will have more wishes for luck, however, than expectations that he will have it.

SPECIALISTS
How is the average Senator to tell whether or not the London pact is an advantage to Uncle Sam when the experts can't agree? Probably he feels like the juryman who has just listened to an equal number of celebrated doctors on each side of a case testify.

NOT MUCH HELP
By James J. Montague

Each day the paper mentions
New cars, new ships, new planes,
And other great inventions
To save our backs and brains.
Men daily ease our labors,
Devising something new
To save ourselves and neighbors
The work we used to do.

A great electric hammer
Relieves the blacksmith's arm,
And with prodigious clamor
A motor tills the farm.
Our houses to the attics
Require but little toil,
They're tidied by pneumatics
And lighted without oil.

Machines make bread and butter,
Machines make jam and cheese,
Machines sweep out the gutter
And trim the garden trees.
They save the population
A deal of elbow grease,
And bring to every nation
Miraculous release.

With joy we ought to chorus,
When each new day reveals
How much is now done for us
By gadgets, cams and wheels,
Yet in my poor endeavor
My daily work to do,
I toil as hard as ever
My grand-dad did. Don't you?

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.
By Lee Shippey

TIN PAN Alley in Los Angeles is the Majestic Theater Building. There nearly every office on the upper floors is occupied by a music publisher, a composer, a song, dance or musical turn coach, and there the vaudevillians and would-be vaudevillians, the song writers and the skit writers, go to shop for material, try out their wares or get instruction in doing their stuff. In one cubbyhole a perspiring and dressy young man is earnestly bawling a mammy song while next door a sweet-faced old lady is playing for a music publisher what she thinks would make a fine hymn and on the other side a girl in high-heeled shoes and plenty of make-up is humming to a composer the air and words for which she wants music composed, and assuring him it will make a perfectly swell Negro spiritual. For now, you know, all Negro songs which mention "heben" or "glory" are spirituals. And maybe you'd noticed how many of these spirituals have the distinctly Hollywood flavor, suggesting that their authors have gained their knowledge of the old South from a hurried street-car ride through Watts.

Beats Sweltering

A medal for profiting by observation goes to T. G., who celebrated straw-hat day by having his overcoat cleaned and pressed, knowing he was likely to need it soon.

Story of a Murder

Alas, for the overtrustful!

The other day we wrote about how the quail come right into our yard and neighboring yards every morning looking for crumbs and fearless of man because part of Ourville is in the Angelus forest reserve and hunting is forbidden there.

But Minou, our cat, is a bold marauder who cares no more for law than does the average young motorist. Minou is the best gopher trap we ever saw and often has been petted and praised for his enterprise in pouncing on those lawn destroyers. So how was Minou to know that quail are held in far higher esteem by us illogical human beings?

On the far side of the fish pond in our back yard the grass is long and shaggy and interspersed with little shrubs. The children were playing by the fish pond yesterday when suddenly, on that far side, they saw Minou pounce, heard a brief, terrified, futile flutter—and came crying that Minou had caught a bird—a bird that was sitting on its nest.

We dashed out. Minou had vanished, but the nest was there, with thirteen quail eggs in it, still quite warm. The children tenderly packed them into a basket and took them to school, where the class in nature study may be able to incubate them. But we felt sad all day—and belled the cat.

We had never dreamed of finding a quail nest in a city yard, on the corner of two paved streets, in a block in which there are no vacant lots. But it showed us how tame such wild, fleet things as quail can get—and how primeval instincts still linger in marauding animals such as cats and men.

Nothing to Worry About

Lee: I notice that Benny Lom, football hero and the president of the senior class at U. C., failed to pass at the recent commencement. But don't imagine that was because of any lack of brightness. No, it was just because men of their position have too much to do to give much time to mere educational matters. So it's nothing to get upset about. It's only when Benny fails to pass properly on the gridiron that it's really a matter for public concern.—R. R. Renter.

Cleveland's Losses Our Gains

Ted Robinson, columnist of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, offers this explanation:

"In 1925, Cleveland was bigger than Los Angeles.

In 1929 two of my contributors moved to Los Angeles.

"In 1930 Los Angeles passed Cleveland in population."

The contributors to whom Ted refers are G. W. Earle, who won honorable mention in our recent poetry contest, and Isadore Moidel, who quit being a columnist back in Ohio to come out here and open a law office.

Earle has a flock of children, but Izzy is a bachelor with impeccable habits, so we can't see that that proves so much. But we're willing to admit that as Ted's contributors go, so goes the nation.

Earle and Moidel, though, are taking the matter very much to heart, and think the Mayor should publicly award them the keys to the city at some suitable occasion.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

INSEPARABLE FROM THE PRIMARY
[Detroit Free Press]

Other candidates for the Senate have spent as much money in primary election campaigns as Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick says she spent in the one she recently won in Chicago. We do not mention this for the purpose of justifying Mrs. McCormick's outlay (the question of justification will be threshed out before the Senate special committee.) We simply write down a fact of some general importance, because it is illustrative of a tendency which is becoming more marked year by year.

Big campaign expenditures, either direct or camouflaged, are inseparable from primary election fights where the contest is for high office and covers a large area, or includes a large population. A candidate who desires to supersede someone already in office is in particular forced to incur a considerable outlay, unless his opponent has been hopelessly discredited; and the reasons are perfectly plain to anybody familiar with politics.

THE "CURE"
[Detroit Free Press]

Sir Wyndham Childs, for many years head of the criminal investigations department of Scotland Yard, is by no means the only person at a loss to find a way to "cure" American gunmen. Officers with a far greater knowledge than he has of the activities and methods of the gangster peculiar to this country have given that problem up as a bad job. Only sob-squadders and pink-tea penologists cherish optimistic ideas about reform of the professional gunman as he flourishes in this part of the world. The ordinary thug fighter has pretty definitely arrived at the conclusion that the way to deal effectively with the American gunman is to "get him" under circumstances which will prevent him from ever again indulging in any activities of any sort. Extermination of the breed is the one "cure."

WE FEAR THE WORST
[Kansas City Times]

Shyly and modestly James Hamilton Lewis, Democratic nominee for United States Senator from Illinois, contrasts himself with his Republican opponent, Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick. In a telegram to the Senate investigating committee he implies the issue is "capacity and patriotism" (embodied in himself) against "rapacity and purse" (embodied in Mrs. McCormick.)

With the issue thus coyly put what can Illinois answer? What, but to vote rapacity and purse into the United States Senate?

POLITICS IN PEORIA
[Brooklyn Eagle]

Peoria, Ill., where the first whisky trust was formed and one of the first trust prosecutions under the Sherman law failed dismally, keeps entangled with the liquor question. There the Rev. Edwin S. Carr, Congregational minister, is running on a wet ticket for Congress against Representative William E. Hull, a former distiller, who is now a dry. Peoria loves drama as a calf loves milk, and she gets what she wants however the times may change.

MODERN PROGRESS
[Christian Science Monitor]

Time was when the whir and hum of industry was an indication of better business, but of late years better business has found that noise detracts from progress, and so we find "quiet-ized" offices on the inside and antinoise campaigns on the outside. Sh-h-h-h! That's progress.

Want Movies Made Restful

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I should like to respond to the letter you printed from Mrs. Howard L. Terry of Hollywood, in which the lady refers to the article by Lee Shippey and the apparent "inconsistency" of the hard-of-hearing people who do not like the talkies in spite of our ability to lip read.

Let me say emphatically we do not like the talkies because when we go to the movies we spend our money for enjoyment and amusement and not for practice work in lip reading. This may be secured through public schools and private classes and is an aid, not a cure, to the hard-of-hearing person. The strain of trying to carry the theme of a good talkie "through the combined arts of observation, analysis, reasoning and comparison" can hardly augment our amusement or entertainment.

More power to the lady who enjoys her educational development in that manner; but the average hard-of-hearing person prefers the enjoyment of a silent movie where the overtaxed ears may rest and we may forget our handicap during a brief relaxation.

INEZ H. EVERETT.

A Lick and a Promise

SAN FERNANDO, May 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I was in Los Angeles yesterday and around the noon hour I dropped into one of those get-rich-quick lunch rooms that are scattered along on Broadway and other prominent thoroughfares to have a bite to eat. I could not fail but notice that the epidemic of efficiency and economy that has spread like wildfire over the country had entered this lunch room, because the young man or chef in charge of the place took a paint brush, dipped it in a bowl of melted butter and painted my two thin slices of sandwich bread with it. He only gave them one coat. T. DODDS.

How to Save Tidelands?

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Do you realize that ocean frontage all along the California coast is being commercialized and shut entirely off from the public? For many years the tidelands have been used as a playground for bathers. I am a property owner at Seal Beach, Cal., and the people of Seal Beach are now confronted by this problem. The people are even being ordered off the tidelands. I take your paper and I wish you would kindly get this issue before the people. FRED W. HUGHES.

The Lost Sixteen

LOS ANGELES, May 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am amused to note in your morning edition that the fifth (5th) Earl of Derby is to witness the running of the Kentucky Derby. How do you get him as fifth Earl of Derby and what have you done with the sixteen Stanleys who preceded Edward George Villiers Stanley as Earls of Derby? J. B. NICHOLSON.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Aviation?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

The field of aviation is not yet overcrowded and because the industry is growing rapidly there are excellent opportunities for positions and advancement. This opinion was voiced by C. M. Keys in his article on "Aviation" in The Times of May 7. There are six free classes in aviation in the evening public schools. Men and women of all ages may enter these classes now, get a few weeks of the fundamentals and when the summer classes begin, start at the beginning and go forward rapidly. In case of overcrowding for the summer session, those who enroll now will be given preference.

Free classes are from 7 to 9 p.m. at the following schools: Franklin, 820 North Avenue Fifty-four, Monday, Wednesday; Los Angeles, 4600 Country Club Drive, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday; Manual Arts, Forty-second and Vermont, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday; San Pedro, 1221 South Gaffey street, Tuesday, Thursday; Sentous, 1205 West Pico, Tuesday, Thursday; Wiggins Trade (open to those in the trade,) 216 West Venice, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday.

JAILS TO LET

Eighteen empty jails in England to let, sell or junk, is the startling fact made known by the Home Secretary of England recently. The last fifty years has seen the population of England and Wales increase 53 per cent while the number of prisoners has decreased 50 per cent. This, in face of the crime waves, and racketeering in various parts of the world! Causes are said to be fewer wrongdoers, fewer jail sentences, more time allowed for payment of fines instead of imprisonment and the practice of placing the offender "under supervision" until fine is paid, if his age is between 16 and 21, in the cases of minor offenses, while in more serious crimes detection and punishment follow with such relentless efficiency that potential criminals do not choose the climate or free hotels of England. THAT ILL WIND

BY ALMA WHITAKER

There is no longer a shortage in the United States Navy. On the contrary, they have so many applicants these days that the Navy is able to demand a much higher standard in its men. Likewise the report shows that many old Navy men are going back into Uncle Sam's service, so that the standard of superiority has never been so fine.

In former days it was not unusual for 50 per cent of naval recruits to be found wanting and discarded after the expense of training them. Now pretty much every man that joins—or is allowed to join—is first-class material.

There is much unemployment among trained nurses in the city and doctors are finding business pretty poor. Of course, doctors and nurses are not exactly hoping for an epidemic, but their emotions are a bit mixed when the standard of good health stands so high that their services are not in frantic demand. The hospitals are in the same boat . . . quite an interesting array of empty beds. Which, of course, is very much "the greatest good for the greatest number" even if it is a bit hard on those whose living depends on a little profitable sickness. We may be excused for gratitude that "the wind is tempered for the shorn lamb" . . . since sickness coupled with unemployment would certainly seriously aggravate our woes.

Then, too, there is some consolation for overworked housewives in the situation. Where formerly competent household help was so expensive that many frugal chatelaines could not afford the wages demanded, there is now abundance of first-class help to be had at modest wages . . . indeed, quite a number of trained nurses are gladly accepting this sort of position these days.

It is well that housewives should know this. Many of them who cannot afford competent help all the time, can indulge themselves with assistance now and greatly help in the unemployment problem thereby . . . one for themselves and two for civic aid . . . at least until the situation improves and wages go up again.

It isn't only the big corporations who should help the government out by creating employment . . . every individual among us who can afford to use help of any kind should "do it now" . . . both with advantage to themselves and the situation. It is a marvelous time to have that extra work done on the garden, for instance, and to have repairs made on the house and the plumbing.

MEI LAN-FANG

BY WILLIAM HAMILTON CLINE

There is something intriguing, even startling, to me in the presence now in Los Angeles, home of all the newest and most transient in Thespianic art, of Mei Lan-Fang, exponent of all that is oldest and most inexorably fixed and static in that same realm. Something almost heroic, as it were, on the part of Mr. Mei in bringing to the fountain head of cinematic creation today an exposition of that method, of expression akin, that dates back many centuries. It affords a vivid and most fascinating study in contrasts.

At the same time, it gives one pause, in that the very fixity of Mr. Mei's age-old metier is so strongly opposed to the utter fluidity of cinematic depiction of today and tomorrow. For what the films were yesterday is as dead as if it never had been, whereas this supreme panto-mimist makes no gesture, utters no word, that is not hoary with years and rigidly limited by the usage and tradition of many generations.

And yet the artistry of Mr. Mei is so overwhelming that his ancient vehicles are as potent and appealing today as if written now; whereas, our films are old before they are shown, in so many cases!

Which gives me pause again—are we in this boasted movie capital of the world not rushing too fast, doing too much, producing too impetuously, for the good of the films' future? Might we not take a leaf from the book of the marvelous Mr. Mei, go a bit slower, and achieve a lot more of permanancy of perfection and real good?

"Art is long, and time is fleeting," I know; but just because art is long, must it not be treated in another fashion than fleeting time?

We cannot be static in the cinematic art, of course; it is too intransigent a creative form to permit of that. Neither could the art of Mr. Mei be flexible; it would thus lose its character, purpose and background. But might not the new plethorically prosperous film world be a little less perfervid in production, a little less speedy in output, a little less flamboyantly all-conquering and thus attain a little more artistry, a little more permanancy, a little more real worth?

There is so splendid a serenity about this wonderful Chinese; so quietly confident is he, with his lengthy and historically eminent background. He is so different from, so contrastive with, our film stars and their life and works. His atmosphere is so conducive to satisfactory thought, gratifying acceptance, solid and restful foundations.

I am just wondering, while he is here, if Hollywood hasn't a very great deal to learn from Mr. Mei—to its own very great and permanent advantage.

Eel or barnacle grass, which grows abundantly in the shallow waters along the Atlantic Coast, makes an excellent building material that is both heat and sound-proof. A special machine has been devised for the quilting of the grass which is now being harvested in Nova Scotia, and thus put to commercial use.

PEN POINTS

People are at last beginning to understand that an engineer is just an engineer—not a miracle worker.

Being elected President seems to be all the others seem greatest. But there isn't any higher place than the top.

You can't start a revolution in a land where the price of gasoline worries more people than the price of flour.

Maybe prosperity would return if famous publicists would come out of their holes and again shout: "Don't sell America short!"

There's still a skeleton in the closet, but the style is daughter and the closet is a breakfast room.

Keep away from your friends. If a great man is cool, you find him stuck up, and if he's friendly you think him overrated.

One way to keep from being attacked as you sit in your car on a lonely road at night is to keep the car moving.

Americanism: Filling your wealth in sight of poor and desperate neighbors; thinking sufficient national defense to talk about brotherly love.

You can't really break a natural law. You just break yourself and the law remains as it was.

Why not go the whole hog and let stock exchanges say whether a gold dollar is today worth $2.10 or 14 cents?

Men write clever sneers of legion, but they never have one carved on their stones.

Old Dobbin had faults, but never scattered you on the highway just because he met a one-eyed horse at night.

Only a few people are really concerned about what we do here for, and they don't do anything but talk about it.

The "bad men" of the movies wouldn't have quit, either, if the people had depended on the Federal government to stop them.

You can tell we are an intelligent people by the way we elect a bunch of professional politicians to fix the value of our prosperity.

Correct this sentence: "The young men of my day would have revered girls," said the old guy, "even if they had chased as girls do now."

The average woman is prettier than she is painted.

Some people can find something wrong with everything.

Junk marks the spot where a reckless motorist is found.

Lots of people will go out of their way to have their say.

A woman believes in progress, but she doesn't believe in advancing years.

Some men do as they please, and some are required to do the shopping with their wives.

RIPPLING RHYMES by Walt Mason

PLACING THE BLAME

The needy man who is known better days too often roasts the old world and all its ways; he points his finger at the human race, and says it is a scandal and disgrace. In the street he once had his share, and fortune's gifts upon him were bestowed; he had the price, and he could go and hire a limousine, a plug hat or a yacht. His assets vanished and we see him now with credit spent; a mortgage on his cow. He tells a tale that makes one's blood run cold; it's not his fault that he has lost his hold: he's got no blame if he is in the soup, he is the victim of a heartless group while business rivals stood and cut his throat, his former friends deprived him of his pelf. All men were glad and ready to conspire to pull him down and drag him in the mire; being robbed by all with whom he ever dealt and robbed of all he had except his pelt, he says mankind is heartless, foul and base, the world a frost as as a place. Thus Jimpson to his neighbor whom I know; he had a bundle in the long ago, his father left him quite a pile and then the world Jimpson wore a smile. Jimpson was smart, too smart to take advice, and he'd increase his fortune in a trice. He knew where to buy some gilt-edged stocks to bring great profits to his treasure box. His father's banker tried to head him off, but Jimpson bought him off to buy toff, besought him off to buy phony stuff, his father's judgment was surely good enough. Jimpson was too smart to lend an ear to wise old men, he knew no doubt or fear; he knew it all, he went his foolish way, and here he is, without a plunk today, and he keeps saying, sadly wends that he's been ruined by his traitor friends.

NO, CO-ED'S NOT SNAKE CHARMER

Merely Dolled Up With Latest Bracelet

Arabella Childs and Her Pet Reptile

STARTING a new fad among the more courageous of the co-eds at the University of California at Los Angeles, Miss Arabella Childs appeared yesterday with a new and startling type of bracelet: The bracelet, which is in three coils of yellow and black is formed by twining a three-foot king snake around the arm.

The young lady states that the snake makes a very satisfactory ornament as his colors harmonize well with nearly all her clothes. In addition the bracelet may be transformed at will into a necklace.

The only thing Miss Childs fears is that she will lose all her friends if she persists in wearing her "bracelet," as most of the women at the university will have nothing to do with snakes in any form. However, the loss of feminine friends will probably be compensated by a gain in masculine admirers who respect her apparent courage.

In reality, not a great deal of courage is required, since the king snake is very docile and seldom, if ever, bites. His bite is harmless when he does attack.

The snake was caught in the hills around the new Westwood campus of the university.

AUTO-CRASH VICTIM HAS SKULL FRACTURE

Wilbur Cross, 32 years of age, of 735 Freeman street, Hawthorne, is in General Hospital with a skull fracture and two broken ribs following an automobile collision at One Hundred and Fourteenth street and Western avenue late Tuesday night. Deputy sheriffs reported that Cross failed to make a boulevard stop and crashed into a car driven by Earl Pearson, 627 West Thirty-fifth street.

WOMAN PLEADS NOT GUILTY IN POISON CASE

Pleading not guilty to a charge of poisoning a dog belonging to Mrs. Ludovico Tomarchio, 100 North Commonwealth avenue, Mrs. Rosa Churchill, 3114 West Third street, yesterday asked for trial without a jury. It was set for June 12, next, before Municipal Judge MacCoy, who heard her plea. According to Investigator Horn of the City Prosecutor's office, Mrs. Churchill placed poisoned meat in her yard when the dog annoyed her by running across it continually.

Agency Permit Given Defendant In Beery Suit

Felix Young, convicted of grand larceny a year ago and freed on probation of three years, yesterday was granted a chance to redeem himself when his application for permission to conduct an employment agency for film folk at 1626 North Vine street, was granted by the Police Commission.

Noah Beery, who filed the charge which resulted in Young's indictment in February, 1929, wrote the commission that he would be glad to do anything in his power to enable him to get started again.

Superior Judge Wood, who presided at his trial, informed the commission that Young is making every effort to comply with the terms of his probation and should be given an opportunity to earn a living.

NOTED EYE AUTHORITY DIES

Dr. Archibald L. Macleish, Known in Medical Circles Throughout World, Expires at Home Here . . .

Dr. Archibald L. Macleish, 76 years of age, noted in medical circles throughout the world as an authority on diseases of the eye and author of a number of books on the subject, died yesterday at his home, 1117 Alta Loma Road. He had been ill several months.

Dr. Macleish came to California twenty-five years ago after attaining honors in the medical world for his research work and teaching. He was born in Dunlop, Scotland. He first attended Ayr Academy in Scotland and in subsequent years won scholarships in mathematics, classics and medicine at Edinburgh.

He became a teacher in the Amoy Hospital medical school in China, and after four years came to Los Angeles. Prior to going to China he was elected president of the Royal Medical Society of Edinburgh. After coming to California he became a member of the California Club, University Club and the Los Angeles Country Club.

He also was a member of the American Ophthalmological Society, one of the original members of the United States College of Surgeons, the Clinical and Pathological Society of Los Angeles, and a member of the staff of the Good Samaritan Hospital.

Degrees from many universities were conferred on Dr. Macleish, who among his colleagues was regarded as a modest and retiring scholar. His treatises on medical subjects are circulated in medical schools throughout Europe and America.

He leaves his widow, two sons, Dr. Archibald C. Macleish, and Gordon Macleish, and three daughters, Mrs. Sanford Cobb, Mrs. Simeon Baldwin and Mrs. Sidney Briggs.

The funeral services, which are to be private, will be conducted at St. Stephen's Church at 10 a.m. tomorrow. Burial will be in Rosedale Cemetery.

Pacific Palisades School Sessions Begin on July 7

Sessions of the Pacific Palisades summer schools and assembly were announced yesterday to begin July 7 and continue until August 15. It was added that this summer's assembly will have the best program of its existence, and that it will have a larger group and individual attendance than ever before.

The assembly will be followed immediately by the interdenominational conference, which begins on August 15 and continues to the evening of August 24, offering altogether a seven weeks' program.

Improved housing facilities are announced this year by the educational, musical and entertaining institution. The directors are listing vacation groups from various organizations, Camp Fire Girls, Y.W.C.A., Boy Scouts, Y.M.C.A. and church and college associations.

REED CLASS ANNOUNCED

Manual Arts Evening High School announced yesterday that students may enter the reed furniture class tomorrow at 7 p.m. Articles such as fern stands, firewood baskets, sun-room tables, chairs, etc., may be made at very small cost.

DECREE OF DIVORCE GIVEN GEORGE BECK

George W. Beck, La Habra avocado rancher, was granted a divorce from Frieda Beck by Superior Judge Tappaan yesterday on the grounds of desertion. The couple married in 1899 and have been separated for the last ten years. Beck filed a suit asserting his wife told him ten years ago to get out of their home. Mrs. Beck filed a cross-complaint, contending he deserted her of his own accord. Mrs. Beck, however, did not contest her husband's suit.

Horton Inquest Set for Today

Inquest into the death of Albert Horton, 68-year-old Saugus land owner, last Sunday, will be conducted in the W. C. Noble mortuary at San Fernando at 2 p.m. today.

George Horton, 80, brother of the slain man and an eyewitness to the shooting, will be the main witness at the inquest. Robbery is believed to be the motive for the slaying following the discovery of a trunk containing nearly $1000 in gold in a closet of the Horton home.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

Planning a delightful trip of three or four months duration Mrs. Sloan-Orcutt of the Langham will leave early next week for the East, visiting relatives and friends in Buffalo, N. Y. for some weeks before going on to New York City and points of interest on the Atlantic Coast.

Mrs. Sloan-Orcutt is one of the active supporters of the semi-centennial jubilee dinner which will be given tomorrow evening at the Biltmore, for the benefit of the new wing of the Women's Residence Hall at University of Southern California, and where she is entertaining a coterie of friends.

Change of Address

Mrs. Genevieve Gray, sponsor of the Monday morning musicales at the Biltmore, where she has made her home for two years, has moved to the Beverly Hills Hotel for the summer. Plans for next season's musicales are being formulated and numerous well-known artists already have been engaged. Mrs. Gray will make many short mountain and beach trips during the summer.

For Bride-elect

Miss Mary Louise Wattles, fiancee of Wilson Dunlap Bryans of Omaha, was the honor guest yesterday at a prettily appointed luncheon and handkerchief shower with which Mrs. Joseph Graner entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Fitzer, a pink and white color scheme being effectively carried out. Covers were arranged for Mmes. John Francis Ohmer, Jr., Eugene Ziegler, Norman Wells, Meredith Helme, Arnold Fitzer, Alfred Dewey Davey, Clyde Kier, David Baldwin Heyler, Clinton La Tourrette, David Fall, Ario Schmidt, Harold Godshall, Ann Langehorne, George Prindle, Jr., Angus Potter, Glenn Ritter, Jesse Schontz, Misses Gertrude Mulligan, Jeanne Foulkes, Marion Swender, Mary Elsa Hoffman and the hostess and honoree.

Albright-Deering

The marriage of Miss Mildred Ruth Albright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Carlson Albright of Onawa, Iowa, to Albert B. Deering, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Deering of Boone, Iowa, was solemnized last Sunday in Immanuel Presbyterian Church, Wilshire Boulevard, at 4 o'clock, with Rev. Herbert Booth Smith officiating.

The bride wore a French tea rose all-over lace, Chanel model with matching shoes, lace hat and corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Her going-away costume was black and white bolero suit with black hat, shoes and gloves.

Mr. and Mrs. Deering motored to Santa Barbara and later will go on to the high Sierras on their honeymoon and after June 1 will be at home at the Beaconsfield Manor, 329 South Manhattan Place. Mrs. Deering attended University of Iowa for two years and was graduated from the University of Wisconsin, where she was a member of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority.

Mr. Deering attended Grinnell College and was graduated from the University of Iowa in 1926. He is affiliated with Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity. The year following graduation was passed in foreign travel.

Mrs. Albert B. Deering came from Boone for the wedding, arriving in Los Angeles the 2nd inst., and is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. John H. Fullerton, 730 South Orange Grove avenue, and her sons, Albert B. Deering, Jr., and David Miller Deering of 426 South Manhattan Place. Mrs. Deering has been a visitor to the Southland for many years and the host of friends here has made her visit delightful.

Dr. Deering, one of Iowa's prominent surgeons, will join his family in June and the vacation will be passed in their cabin in the high Sierras and at Manhattan Beach, where they have taken a house.

Wedding Data

Cards of invitation are being issued by Dr. and Mrs. George Forstner of 827 Fifth street, Santa Monica, for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Virginia Harding, to Richard Mayhew Astle, the ceremony to take place at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, the 31st inst., in Santa Monica Chapel, Strand street at Washington Boulevard. Miss Portia Harding is to assist as maid of honor while Mrs. Lois Hansen Sedgwick is to be maid of honor and Misses Mercedes Harding, Shanna Houtz and Dorothy Murdock will be bridesmaids. Muriel Hirsch is to be flower girl and Billy Tompkins will carry the ring. Stanley Love is to serve as best man and Clarence Astle, James Astle, Jr.; Sam Burnham and Bert Dray will usher.

Dr. Harding will give his daughter in marriage and Rev. John T. Corbridge of Santa Monica will officiate.

One of the lovely affairs given in honor of Miss Harding was the brige-supper and miscellaneous shower given by Miss Edythe Stohl and Miss Dorothy Murdock at the home of the former, 3705 Wasatch avenue, Mar Vista, Wednesday afternoon. The guests included Mmes. David O. Stohl, George F. Harding, Leslie B. Wiggins, Joseph Sedgwick, Ellsworth Dodd, Keith M. Thomas, Hugh Beattie and Misses Shanna Houtz, Mercedes Harding, Portia Harding, Eleanor Snow, Janis Clayton, Eva Hancock, Nanon Graham, Virginia Stohl, Thelma Rhoades, Marian Tilson, Dorothy Marshall and Carmen Kirchoff.

Unique Dinner

Fairfax Cosby was the host Thursday evening at a Mexican dinner given at the home of Mrs. Emilia Vasconcelles, formerly of Mexico City, who has just come to Los Angeles to make her permanent home.

The occasion honored Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Newman of Long Beach, who recently returned from Spain. Rare Mexican dishes were served in old Spanish pottery and wreathed in flowers reflecting the colorful days of early California. Others enjoying the delightful occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Lanier Bartlett, Mrs. Lansie Haynes Martin, Mrs. Lois Bradford Gray, Miss Grace Marcuson, Cruse Carriel and D. T. Del Alva.

Bridge Party

Miss Olive E. Tossell was hostess at a delightful bridge party given Wednesday afternoon at her home in Cloverdale avenue, in honor of Mrs. Paul Schweitzer, who is leaving for the east shortly. During the evening dramatic readings were presented by Miss Lilyan Welle and Miss Tossell. The guests included Mmes. Paul Schweitzer, Robert E. Gray, Leslie Bowden, Loyal Peterson, Harold Stewart, Walter Hubner, Maurice Miller, Clarence Hannsen, John Miller, Donald Grant and Misses Helen Genor, Ruth Cale, Marie Wyman, Jessie Kurtz, Verna Green, Verda Urdall and Lilyan Welle.

Betrothal Announced

Formally announcing the engagement of her daughter, Miss Therese Cecelia Allen, to Louis John Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Myers, Mrs. Therese Allen entertained with a lovely bridge-tea yesterday afternoon, the secret being discovered in the form of heart-shaped confections on which were written the names of the betrothed.

The wedding is to be an event of the early summer.

Home Again

Miss Carroll Ellicott Henderson, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Robert Henderson, U.S.N., of 681 South Norton avenue, has returned from a fortnight's visit with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Schwerin at San Mateo.

GIRL WILL HONOR BRIDE-ELECT

Favorite Recipe Shower to be Given

[Credit: Daniel Sheehan studios]
Miss Winnifred Huntington.

ONE of the charming hostesses of the week is Miss Winnifred Huntington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Elon Huntington, who is entertaining Saturday afternoon, honoring Miss Lois McQuistion, fiancee of Frederic Richman, whose wedding is to be an event of Saturday, June 7. Miss Huntington is to assist as maid of honor. Mr. and Mrs. Huntington, who for many years have lived at 1733 North Wilton Place, Hollywood, recently moved into their new home at 815 South Hudson avenue, where the affair Saturday is to be held in the lovely flower blooming gardens, which are especially adapted for al fresco entertaining. The party is to be a bridge-luncheon and favorite recipe shower.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

HALIBUT ST. AUGUSTINE

Procure two slices of halibut, weighing one and one-half pounds each, slice fine, three small white onions, place them in a saute pan with two tablespoonfuls of butter, and cook them carefully without browning, until tender. Place the fish on the top of the onions and season with salt and white pepper. Peel and cut in quarters four medium-sized tomatoes and place around the fish, cover tightly and let simmer gently for five minutes, then remove to the oven and bake for fifteen minutes, place the fish on a hot platter and surround with the sauce.

COLD PEACH PUDDING

Take one can of sliced peaches and drain well, two cupfuls of bread crumbs or stale cake crumbs, one-half a cupful of seedless raisins. Mix these ingredients all together, lightly butter and sugar a pudding mold and place the mixture in it. Beat four eggs, and add to them one-half a cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of the peach syrup, and a half a teaspoonful of vanilla extract, beat well and gradually add to them two cupfuls of milk and beat again. Pour this mixture over the peaches and bread crumbs, cover tightly, place in a pan containing water, half the height of the mold and set in a moderate oven to bake for forty minutes. Remove from the oven allow to cool, then set in the ice box until thoroughly chilled. Unmold on a cold dish and serve with the following sauce: Cold sweet mousseline sauce. Beat the yolks of two eggs and add to them four tablespoonfuls of sugar, place in a double boiler and cook for five minutes, but do not allow to boil. Remove from the fire, place in a bowl and allow to become thoroughly chilled. Beat a half a cupful of cream until stiff then add the egg mixture to it with a half a teaspoonful of vanilla. Beat well for two minutes and serve with the pudding.

TIMBALES OF SPINACH

Wash and remove the stocks from six bunches of spinach, drain and allow to cook in the water that adheres to the leaves. When tender drain well, and press out all the water, then chop fine, place in a saucepan, a half a teaspoonful of sugar, a little white pepper, a few grains of nutmeg and the yolks of three eggs that have been beaten. Place this pan on the fire, add the spinach to the mixture, and heat slowly for five minutes, stirring constantly. Butter individual pudding molds and fill with the mixture, place in a pan in the oven and allow to bake for ten minutes.

SAUSAGE PORTO RICO

Peel and core two medium-sized apples, and slice them thin, slice four large bananas and add to them. Place in a saucepan two tablespoonfuls of butter, one teaspoonful of salt, a few grains of Cayenne pepper and one-third of a teaspoonful of nutmeg. Add the apples and bananas to this mixture, stir well, cover the pan and allow to cook slowly until the apples are tender, being careful not to burn. Remove from the fire, press the mixture through a sieve and keep it hot. Take twelve country sausages, prick them with a needle, heat a tablespoonful of melted butter in a saute pan, add the sausages and fry for five minutes on each side. Arrange over them the apples and banana puree. Pour in one-third of a cupful of water, allow to boil for three minutes, place the sausages on a hot platter, pour the sauce over them and serve.

An automobile manufacturing plant has been started in Bombay, India.

VIADUCT DEDICATION FUND APPROPRIATED

The City Council yesterday approved an appropriation of $400 for the celebration in connection with the dedication Memorial Day of the Glendale-Hyperion Viaduct. The bridge, which was designed as a Victory Memorial of 1917 and 1918, will be dedicated by Griffith Park Post, No. 253, American Legion. This post desires the co-operation of every other post in the county in the ceremony and has asked that representatives of the other posts get in touch with H. L. Nicholson, chairman of the committee in charge.

Your 2 weeks' vacation .. plus three days .. is all it takes!

Enjoy a week in Hawaii

round trip only $343.50

RESERVATIONS are pouring in for the Matson Line's special Hawaii Vacation Tours throughout the summer. Naturally—for where else can be found such a vacation travel opportunity?

These tours leave San Francisco every other Saturday. The delights of a four day sea voyage on the luxurious Malolo are followed by seven days in Hawaii. You play at Waikiki, eat fresh pineapple, motor to Mt. Tantalus, Nuuanu Pali, Kilauea Volcano and Tree Fern Forest.

Another happy sea voyage homeward—this time on the big Maui or Matsonia. Your round trip from San Francisco takes only one business day longer than a two weeks' vacation. Inclusive fares are as low as $343.50.

Now you see why these Hawaii Vacation Tours are popular! Make your reservations today.

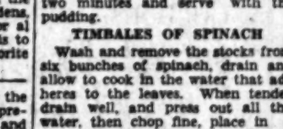
WHAT HAVE VEGETABLES GOT TO DO WITH IT?

A SENSIBLE QUESTION. You well may wonder why we keep talking about vegetable oils in connection with White King. The answer is this: a pure soap made from vegetable oils, instead of mineral or animal oils, is the gentlest, kindest, yet most effective soap that can be produced.

And White King is the leading vegetable-oil soap. That's why you can trust your sheerest lingerie to it. That's why beauty parlors use it for shampooing. And that's why it cleans blankets and heavy clothing so thoroughly.

White King Granulated Soap is economical, too, because it is condensed. A teaspoonful for the basin, a cupful for the washing machine—plenty. Try it today. Sold by your grocer.



Yes, it crackles!

AND RICE KRISPIES are the only cereal that's so crisp it actually crackles when you pour on milk or cream.

Delicious toasted rice. Something different for breakfast. And what a treat for lunch—with fruits or honey added! Kiddies love it. Use Krispies in candies, soups. At grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Before Packing Away

Before packing away the winter rugs, go over them on both sides with the vacuum cleaner. Then go over them with a damp cloth wrung out of warm ammonia water. It is not necessary to have rugs cleaned by a cleaning firm each year and this measure will insure them against trouble. When thoroughly dry, sprinkle with camphor flakes and roll the rugs on their poles with newspapers spread out and rolled with the rugs. Cover the outside with newspapers and tie tightly. Store in a safe place and you need not worry about moths getting into them any more than if they were stored at a cleaners.

The Baby Carriage

Don't overlook a general overhauling of baby's perambulator during the spring cleaning. Remove the cushions and wash the coach inside and out. Vacuum the cushions and go over with a cleaning fluid before returning. Oil the various working parts and clean all fittings. You will find it a much better-looking setting for baby when you are finished.

Spring Cleaning

Spring housecleaning is so much more important than fall because so many woolen garments and decorations are to be packed away. Those must all be spotlessly clean or that dreaded enemy, the moth, will soon get into them. It may seem extravagant to have so many things cleaned before storing but it really is one of the biggest economies in a household.

Renovating a Slip

A slip will almost always wear out first under the arms. If it has a deep hem, rip it out and lay your pattern even with the lower edge. Do not bother to rip out underarm seams. Now cut out neck and armholes and underarm seams to the waistline. If it is not long enough to allow for a hem, it can readily be faced. This will mean several more months' wear for your slip.

Systematizing Baking

Interruptions occur during the baking process and sometimes we wonder just what we did put in the cake. One housewife has solved this by placing all the articles used on the left side of the table and after she has used the ingredient she passes it over the right side of the bowl. She can keep track of what has been added, no matter how often she is called away.

It Will Not Take a Voluminous List of Words To Win $1000

Copyright, 1930, by Paul M. Bryan

Everything a contestant needs to know is printed on this page and the Star is the only work sheet you need.

First Prize in Los Angeles Times' Star Puzzle

By limiting the number of allowable words that can be spelled from the letters in the star to English words, The Times has made this fascinating puzzle so easy that one can readily qualify for one of the 112 cash prizes.

You Have Until 6 P.M. Saturday, May

How Many English Words Can You Form With the Letters in the Star? That's all there is to it! You can play your way into either the first prize $1000; the second award of $500; or the third prize of $250.

RULES

No word may be used more than once. Do not use obsolete, archaic, dialect, Scottish or un-Anglicized foreign words, proper names of persons, peoples or places, or parts of words, such as prefixes, suffixes, contractions or abbreviations. Either the singular or plural form may be used, but do not use both forms of the same word. In any question, Webster's International Dictionary will be authority.

For convenience in checking, lists of words must be submitted in alphabetical order. Each word should be numbered consecutively, starting with 1. It will not be necessary to give the index numbers of the spaces in which the letters are found.

Contestant's name, address and telephone number should be written at the beginning of the list, together with the total number of words submitted. Use only one side of the paper.

This Contest is open to every person in California and Arizona except members of the families of employees of THE TIMES. Only one prize will be awarded to a household.

As explained in the LIST of PRIZES, there are two classes of prizes. It is not necessary to subscribe or send in a subscription to THE TIMES to compete for one of the Class B prizes. The Class A prizes are open to those who send in a 6 months' paid-in-advance subscription to the DAILY and SUNDAY TIMES. This may be either a renewal or a new subscription. There are 56 prizes in each class. The contestant in each class submitting the largest number of words properly formed from the letters in the Star according to these instructions will receive the first prize in that class; the one submitting the next largest number, the second prize, and so on. The right is reserved to increase the number and the value of the prizes at any time during the progress of this Contest.

In the event of ties, contestants tying will be required to form words in a similar manner from letters in a smaller diagram. Should any ties result from the second Contest a prize identical with that tied will be awarded to each tying contestant.

This Contest will close at 6 p.m., on Saturday, May 31, 1930. All lists of words must be delivered at the Contest Depository on the main floor of The Times Building before that time, or, if mailed, must bear postmark showing that they were mailed before that hour.

Address CONTEST MANAGER,
LOS ANGELES TIMES,
First and Broadway, Los Angeles, Cal.

INSTRUCTIONS

Form as many words as possible from the letters in the star, letter and take any number of adjacent or contiguous letters. TION: forward, backward, upward, downward, diagonally. cent or contiguous to another when the spaces occupied the sides or at the corners. M-16 is next to or adjacent to I-23, L-22, I-15 and A-7. S-6 is adjacent or contiguous to not adjacent or contiguous to A-7 and U-20 because separated ters by blank spaces.) Do not jump or skip any letters or spaces.

Example: T-1, H-2, A-7, N-8 spells THAN;
S-6, T-14, U-20, B-21 spells STUB;
L-22, I-15, M-16, I-23, T-31 spells LIMIT.

The same space may be used more than once in a word (as 13 is used —M-16, I-15, L-22, I-15, T-14, I-15, A-7,) but do not double any letter. For ample: L-48 cannot be doubled to form the word ROLL with R-47 and but L-39 and L-30, two adjacent and contiguous letters, can be used with and A-28 to form BALL.

Avoid Pain

Nature never intended any woman to suffer intense or prolonged periodical pain. If you do suffer, build up your general health. Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound regularly. Take it not merely to relieve pain temporarily. Take it to overcome the conditions which cause pain. 98 out of 100 women report benefit after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Mary H. Weisenbacher
960 E. Eldorado St.
Decatur, Illinois

"Two years ago I lost my baby at eight months. I suffered a great deal from pain and weakness. I wish I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before I did. One of the waitresses where I used to work told me about it. I took it to build me up and it helped me in every way. I am now on night work and could not keep up without the Vegetable Compound."

Miss Golda White
Hot Springs, Missouri

"I used to suffer everything with pains. Once I was in bed three weeks. I took treatments but felt no relief. People told me how bad I looked. My daughter had to do the work. One day on my way for a treatment I decided to buy a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound instead. I had read the testimonials. The first dose I could feel it work in me. Two bottles helped me wonderfully. I don't have to stay on my couch or periodical headaches. At the time I go right on with my work and I never could before. I have four children and we live on a farm, and I do my washing."

Mrs. Lula Walker
2203 Wibben Avenue
Louisville, Kentucky

"Ever since my second baby was born I have been irregular. How I suffered from female trouble. My sister told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now on my second bottle. I feel fine and am regular as a clock. Both married and single girls should take this medicine. It certainly will give a woman energy and strength and appetite."

CLUB NOTES

Elected Vice-President

Cwace Hyde Trine (Mrs. Ralph Waldo Trine,) past president of the Los Angeles branch of the National League of American Pen Women, recently received official notice from the headquarters of the league at Washington, D. C., of her election, at the recent convention in Washington, to the office of State vice-president of the league for Southern California. Mrs. Trine was nominated by both the Los Angeles and San Diego branches as their candidate from this district. These are the only branches of the organization in this section of the State although there are several flourishing branches in the north including San Francisco, Golden Gate, Berkeley, Sacramento, Santa Clara county and Butte county branches.

With Mrs. Trine as State vice-president for Southern California it is hoped that branches can be organized in a number of cities or counties nearby. Only women who do professional creative work in the fields of literature, music or art are eligible to active membership. Not the least of the advantages of membership in the league is the contact the members have with women writers, artists and composers from other parts of the United States.

Los Angeles branch has entertained during the past season distinguished members from New York, Washington, Kansas City, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Berkeley, Santa Clara county, Arkansas and Illinois.

Informal Reception

Honoring the five members of the Women's University Club who are members of the State board of directors of the American Association of University Women, the club will give an informal reception Sunday afternoon.

The honorees are Mrs. Arthur S. Heineman, regional director of the southwest division of the association; Mrs. Malbone W. Graham, State president; Mrs. G. G. DeGarmo, finance chairman; Miss Helen Fisk, State vocational director of the association; and Mrs. Charles LeRoy Lowman, retiring president of the Los Angeles Women's University Club. It is also expected that Dr. Gertrude Laws, one of the principal speakers at the State and regional convention to be held in Santa Barbara the 30th and 31st inst., will be present.

Mrs. Samuel C. Dunlap, president-elect of the club, and incoming and retiring members of the Los Angeles board of directors, will be the hostesses of the occasion.

Escha Bledsoe, violinist, accompanied by Miss Marguerite Bitter, will give a recital, including "La Gitana," "Midnight Bells," and "Tambourin Chinois" by Kreisler; "Slavonic Dance" by Dvorak-Kreisler; "Serenade" by Drigo; and the "A Major Sonata" by Handel.

Art Club Luncheon

Mrs. Mitchel S. Meyberg will be honor-guest at the annual luncheon of the Jewish Music and Art Club Saturday at the Elks Club when an interesting program will be presented.

"Madame Modiste," an original dramatic sketch written and directed by Miss Minnie Cohen, will be a feature attraction. The presentation contains many tuneful musical numbers and is incidental to the exhibition of frocks and furs. Unlike the usual fashion show, "Madame Modiste" has a definite plot and has as its background the luxuriously appointed shop of an exclusive modiste in Paris.

The cast includes Miss Jean Weyl, title role; Mrs. Louis Sinoff, Miss Lucille Winters, style creator of picture fame; Miss Millicent Cohen, dancer; Miss Rose Friedman, singer and violinist; Miss Anna Neft, former member of the Los Angeles Grand Opera Company, Mrs. Amelia Rifkind, singer, and Miss Sylvia Cherry, dancer.

The mannequins will be several well-known society girls, including Miss Dorothy Meyberg, Miss Henriette Grandowitz, Miss Frances Gilbert, Miss Edna Winston, Miss Lena Schlaichow and Miss Rhoda Tapper.

This presentation is made by the juniors of the organization of the Music and Art Club, which has as its work, the furthering of music and art in those talented, yet unable financially to educate themselves along those lines. Miss Betty Light, style expert of Sylvia Ann in New York, is supervising the fashion revue.

Travel Club Meets

Closing the season with an annual luncheon at the Jonathan Club, the Los Angeles Travel Club will meet today at 12:30 p.m. An interesting program has been prepared. Mrs. Mab Cope Lineman will install officers elected for the ensuing year. Mrs. Gertrude Brick will sing solo numbers and the music section, under the direction of Mrs. Walter Webster, has a special surprise. The marigold's hues, adopted by the club, will be the color keynote of the decorations.

To Present Indian Legends

Mrs. Albert Cappell, a Chippewa Indian, will entertain South Ebell Club tomorrow morning with Indian legends and traditions, assisted by Mrs. W. J. King, president of East Side Women's Club, who will sing a group of Indian songs.

Mrs. Eugene H. Brockway, president, is back from the Oakland convention with many interesting reports of the trip. The delegates and alternates who attended the convention are Mesdames Clarence La Casse, L. Goucher, J. Girard, W. W. Lamon, Harold O'Dell, W. Beals, B. Setran, C. E. Lehnes and L. Levy. This delegation made South Ebell Club rank 100 per cent.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new babe, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, stirrups and bolls and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of those subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

IGNORING FAULTY SPEECH PLAYS PART IN CORRECTING STAMMERING

One of the characteristic statements made when parents discuss stammering is that the child begins "suddenly." This is a very natural conclusion because stammering is jerky, unrhythmical speech and we expect this of the small child. Also small children do not talk in sentences, but in single words. It is the older child whose longer sentences are jerky and uttered in a breathless way who arouses in the mind of the parent the conviction that he has suddenly begun to stammer. Probably the child has always talked somewhat jerkily and some unusual situation, which makes talking temporarily more difficult, focuses attention on the stammering.

Mrs. O. N. B. writes: "When my little girl was about 2 years of age she suddenly began stammering very noticeably. We thought it only natural, avoided mentioning the trouble and three months later there was no sign of it.

CHILD IS DISTURBED BY IT

"Now she is 4 and about a month ago she began stammering again. She has grown steadily worse and now she uses up one lungful of air and begins another all on the same word. We followed the same plan as before, but now she is old enough for it to bother her terribly. Sometimes she manages a complete sentence (and she has quite an extensive vocabulary) without a single stutter, then the next sentence will be worse than ever. I notice that she almost never stutters when talking to her dolls, so it looks like self-consciousness, doesn't it?

"She is beautifully normal and healthy and I am heartsick that she might have to go through life with this affliction. Do you think I am using the right tactics in ignoring it? Do you think this will pass?"

CORRECTIVE MEASURES

Ignoring it can never increase the stammering, Mrs. O. N. B., so that is always a wise procedure. As it worked once before, you should be convinced, if possible, that it will work again. Efforts to correct the stammering by making the child stop and start over, taking a long breath, and all the frenzied efforts parents have been told to make, were doomed to failure because the child became more than ever conscious of his labored speech. Stammering stops when the child becomes unconscious of his speech.

Direct your efforts toward improving the child's co-ordination. Singing, patting, running, skipping, marching to music or to the drum are methods of making the child's body movements rhythmical. This helps the speech, too. Turn away when she is speaking so that she does not feel your attention centered upon her so intently. Speak to her in a low, calm voice and rather slowly, so that she imitates your manner. We offer a leaflet on stammering which suggests, also, some helpful books for parents to read. Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request for it.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

FOOD COMBINATIONS
(Nonstarchy Vegetables Are Important)

Strictly speaking, all vegetables contain a small amount of starch. However, the following list contains such a small amount that it does not interfere with the digestion of other foods:

Celery, spinach, small string beans, asparagus, summer squash, cucumber, eggplant, beet tops, turnip tops, small beets, small carrots, small parsnips, small turnips, pumpkin, lettuce, okra, vegetable marrow, chayotes, avocado, oyster plant, mallow, kale, zucchini, parsley, endive and ripe olives.

These nonstarchy vegetables contain only a small amount of protein and very small amount of starch, but they are very rich in all of the organic mineral elements and vitamins which are so necessary to the different cells of the body in all of the tissues from the nervous system to the skeleton. There are other reasons why they are important additions to our daily fare. For one thing, they fill up well and thus supply us with bulk so we can more easily avoid an excess of the more concentrated foods such as the meats, starches, sugars, fats, etc. The nonstarchy vegetables combine well with each other and they can be mixed indiscriminately either with starches or proteins. A good rule to remember is that one or more of the nonstarchy vegetables either cooked or raw may be used with any one starch or any one protein at a meal.

BE CAREFUL WITH FRUITS

Fruits, while being one of the most valuable, may also be one of the most dangerous foods if improperly combined. The more acid fruits are best eaten by themselves or in combination with milk. The subacid and the nonacid fruits may be used with protein meal or with milk or with any one of the nonstarchy vegetables. An exception to this is the banana which is a highly starchy fruit, and should therefore be used at the same combinations as you would other starches. The acid fruits should never be used at a meal containing a heavy starchy food. If you use fruit desserts, it is well to remember that they should only be used with a protein meal or nonstarchy meal, and not with a meal containing starchy food.

Some of the fruits are quite rich in sugar; among those are dates and figs. You should be careful not to overeat on the fruits containing too much sugar, although a small portion may be used once or twice a day by anyone in good health.

SUGARS

The best sugars are those contained in the sweet fruits and if one uses these no other sugars need be added to the diet. The sugars should not be combined with starches because this mixture ferments rapidly. An excess of honey, maple sugar, raw sugar and other sugars should also be avoided for the same reason.

FATS AND OILS

Fats and oils are valuable foods in cold climates and dangerous foods in hot climates. They combine well in moderate quantities with any food. They have a tendency, however, when mixed with either starch or protein, to delay the emptying of the stomach. Their purpose in the body is to supply heat and energy. For this reason, they are almost essential in cold climates, and obviously not so useful in warm climates. They combine best with toasted starches, fruit sugars and nonstarchy vegetables, and moderately well with proteins and starches. We find large quantities of fats and oils in nuts, meats, cream, butter, avocados, olives and palm fruit.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

A PRISON BECOMES A CASTLE

What shuts you in without a doubt
Is also shutting others out.
—Nanny Meadow Mouse.

Reddy Fox sniffed and sniffed at the round hole in the top of the tin can in the bushes on the edge of the Green Meadows. With each sniff he grinned more broadly than before. Down below, inside that can, Nanny Meadow Mouse crouched in a corner and shivered and shook. She shivered and shook a little bit harder each time Reddy sniffed. Reddy was sure he was going to have Nanny Meadow Mouse for his dinner. Truth to tell, Nanny was equally sure that Reddy was right. Reddy knew that he had her trapped in that can and she knew it, too. But for the time being both quite overlooked the difference between being inside and outside.

"So I've caught you at last, Nanny Meadow Mouse!" exclaimed Reddy. "I knew I would sooner or later."

It was then that Nanny suddenly realized that she wasn't really caught. Anyway, if she was caught, it was the can that had caught her and not Reddy Fox. "You haven't got me as yet," squeaked Nanny.

Reddy chuckled. "Try to escape," said he.

Now, this was the last thing that Nanny Meadow Mouse intended to do. In the first place, she couldn't try to get out, or rather she couldn't get out if she tried, so long as that can remained standing upright. Nanny was beginning to understand that what had been her prison was now a castle. It might be keeping her in, but it was keeping Reddy Fox out. Reddy tried to put his paw in the little round hole. He didn't succeed very well. But he did tip the can over. The can lay on its side. There was nothing now to prevent Nanny's getting out. That is, there was nothing but the fact that Reddy Fox was waiting for her. Reddy sniffed at the little round hole. Then he once more tried to put his paw in. Nanny, crouched in a far corner, managed to grin this time. She didn't believe Reddy could get his paw in, but if he did it wouldn't matter. He couldn't possibly reach her. And she could set her sharp little teeth in that black paw if she felt like it.

It was about this time that Reddy began to appreciate the fact that, while Nanny was so near, she was also very far away. He couldn't get into that can and he couldn't make her come out of that can, unless he did it by frightening her. So

The old can rolled over and over

Reddy began jumping on that can and knocking it about, hoping that Nanny would be so frightened that she would run out. But Nanny was too wise a small person to do anything of the kind. He was simply making her more uncomfortable, rather than frightening her. You see, she knew that all this shaking up and knocking about meant that Reddy Fox couldn't get her.

The old can rolled over and over. Two or three times Reddy sent it end over end. Each time he followed it with a bound, to be ready to pounce on Nanny when she should run out. But Nanny didn't run out. Then Reddy did a foolish thing. He lost his temper. He bit at that can. He jumped on it. He kicked it, just as if it were something alive and could feel what he was doing. Inside, Nanny was most uncomfortable. She was, of course dreadfully frightened, but she was wise enough to take care to keep away from that little round doorway.

Firally, Reddy Fox gave up. There was nothing else to do. He began to see how foolish he had been. "What I should have done," said Reddy, "was to have quietly hidden and not let Nanny know that I was anywhere around. Then she would have come out and I should have had no trouble at all in catching her."

So it was that Nanny Meadow Mouse was really better off than she had been before Reddy Fox found her. He had knocked that old can over, which made it easy for her to get out now when she wanted to. Her prison had, indeed become her castle.

BUSCH EXTRA DRY
"America's Finest Ginger Ale"

for MEN and WOMEN

Dandruff . . . graying hair . . . falling hair . . . all are symptoms of an unhealthy scalp, and of starved hair roots. These conditions can be eliminated by Nourishine, a tonic that was only perfected after years of research by one of America's leading chemists.

Nourishine gets right at the base of the trouble: it cleanses the scalp, kills the dandruff, and stimulates and nourishes the hair roots. In this way it gives the roots a chance to perform their natural functions, and gives them enough to resist and defeat the inroads of dandruff. Starved hair responded to this invigorating tonic will hold falling hair, and even encourage growing new hair. Nourishine will bring back the natural color to the hair by supplying proper food to the follicles. And Nourishine contains absolutely no harmful ingredients! $1.25 at all drug and department stores. VALENCIA SHOW OPENS AT NOON

Tenth Annual Anaheim Fete Greets Public Today

"Rip Van Winkle" Spirit to Preside Over Exhibits

Catskill Mountains Setting for Orange Display

ANAHEIM, May 21.—Consecrated to the cause of beauty and dedicated to the tenth annual showing of the California Valencia Orange Show, the spirit of Washington Irving's immortal "Rip Van Winkle," will open the gates of Anaheim's "Big Top" at noon tomorrow amid a setting of 100,000 oranges. Golden in splendor and ripe in history, the theme of this year's spectacular tribute to the orange growers of California presents the magic touch of the artist combined with conventionality of the producer, it is declared.

Perhaps, in all his twenty years of dreams, good old "Rip" never fancied the magnitude or beauty that his genial character and sleepy soul inspired under a setting of silken festoons and futuristic drops. From the printed pages of Irving's masterpiece, Anaheim's greatest orange show has made a living, breathing artistic piece de resistance worthy of the old masters were they in the business of decorating instead of painting.

INDUSTRY'S GROWTH SEEN

Fairly reeking with the tradition of the Catskills, the casks of dream-producing beer and the legend of lovable old "Rip," this year's show presents the growth of the orange industry and the civic progression associated with it in the most attractive manner.

From the huge rack which greets the spectator at the opening door to a veritable fairyland, boasting more than 1,800,000 oranges in multi-colored wrappers, portraying the fade twenty-year awakening of "Rip," and the first discovery that a trusty flintlock is no longer a weapon, but a rusty old club which would bring deep-throated guffaws from the lowly rabbit, to splendid exhibitions of the fruit industry, the show places itself in the hall of Southern California's famed "booth pageants."

Ventura county offers a beautiful Washington Monument in gold, built from 12,000 Valencia oranges. The Ventura exhibit with its colorful and naturalistic base towers to the top of the big tent in perfect proportions to that graceful pillar which immortalizes in stone the memory of America's greatest national hero, "First in peace, first in war, first in the hearts of his countrymen."

OLD "RIP" AWAKENS

In a feature display "spot" of the big tent, Santa Ana brings forth a realistic, natural sized figure of old "Rip", awakening today. Instead of looking around for his bowling companions and seeing only a 20-year-old gun, "Rip" looks through a breath of greenery into an airplane picture of Santa Ana as it rests today.

Fullerton, lying close by the sunny side of Anaheim, brings to the colorful show "A Vision Realised." "Rip," in the crude leather clothes of his period, and exactly like Washington Irving would have him in or outside the printed pages, peers down from his long sleep in the Catskills. Inscribed on the accompanying explanation are the famous words from Irving's story: "He saw . . . below him . . . the reflection." Fullerton's civic pride interprets "Rip's" vision as a panoramic view of their own municipality and all its accompanying glories.

One of the finest displays in the fourteen feature exhibitions comes from the Anaheim Union High School which brings to the show an "all-including" scene of the most important spots in the activities of "Rip." Spreading over a large portion of the main tent, the high school exhibition brings into realism the Catskills and their strange merry men who, secluded from all but the eyes of dreamers, bowl their days away mid beer casks. There can be found the strangest character in American classics, along with his gnome hosts. One might imagine the thunder as those bowling balls roll down the alley toward their pins.

BALBOA ADDS SEA TANG

Balboa brings to the show a touch of the rugged coast—a dash of spray from the ocean—and a bit of sea life to the theme of the show. Nesting in the heart of a huge cliff whose rocky arms reach out to grasp the miniature ocean, is a small motion-picture screen revealing the beauties of the western coast. The attractive exhibition rests on a base composed of hundreds of oranges.

A preview of the city-block tent involves magnitude which is beyond competent description. Only the expression of the Valencia Orange committee is able to give an idea of how this show—the "Golden Jubilee," commemorating the first shipment of Valencia oranges fifty years ago—compares with past performances. "Most colorful, historic and representative in the history of the annual classic."

Peri Kelton and Hazel Conley are right behind these Valencia oranges destined to go into one of fourteen civic exhibits and 160 booths at the tenth annual California Valencia Orange Show that opens at noon today at Anaheim.

Izaak Walton Members Await Reply from State Fish and Game Commission on Recommendations

UPLAND, May 21.—California's Fish and Game Commission is expected soon to make reply to the Izaak Walton League of California to a number of recommendations forwarded to the commission this week in behalf of the sportsmen of Southern California.

The recommendations were drawn up for presentation to the commission at a gathering here of representatives of all Izaak Walton leagues of the Southland, including Los Angeles, Fullerton, Colton, Pomona, Inglewood, Alhambra, Elsinore, Pasadena, Riverside, Beaumont, Azusa, El Monte, Santa Ana and Old Baldy.

These recommendations include: Nonclosing of forest areas during summer months; removal of the size limit on trout; removal of the limit on bass at Big Bear Lake.

David L. Vashinder of this city, president of the Izaak Walton League of America in California, in addressing the gathering, declared that huntsmen and fishermen do not cause the forest fires, and they are unduly denied their pleasures of hunting and fishing by having the forests closed to them because of the carelessness of others.

Trout of small size, he said, die in most instances, when drawn from a streath on a hook, handled and thrown back in the water. For this reason the limit on size of trout will be requested to be withdrawn.

There are plenty of bass in Big Bear Lake, it was brought out, so there need be no limit on the number caught by one fisherman.

In order to participate with the various organizations urging tree planting in California, the league voted to sponsor a tree-planting campaign, each chapter of the league to be responsible for planting one acre to trees. The forestry service will provide the trees, it was announced. The tree-planting idea was suggested by Colton Chapter.

J. W. Tucker of Long Beach Dies

LONG BEACH, May 21. (AP)—James W. Tucker, president of the Western Trust and Savings Bank, senior member of Tucker-Reagan Company, investment bankers, and pioneer financier of this city, died unexpectedly this morning from apoplexy. The end came shortly after 3 o'clock at the family residence. Mr. Tucker was in his seventy-fifth year.

Financial and business circles of this city were shocked by the news. Tucker appeared to be enjoying his usual health and attended to his customary business routine yesterday morning. Yesterday afternoon he attended a baseball game at Los Angeles and spent the evening at his home listening to a radio program.

Retiring about the usual hour, Mr. Tucker gave no indication of illness until he was stricken shortly after 2 o'clock this morning. The family physician was summoned by Mrs. Tucker but death ensued within an hour.

LATTER DAY SAINTS IN QUARTERLY MEET

HUNTINGTON PARK, May 21.—The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints of the Los Angeles stake will hold its quarterly meeting here Sunday, with morning, afternoon and night sessions. B. H. Roberts of Salt Lake City, Utah, general representative of the church and one of the leading orators of the denomination, will be the main speaker during each of these sessions.

ADJUTANT OF MARCH FIELD OFF

Lieut. Ray W. Owen Goes to Washington; Lieut L. E. Sharon Succeeds Him

RIVERSIDE, May 21.—With the departure today of Lieut. Ray W. Owen, adjutant of March Field, on the first leg of his long journey to Washington, where he will be assigned to duty in the office of the chief of the air corps, his duties at March Field were assumed by his successor, Lieut. Leon E. Sharon, transferred from the Hawaiian Islands.

Lieut. Owen planned to motor to Santa Ynez and proceed to San Francisco. He will be joined in the Bay City this week by Mrs. Owen and the children, who will leave here Friday. The Owens will sail to the eastern coast by way of the Panama Canal. They will make their home in the national capital.

Arrival of the band from a New Jersey army post at its new home at March Field will be delayed one month due to changes in plans, according to Maj. M. F. Harmon, Jr., commandant of the flying field.

The band was to have embarked on an army transport this month, but its sailing has been postponed until the June departure of the transport.

Woman's Wave to Friend Ends in Her Death

SAN BERNARDINO, May 21.—Mrs. William Trenkle of Ludlow was killed late last night when struck by an automobile on the National Old Trails at Mohave Wells, forty miles east of Barstow. She waved a greeting at a friend passing in another car, and lost control of her own. It crashed into a ditch alongside the highway. It was the thirtieth death in an automobile accident in San Bernardino county this year.

TARZANA PARK GETS HISTORIC TREE SEED

TARZANA, May 21.—The seed of a tree known as "The Friendship Tree" that is to be planted in the new Tarzana-Reseda Municipal Park, comes from a tree whose history dates back to Revolutionary War days. The seed or burr was obtained through the efforts of Mrs. Frank Harvey of 18560 Burbank avenue, one of the officers of the Tarzana Garden Club. Not long ago six seeds or burrs of a giant horse chestnut tree growing at Bath, Pa., was sent to the Los Angeles Park Department. This tree, now the largest Mediterranean horse chestnut in America, was one of twelve saplings given in 1785 to Gen. George Washington by the famous Revolutionary general, "Light Horse" Harry Lee. When Mrs. Harvey heard of the receipt of the seeds she obtained one from the park department for the local park. It will be planted with ceremonies and the spot marked as soon as the proper plot can be laid out.

CRACK TENNIS CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

VAN NUYS, May 21.—L. O. Turner, Van Nuys engineer with the city engineering department, was elected president of the Van Nuys Tennis Club yesterday, with R. N. Saunders, vice-president, and Miss Mary Knaebel, secretary-treasurer. Directors are Charles A. Bevis, Frank Tiara and W. Park Newcomer. The local club is the ranking organization in San Fernando Valley and is now scheduling a number of tourneys for the summer. Newcomer, one of the directors, is a local banker. His playing records of the last two years place him near the top of racquet and net experts in Southern California.

DESERT FEUD ENTERS COURT

Homer Urton of Banning on Stand at Riverside

Testifies He Was Shot by William F. Keyes

Latter, Colorful Character, Accused of Attack

RIVERSIDE, May 21.—His wounded left arm resting in a plaster cast mounted on a special framework holding it away from his body, Homer Urton of Banning today was called as a witness by Deputy Chief Prosecutor Redwine as he opened the prosecution of William F. Keyes, colorful desert character, charged with attempting to murder Urton.

Keyes came to trial before a jury of ten women and two men in Superior Judge Freeman's courtroom. More than a score of desert residents were in the courtroom either as witnesses or spectators as the trial opened. They listened intently at every word of the testimony.

Three witnesses were called during the day's hearing. The first was Deputy Sheriff Shay of San Bernardino county and Charles Worcester, head of the Riverside county identification bureau. Shay told of arresting Keyes when it was believed the shooting, which occurred New Year's Day this year, had taken place in San Bernardino county, and Worcester related his investigation.

Urton's testimony developed before the jury information about the feud that has existed between himself and Keyes since they became acquainted while Urton was employed on desert cattle ranches near Keyes's mines and isolated home.

Last year Keyes posted signs on his Desert Queen mine property warning Urton to not "set foot" on the land and to "in no way trespass" thereon.

On New Year's Day of this year Urton with his wife and friends drove to the neighborhood of the Desert Queen for a picnic, selecting a spot near a water hole, from which they obtained water for coffee.

Urton walked up to the top of a little knoll to look over.

"Is that you, Urton?" shouted a voice.

An instant later, Urton testified, a shot rang out from behind a clump of rocks across a little canyon and the leaden slug tore through his left arm, shattering the bone, and lodged in his left side just over the heart. He walked back to where his wife and others were and then was rushed to Banning for treatment.

Clerk's Death by Naval Man's Gun Starts Quiz

SAN DIEGO, May 21. — A triple investigation was started today by naval authorities, police and Coroner's officers, into the death last night of Roy Avery, 37-year-old clerk who was said to have been shot to death by G. W. Henderson, naval intelligence officer. Avery was shot through the back when he attempted to escape after being placed under arrest at the foot of Columbia street. The bullet struck Avery squarely in the back and went entirely through his body lodging in his chest.

Henderson and A. M. Walsh, a fellow-officer, had Avery under surveillance and followed him in company with A. I. White, 26-year-old sailor on the U.S.S. Omaha.

"I fired, but only meant to frighten him," the officer declared.

Coroner Kelly, Detective Lieutenant Harry Kelly of the police department, and Lieut. W. A. Lynch, provost marshal at the Naval Training Station, went to Avery's apartment at Tenth and Beech streets, but found nothing of any material importance.

White, who was arrested by the navy officers after Avery had been shot, was placed in the "brig" at the training station, where he is being held for questioning.

OBJECTIONS RAISED TO POSTMEN RINGING

HUNTINGTON PARK, May 21.—Walter L. Cleveland, postmaster here, has received quite a number of complaints from residents of the city, since the new postal ruling has been put in effect here, which was issued by the Postoffice Department recently. This ruling is No. 45, and reads: "Carriers are not required to carry whistles, but they must ring the door bell when placing mail in a slot or receptacle for occupants of residences or apartments." The postmaster states that among these complaints is one from a woman who states that the ringing of the bell awakens her baby, which has its morning sleep just about the time of the arrival of the carrier. Another complains that she is disturbed almost every morning when at work in the rear of the home. Many other objections are also voiced in the complaints received by the local postmaster.

SORGHUM MADE IN LOG CABIN

Family in Business Quarter Century

Mrs. G. L. McWilliams Samples Her Product

Her family, in their log cabin mill at Cypress, for twenty-eight years have been boiling down sugar cane juice into the old-fashioned sorghum so well known for its popular doubles act with buckwheat cakes and other fruit of the griddle.

CYPRESS, May 21.—That tasty sorghum syrup, famed for its doubles act with pancake, has still one log-cabin fortress in Southern California. For twenty-eight years the McWilliams family has pressed the sorghum from the cane, boiled it in vats, and retailed it to customers at their mill located here. The mill is believed to be the only one now in operation in Southern California.

A total of 1000 gallons of the sorghum syrup is prepared each year, according to Mrs. G. L. McWilliams, who assists in conducting the business. She is aided by her son, E. L. McWilliams. The mill has become widely known because of its connection with the early history of the section.

"FINGER-PRINTERS" GATHER

Disciples of Alphonse Bertillon Throughout State Begin Convention Today at Santa Monica

SANTA MONICA, May 21.—Between 150 and 200 disciples of Alphonse Bertillon, who was first to realize that while crooks may change their names, they cannot change the measurements of the bones of the skull, ulna, radius, femur and the proportional measurement from the coccyx to the top of the cranium; also that "by their fingerprints ye shall know them"—in other words the California division of the International Association for Identification will hold its fifteenth annual convention tomorrow, Friday and Saturday at the Miramar Hotel, this city.

For three consecutive days Santa Monica will be the most unpopular spot on the map for persons desiring to conceal their identity.

A. W. Mallery, detective lieutenant, head of the local identification bureau, has arranged the program, which includes scenic drives for wives of the delegates, a trip to the "talkie" studios and a banquet.

Herman Michel, Mayor of Santa Monica, will welcome the city's guests, and Clarence Webb, Chief of Police, will be toastmaster at the banquet.

Last Rites for Mrs. Carrion in Pomona Church

POMONA, May 21.—Funeral services were conducted here today for Mrs. Dolores Navarro Carrion, 86 years of age, member of one of the old Spanish families of this section. The services were conducted this morning at St. Joseph's Church, Rev. Father O'Donnell officiating. Interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery.

The body of the pioneer woman lay in state at the Hotchkiss funeral home until 9:30 a.m. today, where the rosary was said on Monday and Tuesday evenings, attended by many sorrowing friends.

Mrs. Carrion was born at Santa Barbara December 11, 1843, in the colorful days of the dons. In December of 1909 the family moved to the present home at 2030 North Garey avenue, where Mrs. Carrion died last Saturday. They came to Pomona Valley sixty years ago, locating on the large ranch near La Verne, made up of parts of two old Spanish grants.

P.-T. A. NAMES OFFICERS

BELL, May 21.—The Parent-Teachers' Association of the Corona school has chosen Mrs. Iantha Tucker as president for the year. The first vice-president is Mrs. Paul Weeks, second vice-president, Mrs. Georgiana Richie; secretary, Mrs. A. J. Middlemiss; treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Sommens; historian, Mrs. J. W. Tucker; auditor, Mrs. Powers.

BANKS IN MERGER AT GLENDALE

American National and First National Combine With J. A. Logan as Head

GLENDALE, May 21.—Announcement was made here today of the consolidation of the First National Bank in Glendale and the American National Bank, through the acquisition of the latter by the First National. The merger will be completed by July 1, according to John A. Logan, president of the First National, who is slated to head the combined institutions. Permission for the consolidation was contained in a telegram received today from J. A. Pole, Comptroller of the Currency. The officers of the combined group will be John A. Logan, president; Daniel Campbell, vice-president and chairman of the board of directors; H. C. Hatterscheid, vice-president and cashier; Roger W. Jessup and Peter L. Ferry, vice-president; M. M. Bunning, assistant cashier, and J. Walter Hibbert, assistant cashier.

The capital of the First National will be increased by the consolidation from $60,000 to $200,000, with a surplus of $50,000 and an undivided profit of $20,000.

The First National will occupy its present premises at Brand Boulevard and Cypress street, and the American National, which will operate under the name of the First National, will be conducted as a branch at its present location at Brand and Colorado boulevards. The First National Bank was organized in 1910 by Campbell and Logan as the First National Bank of Tropico, but the name was later changed to the Glendale National Bank to avoid conflict with another institution that was then operating under the title of the First National but that was later absorbed by the Security Trust and Savings Bank. After the merger the Logan and Campbell Bank resumed the name of First National.

The American National was established in 1927 by Roy L. Kent, who later disposed of this interests to Hatterscheid, at that time president of the Bank of Van Nuys. The merger consolidates the only two remaining locally owned financial institutions.

PARENTS LEAVE TO SEE SON IN RACES

SOUTH GATE, May 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Meyer have started for Indianapolis to be present at the 500-mile race on the speedway in that city Memorial Day, their son, Louie, racing champion, having entered this annual racing event. They are making the trip in an automobile. Following the Indianapolis race Louie is to take part in races at Detroit, Altoona, Salem, Syracuse and a second race at Altoona before returning to his home in this city.

SNAKE IN AUTO FRIGHTENS EVE

Maiden Throws Fit When She Discovers Serpent Her Swain Had Rescued

NEWPORT BEACH, May 21. Finding a large snake in the automobile in which she was invited to take a ride, a young woman of this city almost died from fright yesterday. D. O. McBride, worker in the Ford factory at Long Beach, driver of the car, invited her to go for a drive and forgot that he had been carrying a thirty-inch gopher snake as a passenger in the cowl of his car.

He explained the situation by saying that he found the snake on the highway near Seal Beach a couple of days before and fearing that it would be run over he put it in his car, intending to turn it loose in a grain field where he thought it would be useful in catching mice.

FIFTEEN IN TRUCK-AUTO CRASH HURT

Fourteen Men, One Woman, Injured in Crash on State Highway Near Oxnard

OXNARD, May 21.—Fourteen men and one woman were injured last night, when an Oxnard Citrus Association truck carrying most of them was struck and overturned by a car operated by Frank Mead, 64-year-old Ojai resident, on the State highway at Perkins Road.

Mrs. M. Hennessey of Ojai, passenger in Mead's car, and Mead were rushed to St. John's Hospital here, where they were reported today as recovering.

The thirteen others were taken to the Lying-in Hospital here, where all but Manuel Rodriguez, whose condition is said to be serious, were given first aid treatment and dismissed. The driver of the truck, Leo Anderson, 20, of Hueneme, was unhurt.

According to reports of the accident made to the California highway patrol and the Sheriff's office, Mead, following the truck, tried to pass it as it was about to make a left-hand turn. The truck was overturned and the front of Mead's car was demolished. Out of the twenty men riding in the body of the truck, seven escaped unhurt.

Concrete Work Soon to Start at Tujunga Dam

PACOIMA, May 21.—If the present program maintains, workers will start pouring concrete for Big Tujunga Dam by July 1, next, was the statement made by E. C. Eaton, county flood-control engineer, to a delegation of San Fernando Valley business men who gathered at the dam site to inspect the work going on. Eaton also said that he hoped to have the construction work finished sometime before the Christmas season.

"In spite of fears expressed by numerous persons," Eaton said, "we have found geological conditions ideal for the construction of the dam. The canyon walls and the bed rock are of such a texture that there can be no apprehension regarding the permanency of the construction work. As things are now I hope to have the dam in service by the time the heavy rains start again."

Work Begun on New Theater

CALEXICO, May 21.—After several months of preliminary negotiations, Contractor Frank J. Solt of San Bernardino started construction work here today on a $110,000 building, which is being erected under a long-term lease for the Fox-West Coast Theaters. The owner of the building is the Capitol Building Company of which George Poios of this city is president.

The theater is to have a seating capacity of 1050 and is scheduled to be completed by September 20. It will be located on Second street between Heffernan and Heber avenues, and the specifications call for concrete construction. The equipment includes a cooling system.

BUILDING-LOAN MEN MEET

Delegates Arrive at San Diego for Three-day Session of Silver Jubilee Convention There

SAN DIEGO, May 21.—Delegates to the silver jubilee convention of the California Building Loan League, which is to convene here tomorrow for a three-day session, have already begun to arrive, according to Harold B. Starkey, chairman of the convention committee. Preparations have been completed for a record attendance of more than 500 leaders of the movement and their wives.

Executives of local associations have made elaborate plans to show the visitors the wonders of San Diego, Starkey declares. Every effort will be made to present to the delegates the progress and prosperity being enjoyed by the "Harbor of the Sun."

Several San Diegans are scheduled to address the conference. Among these are Hal Hotchkiss, president of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce and past president of the California Real Estate Association; J. C. Driscoll, Jr., and Ray M. Harris, well-known attorneys.

Driscoll will speak on "Bankruptcy and Deficiency Judgments," while Harris's subject is "Street Improvement Acts of California." Starkey will discuss the progress of the San Diego Building and Loan Club.

TEAR GAS QUELLS CHURCH ROW

Santa Paula Police Find Mexican Pentecostal Church in Uproar and Use This Means to Subdue Brawlers Before Hauling Them Away to Jail Cells

SANTA PAULA, May 21. Whether a slighting remark was made by one of the congregation to Alfred Villalobos, 17 years of age, or whether he made a "dirty" remark about the preacher's sermon, is not known by police, but there was a fight in the Mexican Pentecostal Church at Twelfth and Orchard streets last night. A riot call was turned in and police used tear gas to separate the brawlers and get them to jail.

Six persons, two women and four men, were providing amusement for 150 spectators with their fighting, when the police arrived on the scene last night. Refusing to stop fighting when ordered by the police tear gas was turned loose and the brawlers hauled away to jail to face charges of disturbing the peace.

OIL FIELD IN PATH OF FIRE

Torrey Canyon Derrick Ablaze by Spark

Structure Destroyed; Other Wells Threatened

Fifty Men Battle for Hours to Extinguish Flames

PIRU, May 21.—Starting from a spark thrown by a gasoline engine, a fire today completely destroyed an oil derrick belonging to the Torrey Canyon Oil Company in Torrey Canyon near here, and for a time threatened to destroy other property in the field before a large force of men succeeded in extinguishing the flames. The loss was said to be $4000. There was no insurance.

When the spark jumped from the engine it found ready fuel in the oil-soaked ground. Dry grass and weeds. The flames spread rapidly to the surrounding territory, and threatened to damage other derricks.

The Union Oil Company owns the field were rushed to the scene and a force of fifty men fought the flames for several hours before they were under control.

It was announced by oil men that the well had recently been sold to Long Beach operators, who planned to drill a deep-test well with a rotary rig.

Parents Happy Over Saving of Child's Sight

WINEVILLE, May 21.—There was great happiness in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Burfle here today.

Physicians have announced they are confident skillful surgery and care have saved the eyesight of their 3-year-old daughter, Dolly.

The little girl several weeks ago fell on a broken milk bottle, and a bit of jagged glass gashed her left eyeball. It was feared for some time that the sight of both eyes would be lost, but announcement was made that the little girl has a good chance to retain the sight in both eyes.

Directors of Syndicate to Tell Their Side

SAN DIEGO, May 21.—Former directors and officers of the California Land Buyers' Syndicate will present their view of circumstances leading up to large financial loss by about 300 San Diegans before the county grand jury tomorrow, it was learned today. After hearing the complaints of ten complaining witnesses against the syndicate, the grand jury ordered Chief Prosecutor Cline to invite officials of the company to appear.

Among those expected to testify tomorrow are Ed Fletcher, Jr., R. N. Haskell, Thomas O'Connor, P. Terry, R. L. Stewart, Ben Hall and C. W. Wilson, salesmen. Civil suits still are pending against the company, one for $30,163.28, filed by I. W. Randall, 80 years of age, and his wife, Vitulia E. Randall, charging they were defrauded of this sum by the syndicate, and one by Miss Hulda Holdquist, for $1000 interest traded by her in a piece of downtown corner here for stock in the concern.

Officials of the company have denied any intent to defraud, claiming that every dividend was based on certificates from expert engineers saying that a surplus was available.

Plans for Pier Meet Approval

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 21.—Plans and specifications prepared by City Engineer Rosen and Consulting Engineer Bailey of Santa Ana and the pier committee, for the extension of and repairs to the municipal Pier have been accepted by the City Council and bids will be opened on June 2.

Work will start soon after that on the 800-foot extension to the 1400-foot concrete pier at an estimated cost of $60,000 and repairs at a cost approximating $25,000.

A fifty-two-foot boat landing will be constructed at the end of the pier from which anglers may be carried to the large fishing barges recently stationed near by and operated by C. K. Morrison and R. Dockins.

Rosen and Thomas Berry, consulting engineer, made a report of investigation of the pier which revealed that repairs were needed to the life of the pier was to be extended. The structure, known as concrete pier on the Pacific Coast, was built here in 1913.

TOURNAMENT SET

Legion Plans Event at Valley Championship

The first annual San Fernando Valley champion bridge player of the year will be crowned over a period of six weeks, under the auspices of the American Legion, it was announced today.

All players are eligible, Bernard Hall will conduct the play each night this week, commencing on Wednesday night, June 4, and continuing every following Wednesday.

Prizes will be given each night for high score, and a grand prize, a cup for the highest score at the close of the tournament. The winner of this cup will be declared champion of the San Fernando Valley.

THIS DOG KNOWS HIS TENNIS

Talents Will Be Displayed at Show

Playing Double
Muro and Kathryn McGuire

THE question of whether a dog is a better broad jumper than an athlete bids fair to be answered at the Hollywood Dog Show Saturday and Sunday in the Ambassador Auditorium, when Muro, champion Belgian shepherd, will display his talents.

A leap of twenty-five feet is just a warming up exercise for Muro, who also is expected to do something fancy in the way of high jumping, according to Henri Chieysal of Hollywood, his owner.

Some of the fastest whippets in the world are entered for the bench show, Arroyo Perhaps from Freeman Ford's kennels in Pasadena, with a 200-yard handicap, who won twice at Agua Caliente, will be in the competition.

Sportsmen will find the cream of working and hunting dogs among the 1000 entries, according to Jack Bradshaw, director-general. Afghan hounds, Norwegian Elk hounds, and Egyptian Salukis are only a few of the sporting canines to compete for the largest array of trophies ever posted for such an event in the West.

FINAL BRIEF IN PANTAGES FIGHT FILED

Theater Man Attacks Fitts and Court in Appeal to be Heard Next Monday

With the case scheduled for oral arguments before the District Court of Appeal Monday, Alexander Pantages, theater man, convicted of having attacked Eunice Pringle, dancer, yesterday filed the final brief in his appeal.

In support of his petition for a new trial Pantages declares in his closing brief that the verdict against him was the result not of the evidence, but of passion and prejudice. The appellant repeated the charge made in his opening petition that the dancer's story "was not only inherently improbable but physically impossible."

Prejudicial misconduct is assessed to Dist.-Atty. Fitts, particularly in connection with a statement declared to have been made by Fitts to the effect that the defendant at a point in the trial was smiling with a sneer on his lips.

Errors are also charged to the trial court judge. It is contended that the court erred in sustaining objections to questions attacking the character of Miss Pringle.

LOW FARES TO MEETING

Announcement of low round-trip fares to the annual meeting June 6 to 8 at Salt Lake City of the Young Men's and Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement and Primary Association of the Mormon Church was made yesterday by the Union Pacific, Santa Fe and Southern Pacific railways. The fares are authorized on the basis of the one-way fare and one-third for the round trip, with sales dates from Los Angeles June 3 to 6 and a return limit of June 30.

Dentist Drops Fight and Wife Gains Divorce

What promised to be a long and hotly contested divorce action between Dr. Nathan Posner, a dentist, and his wife suddenly ended yesterday before Superior Judge Hazlett after a half-day of battling in court, when the couple decided they were wasting time, as a property settlement had already been signed. Dr. Posner withdrew his complaint and let his wife take the decree on her cross-complaint. She accused the doctor of deserting her on July 27, 1929, and refusing to provide for her, although he had an income of $1000 a month. They were married September 9, 1928.

Dr. Posner in his complaint accused his wife of telling him he was "lower than a snake."

HUSBAND SAYS MATE THREW PAINT AT HIM

Mrs. Edna May Wilkins threw a bucket of paint at her husband, John A. Wilkins, by way of emphasizing her threats to kill him, he asserts in his divorce complaint on file yesterday. On another occasion, the defendant hurled a pan of dishwater, some salt shakers, and a pot of hot coffee, at the plaintiff, and then took all the money he had on hand and disappeared, he says.

Wounded Man Says He Was Taken for Walk

Efforts will be made today in the murder trial of Morris Fulton and Joseph Herring, charged with the killing of R. W. Leslie, and the wounding of James J. Murphy, to introduce a purported confession of Herring in which he asserts that he offered Fulton $50 to "take care" of the two.

Trial of the pair started yesterday before a jury in the court of Superior Judge McComb, and the prosecution asserts that all four of the participants were engaged in the illegal sale of liquor and that the shooting was the result of interference in trade territory.

The shooting took place on February 25, last, at Clanton street and Griffith avenue, and when police arrived they found Leslie dead from bullet wounds and Murphy badly injured.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Kearney, who is directing the prosecution, called Murphy as his first witness. He told of Fulton taking Leslie and himself for a walk down a side street and then shooting them. John A. Carson, another witness, told of Leslie and Murphy leaving a cafe in company with Fulton.

DR. GOODEN INDUCTION PREPARED

Harvard School Head Will Be Made Suffragan Bishop at Service Next Tuesday

One of the most solemn and colorful services of the Episcopal church will be conducted at St. Paul's Cathedral next Tuesday morning when Dr. Robert B. Gooden, headmaster of Harvard School, will be made suffragan bishop of the Los Angeles diocese.

Assisting at the service will be ten or twelve bishops and 150 clergymen and vested lay leaders. Dr. W. B. Stevens, bishop of the local diocese, will be the consecrating bishop, while Rt. Rev. Edward Lambe Parsons, D.D., bishop of California, will be the preacher.

Particular interest attaches itself to this service, owing to the fact that Dr. Gooden has spent his entire ministry of twenty-six years in this diocese. Born in England in 1874, he came to California as a youth settling at Santa Barbara. He was educated at Trinity College, Hartford, and Berkeley Divinity School, Middletown, Ct. Sixteen years ago he was appointed headmaster of the Harvard School, when the Episcopal Church took it over.

Upon his consecration Dr. Gooden will become the suffragan to Bishop Stevens, that is, an assistant bishop, without power of succession or a vote in the national house of bishops.

This will be the second Episcopal consecration service ever to have been conducted in Los Angeles and the fourth in the diocese of Los Angeles, which comprises all of Southern California.

The service will begin at 10:30 a.m. and admission will be by ticket. Following the service a luncheon will be given at the Elite Tea Room.

Mack Sennett Sued Over Song Used in Films

Harry McCoy, song composer, yesterday filed suit in United States District Court against Mack Sennett, motion-picture producer, asserting that Sennett infringed on the copyright of one of McCoy's songs and used it in the production of five sound pictures. It was asserted by S. S. Hahn, in the complaint he filed as attorney for McCoy, that McCoy is the author of a song entitled "The Same Old Thing Called Love."

The complaint asserts that in the production of the five pictures Sennett used the song as his own and asserted that John A. Waldron was the originator of the words.

The plaintiff asserts that the copyright is valued at $100,000 and seeks an accounting of profits as the result of its use, an injunction against further use of the song and asks that the plaintiff be given such other relief as the court sees fit.

Chinese Given Right to Parade

Permission for the Ning Kue Kung Wui, Chinese organization, to conduct a parade known as the "dragon dance" in Chinatown next Sunday from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. was granted by the Police Commission yesterday on recommendation of the Police and Fire Committee of the City Council.

Permission asked for the Fox West Coast Theaters to celebrate next Tuesday a film premiere at Grauman's Chinese Theater with an airplane laying a smoke screen over the Hollywood hills, a siren in another plane and routing of traffic one way on Vine street and Hollywood Boulevard left the commission in doubt as to its authority.

Commissioner Drake suggested "that the buck be passed to Chief of Police Steckel," which was done.

ASSESSMENTS CONFIRMED

The assessments for the sewering of Westwood Boulevard from Charnock Road to Venice Boulevard were confirmed yesterday by the City Council, while protests were denied against the improvement of streets in the Cresthaven Drive and Rosewood Terrace district. The hearing of protests against the improvement of the Sepulveda Boulevard and Parthenia street district was continued until November 19, next.

ORANGE-PEKOE
OUR FAVORITE TEA?
"ORANGE-PEKOE" is not a kind nor a flavor
Every one now knows that it is the trade name for a size of leaf resulting from the sifting process which tea undergoes in manufacture.
"Orange-Pekoe" are as various as thumbprints, depending on whether the leaves are picked and manufactured under Indian conditions and what country they grow in.
When you buy Orange-Pekoe tea, to be sure that you know you are getting Orange-Pekoe! And to be sure you are getting Indian Tea look for the Map of India mark on the package before you buy.

STUDENTS HERALD NEW VENTURE

Foreign Trade Class Group Attending Convention Here

THE boy and girl delegates from Richmond to the foreign-trade convention in Los Angeles are the advance guard of a new foreign-trade movement in the Northern California city.

The delegates — Lois Hutchison, Audra Wilson, Edward Horton and Walter Thomas — are students at the Richmond Union High School and are enrolled as students in the recently formed foreign-trade class.

Plans for inaugurating foreign trade studies in the schools originated through the Richmond Chamber of Commerce. With the cooperation of city authorities, the high-school board and faculty and certain shipping interests the youngsters are to receive not only "book learning" but actual knowledge of shipping conditions at first hand.

The plan has been organized into a student travel bureau headed by Aubrey Wilson of Richmond, and the trips are to be known as the Fred Parr scholarships, inasmuch as the idea originated with Parr.

The youthful delegates to the convention were taken to Los Angeles by P. M. Sanford, president of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce.

FOREIGN TRADE SESSION OPENS

President Hoover Sends His Greeting to Delegates

International Bank Purpose Explained by G. P. Auld

fact alone makes it inevitable that while danger of abuse of power will be small, so also will the possibility for constructive service be slow in arriving."

He pointed out that:

"The objects of the bank, as stated in its charter, are to 'promote the co-operation of central banks and to provide additional facilities for international financial operations, and to act as trustee or agent in regard to international financial settlements entrusted to it under agreements with the parties concerned.'

CAPITAL NEEDED

"Germany's ability to pay reparations is founded on the fruitfulness of her industry, and that industry will require from year to year large amounts of fresh capital," he said.

Speaking of reparations, Mr. Auld asserted:

"There has been some ill-considered talk in this country on the supposed dangers of the commercialization of the reparations debt in connection both with the issuance of reparation bonds and the gradual transformation of the debt into industrial obligations. The substance of the outcry is contained in the slogan, 'The American investor is holding the bag for the Allies.'

"It is true that the Allies are benefited by all this, but the fact is, the American taxpayer is the principal beneficiary. Two-thirds of the reparation payments will be remitted immediately to the United States Treasury on account of approximately $6,000,000,000 (present value of the annuities) owed by the European Allies to this country."

The speaker devoted attention to the proper control of the international bank.

HUMANE CONSIDERATIONS

In outlining the trade relationships with trans-Pacific nations Mr. Donovan said:

"Young China insists that within two years war will cease and great developments calling for money, men and material will follow."

He gave a version of the sentiment in Japan toward the United States. He urged the promotion of friendlier feelings between that country and this one, as well as harmonious sentiment between the United States and other trans-Pacific countries on the basis of a thoroughly human understanding of their psychology, customs and aspirations, and a promotion of brotherhood. He decried the conditions in Russia under soviet control. He spoke of soviet trade activities in this country and remarked:

"Meanwhile Communist organizations in the Northwest show sudden and vicious activity stimulated, undoubtedly, by cash from Moscow. I have photographic documentary proof of similar activity in China three years ago."

LATIN-AMERICAN TRADE

"The nationals of the United States have invested in Latin America more than $5,000,000,000," said Gen. Palmer E. Pierce, assistant to the president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey in addressing an afternoon group session at which he presided. This session was devoted to Latin-American trade details and the furtherance of amicable relationships with Latin-American countries.

"Their annual exports to the southern republics amount to more than $900,000,000 and imports from them to more than $1,000,000,000," he added.

"The huge sums being invested by the United States in Latin America do not result in mere 'exploitation of other countries.' These monies are used in the exploration and development of natural resources, and the production of goods and services."

In advocacy of a better understanding with the Latin-American countries the speaker called attention to the effort to "encourage the teaching of the Spanish and Portuguese languages in the United States, and of English in the Latin-American countries and to co-operate in so doing with the local English and Anglo-American institutions which are working toward this end."

TRADE WITH MEXICO

In discussing "Trade With Mexico," Raul G. Domingues, Mexican commercial attache, San Francisco, made an appeal for a sympathetic understanding of Mexican problems and the investment of capital in the development of Mexican resources.

"Opening Latin-American Markets," was discussed by Walter Parker, economist, Fenner & Beane, New York and New Orleans. He said that this country and the southern republics "have joint and common economic purposes to serve." He described developments going on in Latin-American countries that are of much interest to this country.

Richard P. Momsen of Momsen & Freeman, Rio de Janeiro, told of "the effect of our noncommercial activities in Latin America," and urged activities making for a better mutual understanding.

FREIGHT MAN HEARD

Joseph Lallande, general freight agent, Southern Pacific lines, New Orleans, discussed "Our Trade and Relations With the Central American Countries, Cuba and Mexico."

"In our relations with our Latin-American neighbors," he said, "and our efforts to increase trade, probably the most important factors to be considered are the temperament, customs and requirements of the people, which, in many respects, are different from our own, and to conform our practices to those of our neighbors, when seeking their trade and good will."

"The so-called 'go-getter' type of salesman who insists on the prospect signing on the dotted line at the first interview, has no place in the Latin-American countries."

He described shipping facilities and advised regarding packing requirements.

FOREIGN CREDITS

Another group session held yesterday in co-operation with the National Association of Credit Men, considered credits and credit information.

H. G. Brock, vice-president, Guaranty Trust Company of New York, took for his subject, "Ten Years of Foreign Credits, and the Immediate Outlook."

Foreign exchange which vitally bears on credits and collections "is much better known to exporters than it was ten years ago, so that well-informed exporters now consider this question in formulating their credit policies," said Mr. Brock.

"If the problems of the new era are to be successfully solved, closer co-operation among foreign credit executives in all branches of industry, and in all sections of the country, is essential," he said.

FRIENDSHIPS URGED

Henry M. Robinson, presiding at the convention dinner last night in the Sala De Oro, presented as speakers, E. W. Frazar, president of Frazar & Co., Tokio; P. B. Fowler, president, Victoria, British Columbia, Chamber of Commerce; Gov. Judd of Hawaii; Eric Louw, minister from the Union of South Africa to the United States; Capt. Robert Dollar and Mayor Stoney of Charlestown, S. C. The benefits resulting from mutual understanding between nations and the importance of foreign trade relations were described. Mr. Louw especially emphasized the importance of imports in trade reciprocity.

Greetings were expressed to the convention via a specially prepared movietone presentation, by Kyucho Hijikata, governor of the Bank of Japan, and Baron Takuma Dan, secretary of the Mitsui Trust Company. They were introduced via the talking film, by W. E. Castle, American Ambassador to Japan. music by an Hawaiian orchestra was through the courtesy of the Hawaiian delegation which also presented leis to all attending.

WIVES IN MAKE-BELIEVE WORLD

Women of Foreign Trade Council Convention Begin Busy Whirl of Activities With Call at Breakfast Club and Tour of Hollywood Picture Industry

Foreign trade problems were the least of the concerns of about 150 wives of delegates to the National Foreign Trade Council convention, as they started upon a three-day whirl of activities yesterday under the guidance of Mrs. John D. Fredericks, chairman of the women's entertainment.

Their first port of call was at the Breakfast Club, where they were initiated into the mysteries of the ham-and-egg society, after which they returned to their headquarters at the Biltmore to make preparations for "going Hollywood" for the remainder of the day.

They were guests at the Paramount Studios, where M. C. Levee, executive manager, acted as their host on a tour of inspection that included all of the departments of the picture-making industry and visits to a number of sets where the filming was in process. A special luncheon was arranged for them at noon, presided. Assisting him were several stars from the Paramount lots, among them Maurice Chevalier, Gary Cooper, Rosita Moreno, Jeanette McDonald, Cyril Maude, Jack Buchanan and Leon Errol.

Late in the afternoon the ladies returned to the hotel and in the evening attended an informal dinner for both the men and women visitors.

Today the program includes a motor drive through the residential district of Pasadena, a visit to San Gabriel Mission, luncheon at the Huntington Hotel and the afternoon in the Huntington Art Gallery and Library.

Assisting Mrs. Fredericks with the entertainment of the guests are Mmes. John C. Porter, John G. Bullock, William Lacy, Arthur Bent, George L. Eastman, E. A. Dickson, C. C. Hine, Eugene C. Haskell, O. P. Clark, James C. O'Neill, Alphonso Bell, W. L. Honnold, W. A. Moses, Clarence Matson, J. A. H. Kerr, A. Schleicher, Dyer B. Holmes, Bessie Ochs and Miss Ada Dryden.

TRADE MEETING DRAWS VETERAN

Capt. Robert Dollar Attends All Sessions

African Delegate Awarded Long Trip Prize

Manufacturer Warned of Poor Foreign Agents

Outstanding among other delegates to the national foreign trade convention which started its sessions yesterday, was the white-haired figure of Capt. Robert Dollar, venerable dean of Pacific Coast shipmasters and operator of one of the largest steamship organizations in the world.

CAPT. ROBERT DOLLAR.

Capt. Dollar was in attendance yesterday at every meeting of the convention, visited a number of committee meetings and in the few slack moments was busy greeting friends in the lobby of the Biltmore with an enthusiasm that would do credit to a man fifty years his junior.

ONE FROM AFRICA

George Birk, one of the delegates to the convention, was yesterday given the honor, following a check of registrations, as having traveled the greatest distance to attend the conference. Mr. Birk, vice-president of the United States Chamber of Commerce at Johannesburg, South Africa, is an American but has been a resident of South Africa since 1903. He said yesterday he had come to the convention with something of the spirit of a crusader.

"I wish there was something I could do," Mr. Birk said, "to convince American manufacturers that it is good business to send a higher type of representative abroad and to be more careful in the selection of their resident agents.

"While it is pretty generally true throughout the world, I find, particularly in South Africa, that many American firms who might otherwise do a good volume of business handicap themselves by the type of men they send to represent them."

OPPORTUNITIES CITED

The United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce has divisions willing and ready with a mass of trade information to aid any American manufacturer to establish products in foreign sales, Eric King of the bureau's Washington staff assigned to the novelties division, said there were many opportunities for manufacturers of small wares usually classed as novelties to find good markets abroad.

"Many of our returning tourists display highly prized souvenirs purchased abroad that are really made in this country," he said. He added, however, that the souvenir trade was not one that would add much to the export total of the country, but used that example to point out the possibility for the smaller manufacturer to find eager buyers in foreign lands for American - made products.

Farrell and Dollar Head Party at Fete

James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, and Capt. Robert Dollar, dean of American shipping men, headed a group of more than 200 leaders of the Foreign Trade Convention who were guests of the Breakfast Club yesterday morning, at which Orra E. Monnette and Edward L. Doheny were hosts.

In a brief address Mr. Farrell congratulated Los Angeles on her "energy, enthusiasm and imagination, which I must plead guilty to having caught myself since my company bought a steel plant out here."

Capt. Dollar launched an eloquent plea for international friendship as the best means of ending race conflict and all war, while Mr. Monnette took a moment at the microphone to prophesy that the Los Angeles water-bond vote will mark a new era of prosperity and development for this city.

ALUMNI WILL MEET

The annual meeting and election of officers for the local branch of alumni of Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., will take place in the University Club tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. J. L. Freeman is president and R. P. Hill, secretary. About 100 of the alumni are here, Freeman said.

IDAHO PARTY WILL ARRIVE HERE TODAY

Gov. Baldridge at Head of Traveling Delegation; Two-Day Stay Planned

Headed by Gov. Baldridge, a party of about seventy-five of the leading citizens of Idaho, which is making a good-will tour of California, will arrive here this morning for a two-day stay, during which they are to be entertained by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Idahoans will be officially welcomed by representatives of the chamber on their arrival at Central Station at 9 a.m., and then taken to the Biltmore. An hour after arrival they will be taken on tour through the Vernon and Central Manufacturing districts and the Los Angeles Union Stockyards.

At noon Vice-President McNaughton and the directors of the stockyards will be hosts to the party at a luncheon at the Central Manufacturing District Club. After the luncheon they are to leave for the harbor by way of Long Beach and the oil fields and then will be taken aboard the U.S.S. Idaho. Their return trip will be via the beach cities, Beverly Hills and Hollywood.

Tomorrow they are to attend a luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce where they will meet many leading business men of this city and former Idaho business men. During the afternoon they will be guests at downtown clubs and golf courses. Tomorrow evening former residents of Idaho will entertain the party at a reception and dance at Veterans Hall, 246 South Hill street.

WOMAN LAWYER WILL RUN FOR JUDGESHIP

Attorney Ida May Adams announced her candidacy for Superior Court judge yesterday with a statement declining an invitation of the Los Angeles Bar Association to submit her name to the association for a plebiscite vote of the members. She is a candidate for the office held by Superior Judge Arthur Keetch. Three other candidates have also filed for the same office.

SCRAP STEEL MEN PICK OFFICERS FOR NEW UNIT

Morris Davidson of the M. Davidson Company, Stockton, was elected president of the newly formed Pacific Coast chapter of the Institute of Scrap Iron and Steel, Inc., at the gathering of scrap steel men at the Biltmore yesterday afternoon. Thirty-five charter members joined the association.

I. J. Miller of the Eureka Supply Company, Los Angeles, was elected chairman of the executive board. The Pacific Coast chapter embraces the States of California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Utah, Arizona, Colorado, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming and New Mexico. The object of the organization is to conserve the scrap steel supply and to form and maintain suitable markets on the Pacific Coast where the steel mills use 100 per cent scrap steel in fabrication.

Benjamin Schwartz, director-general of the institute, presided at the organization of the chapter and the election of the officers. Other officers elected include S. Smith of John W. Smith Company, San Francisco, first vice-president; H. Neider of Neider & Marcus, Seattle, second vice-president; L. Finkelstein of the Finkelstein Foundry and Supply Company, Los Angeles, third vice-president; Samuel Tuch of Pennsylvania Iron and Steel Company, Los Angeles, secretary, and Sam Bernstein of the Los Angeles Junk Company, treasurer.

The executive board will consist of the officers and the following: L. Rothenberg of American Iron and Metal Company, Oakland; O. Goldblatt of R. Rosenberg & Sons, Sacramento; M. Tannenbaum of Southern California Metals and Rubber Company, Los Angeles, and N. Nathan of East Bay Iron and Metal Company, Oakland.

EXTORTION QUIZ TO OPEN TODAY

Melosh Charges to be Given to Grand Jury

Suspect's Wife and Another Pair Now Sought

Trio Wanted by Government on Two Counts

Information concerning the $25,000 extortion plot involving threats of death against four local politicians and stock brokers in which Harry Melosh, former figure in the Aimee Semple McPherson kidnaping case, was arrested, is to be placed before the grand jury today, the District Attorney's office announced last night.

While preparing for grand jury action against Melosh on charges of sending and delivering a threatening letter with intent to extort, the investigators began a search for Mrs. Melosh, also known as Babe Daniels, and Mr. and Mrs. William Oliver Brent.

The trio, according to Assistant Investigator Jack Chriss, is sought in connection with a Federal investigation that centers at Detroit in which smuggling and violation of the Immigration Act and the Dyer Act are asserted to have been committed.

The Meloshs are asserted to have aided the Brents in coming to the United States from Canada and bringing valuable furs, Chriss says. Theft of an automobile at Detroit and its removal to California also is involved, Chriss declares.

Mrs. Melosh and the Brents are asserted to have been residents at an apartment at 4813 Gramercy Place, where Melosh was arrested in connection with threatening letters sent to A. W. Morris, a broker, Charles Crawford and Kent Parrot, politicians, and Jack Friedlander, former Corporation Commissioner, demanding $35,000.

Melosh in the County Jail under $15,000 bond denies the charges. He with his wife, the former Mrs. Daniels, became connected with the McPherson case when they said they were retained to manufacture evidence relating to the notorious Carmel cottage episode, but their story later was exposed as a fabrication.

Ruling Given in Fight Over Appeal Bonds

Information was received yesterday by Russell Graham, attorney for Peter Conley, recently sentenced to six and one-half years at McNeil Island Federal prison for violation of the national prohibition act, that the $12,000 bond given by Conley on appeal will not have to cover also the payment of a fine of $7500, according to a decision of the Circuit Court of Appeal at San Francisco.

A similar ruling was given regarding the $6000 appeal bond of Herman F. Quirin, who was sentenced to two and one-half years in prison and to pay a fine of $1000. The Circuit Court ruled that the bonds will stand as appeal bonds and not to guarantee payment of the fines.

DEAL REVEALED IN SHAPIRO SUIT

Agreement Cited in Action Against Mrs. Oesterrich

Personal and Real Property Held by Latter Involved

Court Continues Hearing of Case Until Next August

That there was an agreement relative to personal and real property between Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich and Attorney Herman S. Shapiro, made in February, 1928, was revealed late yesterday when a suit filed against her by Shapiro on December 24, 1928, bobbed up for hearing in the court of Superior Judge Blake, and was continued until August 5, next. Mrs. Oesterreich is incarcerated at the County Jail on a charge of murdering her husband, Fred Oesterreich, wealthy garment maker. Shapiro will be a material witness at the coming murder trial.

The complaint in the action instituted against Mrs. Oesterreich by the attorney asks for a judgment of $26,400.12.

The attorney declares that the defendant agreed to assign to him all of her rights in claims against the Home Fire and Marine Insurance Company for losses sustained by the burning of the Oesterreich Manufacturing Company at Milwaukee and that he be subrogated to all of the defendant's rights to recover on the policies she held. He asserts that he believed the claims amounted to $38,900.12. He further asserts that he later learned that all of the claims except one for $2500 had been barred by the provisions of the policies and the laws of Wisconsin.

In her answer to the action, Mrs. Oesterreich asserts that Shapiro is the one who breached the terms of the agreement she had with him. She also contends that one provision of the agreement read as follows:

"That the parties henceforth mutually refrain and their agents, attorneys and representatives likewise refrain from harassing, molesting or interfering with the personal liberty of said parties."

Mrs. Oesterreich further asserts that since February 28, 1928, Shapiro has continuously harassed and molested her. She contends that Shapiro broke the "harassing" provision of their agreement when he caused Mrs. Genevieve Hedrick to start a suit for the alienation of the affections of her husband, Ray B. Hedrick, against her. She declares the action was given wide publicity in the newspapers and was brought for the purpose of harassing her.

Mrs. Oesterreich was represented by Attorney Meyer M. Willner when her answer was filed.

WOMAN ESCAPES CHARGES

Drunk-driving charges against Mrs. Ruth Christie, 1263 Huntington Drive, Pasadena, were dismissed yesterday by Municipal Judge Bullock. Although police surgeons testified that the woman was drunk when examined shortly after her arrest at College and North Main street, the prosecution was unable to establish that she was driving her automobile.

ANGELENO MAY SHARE IN FORTUNE

Max Goldberg Checking on Possible Relationship to New York Shirt King

Max Goldberg of Los Angeles may inherit part of the $140,000,000 in the estate left by Sir John Goldberg, who died in New York a few days ago, leaving 2500 shirt stores scattered over the Empire State.

Mr. Goldberg, who lives with his family at 1148 Court street and who runs a clothing store at 336 North Main street, first heard of the situation through reading articles in Jewish newspapers of Chicago and New York. They told of the death of Sir John Goldberg and suggested that it might be to the interest of the bachelor shirt king's relatives to make themselves known.

"My attorney, J. Mandel, is getting in touch with New York authorities and the managers of Goldberg's stores," said Mr. Goldberg yesterday. "It is possible that I am an heir to some of this vast fortune. I am the only Goldberg I know of who came from Brzese-Litewski, Poland, the town in which Sir John Goldberg was born. Often I have heard my father tell of his cousin, John Goldberg, who left Brzese in early youth to go to America, but who never had been heard from. The shirt king had lived in New York for the last forty years. Evidently he made good, saw no reason why he should not give himself a title and prefixed the 'sir' to his name."

Laundryowners' Association to Convene Today

Five hundred delegates, the largest registration in the history of the industry, are expected at the eighteenth annual convention of Laundryowners' Association of California, which opens at the Biltmore today. President George A. Miller announced yesterday.

GEORGE A. MILLER

Mayor Porter will welcome the laundryowners to Los Angeles at the opening session this morning and Dr. Walter F. Dexter, president of Whittier College, will give the principal address on "Why We Are What We Are."

The Thursday afternoon and Friday sessions will consist of a series of round table discussions.

The entertainment for the women will consist of a fashion show and tea at Bullock's Wilshire, Thursday; a bridge-luncheon at the California Country Club, Friday, and a visit to the Huntington Library and Art Gallery, following a luncheon at the Vista del Arroyo, Saturday. The Rancho Golf Club is the battle ground for the annual golf tournament.

The convention will close on Saturday night with a banquet and ball in the Sala d'Oro of the Biltmore.

Retired Arizona Merchant Ends Life With Slash

After slashing his throat yesterday, C. W. Beard, 56 years of age, retired business man, ran from his son's home at 8015 South Figueroa street and collapsed, dying in an ambulance on the way to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, police report. C. A. Beard, the son with whom he had lived, told police his father suffered a nervous breakdown a month ago, and had been despondent since.

Beard was a business man in Phoenix, Ariz., retiring a year ago and coming here with his wife to live with their son.

MANY NATIONS REPRESENTED

he has been for eight years representative for the Stetson Company, and president of the United Importing Company, and James A. Ferrell, Jr., president of the American-South African Line, New York and Cape Town.

From the Dutch East Indies are J. C. H. Ferguson of the old-time concern of O. Dunkerbeck & Co. of Soerabaya and San Francisco, who will speak on "Trading With the Netherlands-East Indies," and Walter A. Foote, United States Consul at Medan, Sumatra, and C. Winkler, Pacific Coast manager of the Java-Pacific Line.

Coming nearer home, three of the principal railroads in Great Britain are represented by George S. Tate, assistant to the freight traffic manager of the London, Midland and Scottish Railway; A. E. Le Cheminant, assistant general agent of the Great Western Railroad, and E. O. Lloyd, freight agent of the London and North Eastern Railway. Other British interests are taken care of by George M. Massey, American representative of the Manchester Ship Canal Company, and A. B. Sweezey of the Cunard Steamship Company.

From France two distinguished representatives include Edward A. Sumner, vice-president of the American Chamber of Commerce in Paris, and European representative of the American Radiator Company, and Fayette W. Allport, American commercial attache in Paris.

From Germany delegates are meeting Hans Engel, general representative of the German National Railroads, and E. Von Ascheberg, assistant manager of the Northern Pacific Service of the Hamburg-American Line.

LATIN AMERICA

Delegates from Latin America include Richard P. Monsen, former president of the Chamber of Commerce in Rio de Janeiro; Ralph R. Ackerman, American attache, and Milton T. Houghton, assistant trade commissioner at Santiago, Chile; Matthew Molanphy, general manager of the America and Cuba Terminal Company of Havana; Harold J. Charlwood, traffic manager of the American and Cuban Steamship Line; Merwin L. Bohan, United States commercial attache in Guatemala; Victor Du Gund, president of the Colombia-California Corporation of Bogota and San Francisco; Jose Figueroa, manager of the Figueroa y de la Mora, Mexico City; Manuel Mayo Barrenchea, delegate of Confederated Chambers of Commerce of Mexico; William O. Moler, American representative Compania Fundidora de Fierro y Acero, Monterrey, Mex.

Three interesting delegates from Australasia are George Scarff, president of Scarff Stores in Sydney; Earl C. Square, United States Trade Commissioner in Sydney, and J. W. Collins, newly appointed trade commissioner to the United States from the Dominion of New Zealand.

FROM IRELAND

And last, but not least, representatives from Ireland at the convention include Lindsay Crawford, former Irish Free State agent in New York City, and Thomas D. Bowman, United States Consul-General at Belfast.

Canadians have been attending these conventions for many years. Among representatives this year are Ward B. Perley, president Canadian Steel Corporation, Ltd., Onbway, Ont.; Alex Marshall, manager commercial intelligence department, Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Toronto; E. C. Spalding, foreign freight agent of the Canadian National Railways, from Vancouver; H. R. Poussette, Canadian government trade commissioner in San Francisco; R. P. Holt, president of Chamber of Commerce at Victoria, B. C.; H. R. Beeman, foreign trade secretary of the Vancouver Board of Trade; Capt. Flanagan of Toronto, general manager of the Andean Oil Company; Ely E. Palmer, United States Consul-General at Vancouver; William J. Coulthard, vice-president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce of Montreal; G. T. Eaton of the Bank of Montreal, and A. C. Stevens, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in California.

SALARY-EARNING WIFE'S NONSUPPORT PLEA FAILS

If a wife goes out and works and earns enough money to support herself she is not entitled to a divorce on the grounds of nonsupport, Superior Judge Mahon ruled yesterday when he denied a decree to Mrs. Katherine G. Creme, asking for a legal separation from Lewis M. Creme.

One of the wife's complaints was that her husband stayed out late at night. Another was that he was addicted to gambling.

"As for the man's gambling," the judge declared, "it's a bad practice. I don't approve of it, but that is not extreme cruelty. A great many persons may gamble, now and then, and some stay out late at night. Men have to put up with things that their wives do, why shouldn't the women put up with some of the things the men do?"

Attorney Ernest U. Schroeter, counsel for Mrs. Creme, endeavored to argue the matter, but Judge Mahon said:

"I am a little bit old-fashioned and I deny divorces right along."

Judge Mahon also denied a divorce decree to Mrs. Ava Cravens in her suit against Lloyd O. Cravens, architect, of San Diego. He also denied an annulment in the case of Mrs. Naomi La Vere against James La Vere, who, she asserted, has deserted from the United States Army.

Bar Group to Hear Historian

The dinner meeting of the Los Angeles Bar Association will be held tonight at the Alexandria with Dr. William B. Munro, historian and educator, as speaker. He will talk on "The World Court and America's Relation to It." Honor guests will include the judiciary campaign committee, presidents of bar associations throughout the county, and candidates for Superior Court offices. Norman A. Bailie, president, will preside.

Solon Moundsman Twirls 5-to-2 Victory

Speedy Fielding Enables Sacs to Collect

Senators Take Early Lead and Breeze Home

SACRAMENTO, May 21.—Los Angeles was stopped, 5 to 2, today by Ray Keating, the Sacramento spitball tosser, and the Senators evened up the week's series at one game apiece to remain in the top spot in the league.

RAY KEATING.

The Angels touched Keating for ten blows, and many of them were inning openers, but Keating bore down in the pinches and eased out of several tight holes, principally through staunch support by the Solons afield.

Ray Jacobs, by way of example, opened the second inning with a triple, but on Haney's fast grass clipper to short Ray French made a neat stop and a perfect heave to get the runner at the plate. A sensational catch by Lennie Backer of a line drive in the ninth also spared Keating some last-minute embarrassment.

Clyde Barfoot yielded thirteen hits and five of those were bunched in the seventh inning, but, strange to relate, these five hits resulted in but one run and that was a home run by Frank Osborn, the first man at the bat in the inning. Rohwer followed with a single and a double play wiped him out. The next three batters singled but merely filled the bases.

Los Angeles scored a run in the first inning when Sigafoos doubled and trotted home on two infield

Portland and Hollywood will play a double-header today at Wrigley Field, starting at 1:30. The extra contest is necessitated by a rained-out game in the recent series in the North. Manager Oscar Vitt expects to use "Lefty" Johns and "Buzz" Wetzel, while Larry Woodall probably will send Carl Mays and Curtis Fullerton to the mound for the visitors.

WOODS TO PICK FIGHT REFEREE

Commissioner to Settle Shade, Hudkins Squabble

BY KAY OWE

Commissioner Jim Woods will be called back from San Francisco within a few days to settle a controversy which developed yesterday over naming the referee for the Dave Shade-Ace Hudkins middleweight bout at the Olympic next Tuesday night.

JAMES E. WOODS

Shade sent in word yesterday to the Olympic that he wanted the referee named forty-eight hours ahead of the bout. Hudkins also objects to several referees. Both fighters will hand a list of names in to the commission stating preferences.

It is said the only referee both fighters agree on is Billy Burke of Oakland. Shade is against Lieut. Jack Kennedy's round-by-round pointing to the corner. Kennedy refereed two of Shade's bouts with Joe Anderson, giving Anderson a decision the first time and calling the last one a draw.

The Shade-Hudkins bout is attracting national interest. The winner is pretty sure to box Mickey Walker either here or in the East. Kearns wants the fight in Los Angeles while Shade, if he wins, thinks Detroit will get the bout.

Shade hasn't shaved since he went into camp at Soper's ranch and looks like a tougher man than even the Wildcat. Frankie Camp-

American Delegate Opposes Girls Being Barred

Peaceful Ending Predicted by Former President

Hirshfeld's Shot Put Mark Officially Accepted

A complete report of plans and details for staging the Olympic Games in Los Angeles in 1932 as reported by William May Garland, representing the organizing committee, appears on Page 1, Part I.

BERLIN, May 21. (AP)—Battling for retention of women's track-and-field events in the Olympic Games, the International Amateur Athletic Federation indicated today it would go so far as to declare a walk-out of all male athletes if its demands are not met.

The federation at its closing session this afternoon adopted a resolution proposed by the American delegate, Gustavus T. Kirby of New York, providing that the I.A.A.F. shall remain in Berlin in recess ready to be reconvened in case the International Olympic Congress meeting here next week turns thumbs down on feminine competition.

What action would be taken in such a case was not stated in the resolution, but it was understood that recalling the I.A.A.F. into session would mean voting to withdraw from the Olympics.

Abandonment of the feminine track-and-field events, which were inaugurated in the Amsterdam Olympics of 1928, would be accepted by the federation only on condition that all other women's competition such as fencing and swimming should be eliminated. Acquiescence then would be given with keen regret.

That such drastic measures probably will not be necessary, however, was indicated by Murray Hulbert, former president of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, who joined Kirby in leading the fight.

Hulbert pointed out to the Associated Press that the Olympic committee's policy is to defer to the wishes of the country that plays host to the next Olympic Games—in this case the United States, which is strongly in favor of allowing the girls to compete at Los Angeles in 1932. He added that France, England, Italy and Hungary appear to

TROJANS READY FOR TRIP EAST

Dopes 38 Points for Local Runners in Meet

Stanford Has Classy Crew from Last Season

Inspired by their coach's confidence, twenty Trojan track athletes will board the Golden State Limited tomorrow night, bound for Boston and the I.C.A.A.A.A. track championships.

DEAN CROMWELL

Dean B. Cromwell, the veteran S.C. mentor, has expressed a belief that his runners, if they perform up to their best marks, can score enough points to win—35 digits being the required number in recent years. Here's how he has it doped:

Wykoff and Maurer, 6 in the 100.

Williams and Woessner, possibly 1 in the 440, although this point goes in the "lucky" column.

McGeagh, 1, or possibly 2, in the 880.

Halstead and Hansen, 3 in the mile.

Walsh a question mark in the high hurdles.

Payne and Carls, 6 or 7 in the lows.

Bob Hall, 4 in the discus, and 1 in the shot.

Jim Stewart and Bob Van Osdel, 7 in the high jump.

Livingston, Hubbard and Chleniss, 2 in the pole vault.

Paul and Barber, 3 in the broad jump.

Capt. Jess Mortensen and Snider, 4 in the javelin.

That's 38 points. Stanford has 28 of its 45 points back from last year, but hasn't prospects of anything else.

BAM-BAM-BAMBINO

Yes it's Babe Ruth, Sultan of Swat, who established another home-run record yesterday when he hit three circuit clouts in one game for the third time in his career. Ruth became the first major leaguer ever to accomplish this feat by nicking George Earnshaw for two and Bob Grove for one. Despite the Bambino's heavy hitting the Yankees lost both ends of the double-header to the World's Champion Athletics.

Mackmen Collect Both Ends of Double-header

Earnshaw Nicked for Two Homers; Grove One

PHILADELPHIA, May 21. (AP)—Before 20,000 fans the champion Philadelphia Athletics turned back the New York Yankees in both games of a double-header today. Although Babe Ruth added one more record to his home-run hitting feats by connecting for three circuit blows, the Mackmen won the first game, 15 to 7. Rube Walberg pitched them to a 4-to-1 victory in the second.

GEORGE EARNSHAW

Ruth became the first major league player to hit three home runs in a game on three different occasions by nicking George Earnshaw for two on his first two trips to the plate and getting another off Bob Grove in the eighth inning. But the Athletics wiped out a six-run lead and won the game by rallying for nine runs in the seventh.

Ruth's three homers gave him the American League lead with nine for the season while Jimmy Foxx took second place by hitting his eighth.

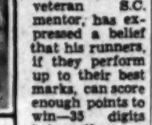
UNITED STATES AND MEXICO MIX TODAY IN CUP PLAY

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—The United States' youthful Davis Cup team ruled heavy favorite tonight in the opening of zone play with Mexico tomorrow at the Chevy Chase club for the honor of carrying America's tennis hopes abroad for a third successive year. The luck of the draw today placed George Lott, II, of Chicago, against Ignacio de la Bobolla, former Mexican singles champion, for the opening of play tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. (eastern standard time.) Wilmer Allison, of Austin, Tex., will meet Ricardo Tapia, the present Mexican singles champion, in the second match.

LEONARD PUTS SHARKEY THROUGH CRUCIAL TEST; 'GREAT,' LAUDS BENNAH

BY BENNY LEONARD
Retired Undefeated Lightweight Champion of the World

ORANGEBURG (N. Y.) May 21. (NANA)—I have boxed with Jack Sharkey and now I know why he is called an "in-and-outer."



BENNY LEONARD

Sharkey is one of the cleverest big men I ever encountered in the ring. The one thing that impressed me more than anything else in my set-to with him was the fact that he did not fall for a feint.

In my days in the ring I used to feint lightweights into leads or into false positions. In my boxing with Sharkey I tried these feints and the gob did not fall for them. You might think that was my fault—that I had lost my cunning as a feinter. This may be true, but I doubt it, because, figuring on just this same thing, I boxed four rounds the day previous with some young light boxers and found that I was able to fool them by feinting.

The test of a really good boxer is to feint him and see how he responds. If he falls for it and throws his guard to protect himself against the expected blow, you know he is not a good boxer. The boys that I tried my feinting on were easily fooled. Sharkey, however, apparently knew exactly what to do and I found it extremely difficult to feint him into an opening.

Without wasting words, I want to tell you that I believe Sharkey is the best heavyweight boxer the ring has seen since the days of the great Negro, Jack Johnson. I know this may sound egotistical, perhaps, because I was unable to feint him into an opening, but I merely am telling you the facts.

After I had finished boxing with Sharkey, just to convince myself, I boxed a round with King Solomon and I discovered that the King could be fooled by my feinting, whereas Sharkey could not. Therefore, I am

Leading Southern California Swimmers and Divers Set for A.A.U. Meet Tomorrow Night

CRABBE OUT TO BREAK RECORD

Buster Plans to Go After 500-Yard Mark

Plenty of Competition is Promised Youngster

Olive Hatch Favored to Cop 100-Yard Dash

Leading swimmers and divers of Southern California took their final workouts last night in readiness for tomorrow's championship district A.A.U. aquatic meet, to be held at the Los Angeles A. C. plunge, starting at 8:15 p.m.

BUSTER CRABBE

Clarence "Buster" Crabbe, king of America's middle distance paddlers, appeared in perfect condition yesterday and is all set for his assault upon the world 500-yard record. The 500-yard mark for a long course tank is 5m. 47.8s. and is held by John Weissmuller, while Arne Borg holds the short course record of 5m. 31.4s.

During the past year Crabbe has won seven national championships and there are few swimmers of the world who can come close to him over most any distance. However, 500 yards is one of his best events, although he holds world records for both the 1500 meters and one mile.

Buster's competition tomorrow will be supplied by Frank Walton and MacMiller of Hollywood A.C., Oscar Simmons of U.S.C. and Herb Barthels, Frank Woods and Tex Robertson of the L.A.A.C.

The competition in the men's ten-foot springboard diving will be exceptionally keen between Mickey and John Riley, Dutch Smith and Farid Simaika, all of whom have won national championships.

Olive Hatch is the favorite to outdistance the field in the women's free style 100-yard dash, another championship event. There will also be a men's handicap 100-yard dash and exhibition diving by Georgia Coleman and little Joy Crew, the midget marvel.

bell joined the camp yesterday to start training for the Tom Kirby bout June 3.

Roy Moore, a heavy middleweight, has been bearing the brunt of most of Shade's real punching. Moore is almost a ringer for Hudkins in both looks and mauling style of fighting.

Larry Morrison, Shade's trainer, is using the system of having Shade box a fresh sparring partner each round with only a half-minute rest period. Due to his weight Shade will do roadwork only every other day. He is down to 161 and can dry out close to 158 pounds overnight.

Hudkins has added Eddie Burnbrook and Jose Peregrina to his list of sparring partners. He is punching harder than he ever did before. Neither Shade nor Hudkins will leave their camps until next Monday.

The supporting card will be: Tom Morgan vs. Roy Moore, Willie Fausto vs. Jack Stephens, Henry Rollins vs. Manuel Davilo and Marcelino Lomeli vs. Frankie Diaz.

OFFICIALS APPOINTED FOR GYMNASTIC MEET

Officials for the National A. A. U. gymnastic championships, to be held June 6 at the Olympic Auditorium, were named last night by the committee in charge of the tournament.

The list includes leading physical directors, coaches and A.A.U. officials of Southern California.

Rope climb—

Reserve judges—J. Dudly Clark and Paul Kendzia.

HOLLYWOOD SWIMMERS WIN OVER GONDOLIERS

The Hollywood High School swimming team won a 51-to-31 victory over the Venice High swimmers yesterday in a meet held in the Gondoliers' pool. Hagley of Hollywood was high-point man of the affair, winning the fifty-yard free style and the 100-yard free style sprints for a total of 10 points. His team-mates, Dexter and Hall, each accounted for a first and second place to aid in the scoring.

HYMIE MILLER WINS OVER BOZO KAMISHER

Hymie Miller took a six-round decision over Bozo Kamisher in the main event at Ocean Park last night. In the six-round semi-windup Johnny Gardino outpointed Leo Domingo. Pat Yanko knocked out Joe Archineaga in the fifth round of the special event. Benny Stein and Johnny Schumaker battled four rounds to a draw in one of the preliminaries, while Jimmy Williams stopped Bud Jones in the fourth round of the opener.

MORINO WINS SCRAP

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21. (AP)—Babe Morino won a ten-round decision here tonight over Charley Fernandez in a vicious battle at National Hall. They are local rival junior welterweights.

The Big Three Under Fire

IT SO happens that the United States now has its three greatest amateurs either attacking or getting ready to attack in the European zone. These three are Helen Wills, or Mrs. Moody, Bill Tilden and Bobby Jones. The first two have been under fire this week. The latter begins action next Monday. Helen Wills is without argument the best woman tennis player the United States ever developed, Bill Tilden the best all-around tennis player and Bobby Jones the best golfer.

With the warfare under way Helen Wills and Bobby Jones have the invaluable advantage of eight or ten years on the lanky Tilden, who is, however, still riding the years like an Earl Sande on a derby winner. Helen Wills hasn't the competition the others face, but in one way it has been her own powerful game that dropped the others so far down the list. Still, there is no female Cochet waiting in her path.

If it were not for one man—Henri Cochet—Bill Tilden might finish his season as the champion of the world, and he may give even Cochet a flock of trouble before the summer ends.

Jones has a tougher game to beat. He outclasses his field in the coming amateur so far as Helen Wills outclasses hers, but the twists, whims, swirls and vagaries of golf refuse to give any master the right of way.

No Jump Team Yet

May is soon coming to a close without any team strong enough to jump the field in either major league.

Dominating qualities which the Athletics and Cubs showed last season have failed to develop. Four other clubs have insisted on taking part in the pennant pursuit of the National League, the same being Brooklyn, New York, St. Louis and Pittsburgh. Washington, Cleveland and New York seem to feel the same way about the American League.

When affairs finally settle down the Cubs look to be in for a rougher scramble than the Athletics. They will have their share of trouble ahead with the Dodgers, Giants, Cardinals and possibly the Pirates. One or two of these clubs might slip, but there will always be one or two hanging around most of the summer.

When the two pennant winners from last year settle down to the summer grind they may still pull through, but there will be no such runaway romping as the summer of 1929 offered.

All Alone Tolan

Tolan, the Michigan sprinter, now stands all alone where a group once inhabited the 9 3-5 mark for the hundred.

They were traveling the hundred in this time as far back as the running days of Bernie Wefers and Arthur Duffy. Drew, Paddock, Kelly and others came along and then Paddock turned out the dash in 9⅕, but the fastest human ran his race too soon. There were no split seconds then down to a tenth. Tolan was the first to run the distance in 9⅕ without starting blocks so the maize and blue can now claim the world's record holder at 100 yards.

It will be interesting to see what Simpson, Leland, Claude Bracey and a few others can do to this time later on. They now have an official mark to shoot at. But there are always so many conditions to figure in such as official timing and lack of a favoring breeze, that setting a new record needs both speed and luck. Yet there are more fast sprinters around today than the running game has ever known and one of them may hit right conditions when he is at the peak.

"Watch," writes a Cub rooter, "what will happen when Malone, Bush, Blake, Carlson, Root and one or two more Cub pitchers swing into their stride. At just this point the pennant race will be over." This may sound logical enough but any one who springs it in Brooklyn at just this moment will get what is technically known as the hoarse hoot.

Full many a dub of purest ray serene

The slogan in Brooklyn now is practically as follows—"I'd rather be Glenn Wright than be President."

Mass., the 30th and 31st inst. Two other athletes are listed as possibilities to make the trip. The Card team will leave from the Oakland Mole Friday afternoon on the San Francisco Limited. Following are the track and field stars who will definitely make the eastern trip: Dyer, Gilberson and Howell, sprints; Morrison and Shove, quarter-mile; Smith, hurdles; Krenz, Rothert, Grey and Fleishhacker, weights; Perry, pole vault; Dowell, West, and Butler, broad jump; Jones in the weights and Nesbit in the barriers may also be included in the Card personnel, Templeton indicated today.

Johnny Morrison, the speedy Stanford 440 man whose injured thigh kept him out of the California intercollegiate last Saturday, was declared to be in a fine fettle today and will definitely be in the running in the great eastern meet next week.

BABE HUNT BEATS CARROLL

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) May 21. (AP)—Babe Hunt, Ponca City (Okla.) heavyweight, won a ten-round decision over Jeff Carroll, Biloxi, Miss., here tonight in the second bout between them in the last year. Hunt previously defeated Carroll on a technical knockout.

LOU DARO SEEKING MAT STAR

Local Promoter Wants to Bill Wycoff, Former Grid Star at Georgia Tech

Promoter Lou Daro yesterday was seeking another of the younger heavyweight mat sensations to appear on the wrestling card planned for the Olympic next Wednesday night.

The new grappler, who has been winning his matches in spectacular style through the East and Middle West, is Douglas Wycoff, who played fullback for Georgia Tech during 1923, 1924 and 1925. He captained the Yellow Jackets during his last year. In 1923 he was named by the late Walter Camp as one of the outstanding fullbacks of the year, and he received the same recognition the two following years.

Daro hopes to bring him to Los Angeles to appear in the match beneath the finish bout between Nick Lutze and Don George that will top next Wednesday's mat card. Lutze is scheduled to arrive from San Francisco today to go into heavy training at Venice. George has opened his training camp at Long Beach and is working on a series of new holds to use in this battle.

Home Runs Win for Missions

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21. (AP)—San Francisco's Missions had the bulge on home runs today so they defeated Seattle's Indians, 3-2. The visitors took the lead in the first frame when Johnson singled and scored on Knothe's four-base drive. The Missions tied it up in the fourth on Rodda's single and Monroe's homer and George Burns broke the tie in the seventh with a circuit swat into the left-field bleachers. Score:

KID MEXICO ATTEMPTS COMEBACK AT LEGION

Kid Mexico, declared by Jack Doyle to be one of the greatest crowd pleasers in the history of the four-round days at Vernon, will try a comeback tonight at the South Gate Legion Stadium, meeting Battling Dozier of San Francisco in the main event of "Doc" Moffett's weekly card.

Mexico is classed by Doyle with Danny Kramer and Bud Taylor as outstanding attractions who always gave the fans action. The former top-liner has been training hard at Long Beach and believes he will stop Dozier, a tough middle who has been campaigning with success around the Bay City.

Ray Gonzales and Jerry Duffy, featherweights, are down for the six-round semifinal. They are hard hitters.

SOMETHING NEW FOR TROUT FISHERMEN

Something new, even for the most seasoned trout angler, is now offered by the Azusa branch of the Rainbow Angling Club, it is announced by Manager Leigh Garnsey. The Azusa branch is now open evenings until 9 o'clock, thus offering fly or bait casting after dark. This is the first time known in Southern California that such a unique sport as fly fishing after dark has been offered anglers.

This time of year, twilight lingers until about 8 o'clock in the evening and on clear days even longer. The Rainbow branch is so located that nothing interferes with the light from sunsets.

FAIR AQUATIC STARS ENTER VENICE RACES

Lake Norco swimmers coached by Dr. W. A. Beazley will be among those seeking honors Sunday afternoon in the annual rough-water swim at Venice. Coach Beazley announced yesterday that he had entered three girls in the event. Norene Forbes, winner of the San Diego Silver Gate swim two times, although competing unattached, is now coached by Dr. Beazley. Ruby Harris and Phyliss Bell are the girls in the Venice event that Norco figures will bring home the bacon.

AMERICANS TRIUMPH ON FRENCH TENNIS COURTS

AUTEUIL (France) May 21. (AP)—All the American players who managed to dodge intermittent showers long enough to remain on the courts and dispute their matches came through with victories in the French tennis championship today.

Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Cal., and her Belgian partner, Jeanne Sigart, defeated Mme. Lebernerais and Mlle. Claudet Anet, France, 6-2, 6-2, to enter the third round of women's doubles.

The German-American combination of Cecilie Aussem and Bill Tilden advanced to the third round of mixed doubles by a 6-1, 6-2 victory over Mlle. Anet and Tamio Abe of Japan's Davis Cup team.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody was not scheduled and rain caused postponement of a doubles match in which Miss Jacobs and her partner, Wilbur Coen of Kansas City, were to have appeared.

Because of two days of rain, the play in all three doubles divisions is considerably behind schedule.

The only thing approaching an upset came when Otto Frotzheim and Edmund Nourney, a veteran and junior, respectively, from Germany, eliminated Paul Feret, former French professional in the Pyle, circus, and Lyttleton Rogers of Ireland's Davis Cup team. The Rogers-Feret combine had been expected to reach the semifinals.

Takeichi Harada and Tamio Abe of Japan put out Baron Humbert De Morpurgo of Italy and Count Ludwig Salm Von Hoogstraten of Austria in straight sets.

NEW MARATHON TROPHY UP

Special Prize Will be Awarded to First Legion Man Aside from De Mar to Finish

One more trophy has been added to the list of awards which will be presented to victorious runners in the second annual Times Pre-Olympic marathon, which is to be run here June 14.

Charley Keppen, director of the classic, yesterday announced that a special trophy would be presented to the first man representing the American Legion, aside from Clarence De Mar, to cross the finish line. De Mar, of course, will represent the Melrose (Mass.) American Legion post, but officials of the race decided that as the veteran easterner would be sure to finish far in front, it would be best to eliminate him from the competition for the special trophy.

The beautiful Times perpetual trophy will be presented to the winner and his name will be engraved thereon, following that of Harry Chaca, last year's winner and his name will be enpresented to the first ten men to finish, and bronze medals will be awarded every other runner who crosses the finish line within the time limit.

Meanwhile, Keppen and the board of directors of the classic is rechecking the course of the marathon to make sure that the distance is that of the exact Olympic route —twenty-six miles, 385 yards. De Mar ran 2h. 34m. in winning the Boston marathon this year and, with plenty of competition assured from the Sherman Indians, the officials wish to have everything accord'ng to A.A.U. records in the event that any records be broken.

The competition this year promises to be much closer than it was in 1929. Many of the runners who ran in the first event have been in rigorous training for the entire year, preparing for the second race.

COMPLETE WORK ON CHALLENGER BARGE

Final work on the refinishing of Bill's Challenger Barge, a fishing barge to be operated by the Morris Pleasure Fishing Boats, Inc., at Santa Monica, is being rushed through this week, it was announced yesterday by Capt. Cliff Morris. The barge, 237 feet long and fifty-foot beam, will go into commission a short distance off Santa Monica on Memorial Day. It will be in command of Capt. Bill Hall.

When completed, the barge will be one of the finest deep-sea fishing barges in the Santa Monica Bay region. The skipper is an old hand at the barge game and has hundreds of friends among anglers. Tender service will be from the Santa Monica Municipal Pier every half-hour.

BRILLIANT CARD FOR VETERANS AT LEGION

A brilliant array of champion fighters, wrestlers and entertainers, including the highest-paid stars of the theatrical and fistic worlds will participate in the benefit show which the Second Division Association, A.E.F., is staging Monday evening, the 26th inst., at 8 o'clock at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium, to raise funds for the June convention here of the survivors of this famous Chateau Thierry outfit.

Ace Hudkins, Everett Marshall and Frankie Campbell, all local boxing favorites and fighters of national importance will go on for a few rounds each. Don George and Nick Lutze will wrestle, with Lou Daro refereeing. Tom Gallery is daily adding other popular local favorites to the list of fighters who will appear.

HOUSE TO TAKE ON JOHNSON TONIGHT

Mack House, the black kayo artist, will meet Tom (Swede) Johnson, a huge newcomer, at Pasadena tonight.

The supporting card includes Charles (Kid) Allen, junior welterweight, and Johnny Spencer of Texas in the four-round semifinal.

Four other four-round bouts will be: Jimmy Harrison vs. Mickey McLaughlin, 140 pounds; "Windmill" Carbenall vs. Herman Placentia, 128 pounds; Garry Schipper vs. Frankie Abendino, 140 pounds; Young Olson vs. Ray Navarro, 118 pounds.

FAIR GOLFERS PLAY FINALS

U.C.L.A. SPORTS LEADERS CHOSEN

Bruin captains for the two major spring sports of baseball and track have been selected at U.C.L.A. for the 1931 season. Harry Griffith, stellar moundsman, was chosen to lead the Bruin nine of next year, and the Westwood trackmen elected Art Watson, quarter-miler, as their captain.

Griffith pitched for the Bruins in 1928, but was forced to drop out in 1929 because of illness. He came back to school this year, and was a dependable hurler this past season, losing a number of games only because of bad support in the field. Art Watson was one of Coach Harry Trotter's track developments this year. Last season, Watson was a mediocre sprinter, but this years he was uncovered as a stellar quarter-miler, breaking the school record of 50 3-5s. with a 49 4-5s. performance.

SIXTEEN BRUINS GIVEN LETTERS

Sixteen members of the U.C.L.A. baseball team have been awarded letters for this season, Coach A. J. Stursenegger, Bruin diamond mentor, has announced. Of the sixteen, four will graduate this year with three years of competition completed.

The four graduating are Capt. Jimmy Leith, second baseman; Tommy Devlin, catcher; Vincent Fitzgerald, third baseman, and Les Ward, pitcher. Ted Dennis, third baseman; Lee Duke, pitcher; Harry Griffith, pitcher; Vernon Charleston, pitcher, and Cliff Simpson, outfielder, received their second letter awards, but Simpson will also be lost to the team through graduation. Those receiving their first letter were Bill Brubaker, shortstop; Al Chamie, outfielder; Bill Campbell, catcher; Bill Gilbert, outfielder; Carl Knowles, first baseman; Larry Marion, catcher, and Jimmy Soest, outfielder.

Numeral awards for playing on the freshman nine were given to the following: C. S. Blackman, Albert Greenman, Noboru Hashiguchi, Homer Hinman, Capt. Eugene Hirsch, S. Krueger, B. Levin, Tom Murphy, J. H. O'Flaherty, E. Olani, Robert Slaughter, Dudley Tower, and W. J. Winter.

SPOTLIGHT FIGHTERS END TOIL

Four Featured Scrappers Finish Training Grinds for Saturday Night

Joe Peregrina and Jack McVey, middleweights, and Andy Martin and Benny Kid Carter, featherweights, who box the two ten-round bouts featuring Carlo Curtis's open-air boxing show at White Sox Park, Saturday night will have about ended their training work tomorrow. Tomorrow's training will consist of little more than limbering-up exercises.

McVey's work has been a revelation to the fans who have seen him at the Main street. He is an aggressive boxer without throwing a lot of punches. He moves in slowly and depends on sharpshooting to score. He does little misising and every punch he starts has a jolt behind it.

Although they are the closest of pals there is a lot of rivalry between Augie Curtis and Abie Miller, the A.A.U. champions who will make their professional debuts on the Saturday-night card. Miller, national amateur bantamweight titleholder, is scheduled to step six rounds with Danny Robles while Curtis is slated to go four with Phil Villanueva.

The two Japs who came down from San Francisco for bouts look very fair in their workouts. Jiro Kumagai, a lightweight, meets Joe Borola in a six-rounder. Kintaro Usuda, welter, meets Phil Reznick in a four.

Oakland Wins in Twelfth

OAKLAND, May 21. (AP)—After battling twelve innings today Oakland beat out the San Francisco Seals, 7 to 6. This end of the long struggle came when Mellano and Arlett doubled and Johnny Vergez, third baseman, hit a home run over the left-field fence. The Oaks tied the score, 6 to 6, in the Sixth when Gaston, Seal catcher, made a wild throw, allowing a run to come over. Davis started for the Seals but was replaced by Turpin in the fifth, while Pete Daglia went the entire distance for the winners. The score:

LEONARD LAUDS JACK SHARKEY

convinced that the Boston heavyweight is one of the best boxers the big division has had since the days of Jack Johnson.

You must realize, as I did, that Jack Sharkey was not trying to hurt me when we boxed. We agreed, however, before we started, that if he saw an opening he should take advantage of it and I should do the same.

"Boxing with you ought to do me a great deal of good," said Sharkey. "I can learn something and so can you. We can help each other."

I was not one of his sparring partners who had been told to take it easy. He had never boxed me before and he was on his mettle. The way he conducted himself proved to my satisfaction, at least that he is what I thought he was—a great boxer.

I think I discovered in my boxing with Jack why he is known as an "in-and-outer." Here is the reason, as I see it:

Sharkey is a fine, clever boxer as long as everything is going all right. The one fault that he has is that he allows his temper to control his actions in the ring.

If he happens to get hit a stiff punch that hurts, or even that causes the crowd to give a chorus of "ahs," he immediately loses control of the situation and permits himself to become a common, ordinary slugger. He tosses away the science and the skill which he has learned in his career as a boxer and settles down to a trading of punches, thus putting himself on a par with the veriest novice and making it a gamble as to which gets over the first telling punch.

I had spoken to Sharkey about this before we began our boxing and when I happened to get over a particularly telling blow to the face Jack laughed loudly, stopped and motioned with his hand, then cried: "None of that, Benny, none of that!"

A few seconds later, however, when I happened to drive a heavy blow to the body Jack started as if he were going to let loose, but I held up a warning glove and he held himself in check.

That is all that Sharkey needs—a check. He is one of the greatest boxers the heavyweight class ever has produced and I realize that there was a James J. Corbett when I say this. I have said before that I think Jack Sharkey can be as good a boxer as he wants to be and after putting on the gloves with him I am convinced that I was right in my opinion.

FOREMAN WINS RING TITLE

LONDON, May 21. (AP)—Al Foreman of Montreal, Que., won the British lightweight boxing championship tonight, knocking out Fred Webster, holder of the title, in the first round of a twelve-round scheduled bout.

Mallet Stars in Limelight at Uplifters'

Eric Pedley and Elmer Boeseke, nationally famous polo stars, who as team-mates have played on countless championship mallet fours, will enact the role of friendly foes Sunday afternoon and lead opposing teams at the Uplifters' Club polo grounds. Charles Hackley, chairman of the club's polo committee, announced yesterday. Pedley and Boeseke will select their supporting players from the fifteen mallet men registered at the Beverly Boulevard turf. As the two stellar polo-ists are leading candidates for America's international team, their play against each other is expected to stir up considerable interest among local horse enthusiasts.

Bears Start East Today

BERKELEY, May 21. (Exclusive) Another summer competition has been scheduled for University of California track athletes in the form of the National Collegiate Athletic Association events at Chicago on June 6 and 7. Coach Walter Christie has officially entered his two star javelin throwers, Emery Curtice and Kenneth Churchill, in this meet.

The javelin artists will leave for Chicago immediately after the national intercollegiate track-and-field championships at Harvard Stadium Cambridge, Mass., the 30th and 31st inst. At Chicago the Golden Bears will again meet with their longtime rivals, the University of Southern California's U. C. 4-A. team.

The varsity tennis team will also board the train with the track squad. Coach Ray Grismer is accompanying a powerful squad which is regarded as potential national champion timber. Dolf Muelhisen and Robert Muench, for instance, are hailed as possible winners of the intercollegiate doubles title. Other members of the tennis delegation include Capt. Martin McKee, Theodore Ludlow and Capt. Russ Galloway of the freshman team.

be the only nations opposed to women's participation.

Most of the opposition to feminine competition arose after the 800-meter event at Amsterdam, where several of the girls collapsed.

While this question consumed most of the closing session, the federation found time to add another world's record to the sixteen accepted yesterday.

A heave of 52ft. 7 1-4in., made by Emil Hirshfeld of the German Olympic team August 26, 1928, in Bochum, Germany, was recognized as a new world's record for the sixteen-pound shot put.

Germany's gain was America's loss, as Hirshfeld's achievement replaces the old mark of 52ft. 3-4in., made by John Kuck of the United States team in beating Hirshfeld and the rest of the field for the 1928 Olympic crown.

Critz, Benton Change Hands in Giant Deal

NEW YORK, May 21. (Exclusive)—Hugie Critz, veteran shortstop of the Cincinnati Reds, has been traded to the New York Giants for Larry Benton, right-hand pitcher. The move will plug up a hole in the Giant infield that has existed since the days of Frankie Frisch and Rajah Hornsby. Incidentally, it breaks up the best double-play combination in the major league, Critz and Horace Ford teaming up in 1928 to set a record of 194 double killings.

SCOUT II ANNEXES NEWMARKET STAKES

NEWMARKET (Eng.) May 21. (AP) The Scout II, owned by W. Woodware, won the Newmarket Stakes today.

The Scout II, a Baby colt, was bred in the United States and is a half-brother of Gallant Fox, winner of the Kentucky Derby Saturday in the silks of William Woodward of New York. The Scout II is by Sir Galahad III, sire of Gallant Fox, out of La Rabiee.

The Scout II won by half a length from the Agakhan's Ut Majeur with A. R. Cox's Sea Rover III, four lengths farther back. Seven ran.

WHAT A DUEL!

FEG MURRAY yearns for the day when Wykoff, Simpson, Tolan, Bracey, Dyer and Leland can be gathered together for a series of sprint duels in the 100 and 220.

For my part I would be satisfied with the duel at Cambridge this year when Wykoff, Dyer and Tolan from the West and Middle West tangle with the East's best in the I. C. 4 A's.

Tolan beat Wykoff in both the 100 and 220 in the national A.A.U. championships at Denver last summer.

And Tolan has just been given the official world's record of 9 5-10s. by the International Federation in session at Berlin.

Dyer beat Wykoff in 9 4-5s. this spring.

Wykoff reversed the verdict in 9 7-10s. at Palo Alto last Saturday.

And in between, Wykoff ran the distance in new world's record time of 9 2-5s.

What a race that will be at Cambridge!

Tolan is built on the order of Howard Drew, former Southern California Negro sprinter, and runs much like him.

I believe he has a better kick in the last twenty yards than either Wykoff or Dyer. Wykoff will have to get him in the first twenty-five to win the century.

With Wykoff out of the furlong the race lies between Tolan and Dyer and the eastern stars. Dyer is a better furlong than a 100 star, and he will give the Michigan black flash a real battle.

A RACING FORECAST

A HOME-BREWED prediction:

"Two Los Angeles racing drivers will be among the first four finishing at Indianapolis this year."

The prophecy is the private property of Mr. Norman Hartford, who bashfully admits he is the p.a. for the local Legion speedway, sole remaining citadel of western racing.

"First of all," says Mr. Hartford in backing up his statement, "of the eight or nine drivers we have at Indianapolis getting ready, one should thump the throttle home. Pete De Paolo and Harry Hartz, former champions, are entered, as well as Louie Meyer, the leader for 1929.

"However, I'm not pinning my hopes on De Paolo, Hartz nor Meyer. Instead, I'm expecting either Mel Kenealy, Ernie Triplett or Tony Gulota to breeze through to the money.

"These boys have been racing in stiff competition at the local Legion speedway while others have been resting. It's the first trip up there for Kenealy, our 1929 southwestern champion, and he'll show the folks plenty.

"Watch that Irishman's smoke."

WHAT A MEMORY!

THEY'RE opening up Culver City again tonight, and I'm wondering if the stink caused by the six-year-old Fuente-Fulton flop has been thoroughly fumigated.

Two or three promoters tried to make a go of it at Culver City after that distressing affair, but the odor lingered and the arena never seemed able to hurdle the hoodoo.

Larry Hunt tried it for a spell. Harry Lyyke stuck it out longest.

But the memory of Fulton, the falling plasterer, hitting the canvas as the result of air currents created by Fuente's swishing gloves, always persisted.

Cy Saenz is going to try it this time. He's been the matchmaker at Ocean Park for a long time.

He knows fights and fighters, and he's sending Augie De Mille and Red Stephens against each other in the main event. Both are Bay City favorites, and Cy is catering to that class of trade rather than customers from Los Angeles.

Cy may make it, and he may not. Fate and memories are queer things.

A PRE-OLYMPIC FEATURE

A FINE pre-Olympic feature—the national gymnastic championships which are to be held at the Olympic June 6.

The meet will bring into action all the champion tumblers and gymnasts of the East and West, and should stimulate interest among local athletic followers in the 1932 Olympic Games.

Gymnastics is a major sport in the city high schools, and it is an important Olympic Games sport, but in the past the United States has not done well in competition with European nations. They specialize on it over there as we specialize on track and field.

A patron's association has been formed for the June 6 meet, and all school kids are to be admitted at a nominal cost.

Culver City Fistic Club Opens Again

The Culver City fight arena will reopen again tonight after months of closed doors with an eight-round main event between Augie DeMille and Red Stephens, two Bay district favorites. Cy Saenz is the promoter. Stephens uninterrupted winning streak shows twenty battles to his credit, a large number of them by the K.O. route.

The five preliminaries to the main event include Richie Thomas vs. Pete Saavedra; Russell Brock vs. Ted Thompson; Dave Leivas vs. Frankie Mann; Johnny Chrismas vs. Al De Chaine; Roy Salidbury vs. Young Sencio.

SHELLENBACK DOWNS DUCKS

Thereafter Shellenback was in complete command of the situation. French nicked him for a blow in the third, and also got an infield hit in the seventh, and in the ninth, Williams singled to center, but aside from that, "Shelly" had the Ducks under control.

Meanwhile, the Stars, after pecking out a couple of hits in the second and third, got to work in earnest in the next two frames, and sewed up the contest. In the fourth, with one out, ancient Hank Severeid singled to left, and Mickey Heath lofted one into the bleachers for two markers.

BIG RALLY

Shellenback started the fifth with a single to left. Gazella walked, and Catina sacrificed them along. Brannon slashed one to Chatham, and while the Duck shortfielder was tossing Brannon out at first, Shellenback scored and Gazella went to third. Green cut loose with a slashing double into deep right, scoring Gazella, and Severeid got his third hit, a double to center, to score Green. Heath walked, and Manager Larry Woodall send Yerkes to the showers.

Cascarella took the mound, and Rumler ended the festivities with a long fly to Williams in left.

Hollywood got its other run in the eighth. Severeid smashed one at Cascarella, which the latter was just able to deflect with his gloved hand, to Hillis for an out. It looked like Hank was about to make it four straight blows. Heath singled infield to Hillis. Rumler drove one into deep left, and Heath scored when Williams let the ball get by him. That ended the scoring.

The victory moved the Stars up to sixth place, ahead of Seattle and Portland, in the league standings, causing great rejoicing to that genial manager, Oscar Vitt, of the ever-smiling countenance.

In the second, Woodall drove a liner through the box that Shellenback tried to stop with his bare hand. He threw to first, hitting Woodall in the back, and the game was stopped momentarily, while Shelly shook the numbness out of his hand. It was immediately after that that Yerkes hit his homer.

Alpha Delta Tau Fraternity's baseball team defeated the Phi Beta Delta Fraternity nine yesterday afternoon by the score of 3 to 2 in the semifinal round of the U.C.L.A. interfraternity championships. Carl Brown, captain of last fall's Bruin football team, pitched for the winners. Alpha Delta Tau and Phi Delta Theta will meet for the title.

DADO FAVORITE FOR LEGION GO

Filipino Picked to Win Over Young Sport Tomorrow

Speedy Dado, great little Filipino flyweight, is the favorite with the Hollywood American Legion stadium patrons this week and they believe he will beat Young Sport, Mexican, in the main event tomorrow night. Dado has made his greatest fights at the stadium and he is sincere in his effort to get a championship shot this year. Dado has had tough breaks, due to injuries just when he was headed for big money.

Next week the Hollywood fights will be on Thursday night and not Friday. The California boxing law prohibits boxing matches in this State on Memorial Day. Vigo Doman has been matched with Denny Lenhart of San Francisco and Joe Bitto fights Tom Patrick in the semi-wind-up.

On Monday night at the stadium the veterans of the Second Division are staging a big vaudeville and athletic show featuring theatrical stars, wrestlers and boxers. The money netted will be used for the entertainment of the Second Division veterans, who will hold their annual reunion in this city next month. "Big Time" Eddie Schaper is chairman of the entertainment committee.

Teddy Palacios and Sammy Offerman, lightweights, look like the best of the preliminary shots. Palacios is favorite. Joe Bell fights Johnny Romero in the special. Leonard Allen is off the card and Bell is a substitute. Bell should be the favorite. He is rated a better fighter than Allen.

outs. The Solons stepped out into the lead in the second inning and stayed there.

This was accomplished by a double by Camilli, a triple by Osborn and a sacrifice fly by Rohwer. The Solons scored again in the sixth on Backer's single and a lazy Texas leaguer behind shortstop off the bat of Camilli, and on which Backer came all the way home.

The second and last Angel tally was scored in the eighth when Moore reached first base by being hit by a pitched ball and Dittmar singled. Moore scoring when Rohwer let the ball trickle through his legs.

Manager Jack Lelivelt is thinking about starting Peters tomorrow at Stockton, while the Solons likely will use Flynn. The score:

WIFE ON STAND FOR OTHER MAN

Mrs. McIntyre Ends Long Silence in Balm Suit

Denial of Love for Husband Features Testimony

Witness Also Admits Making Advances to Kemp

Mrs. Lillian O. McIntyre, Whittier beauty, broke her long silence yesterday and testified she never had loved her husband, Lem L. McIntyre, oil man and former baseball player, and that she is the one who made advances to Ray Henry Kemp, who is being sued by the husband for $50,000 for asserted alienation of affections.

Mrs. McIntyre was the final witness for the defense, after which attorneys made their closing arguments. The case went to the jury about 4:30 p.m. The jury still was out at 5 o'clock, when court adjourned. If a verdict is arrived at during the night it will be sealed and delivered to Superior Judge Archbald when court convenes today.

WIFE'S TESTIMONY

Mrs. McIntyre testified that after filing a suit for divorce against McIntyre in 1926 she went back to live with him.

"I was in deadly fear that he would kill me," she declared.

Mrs. McIntyre testified that she had met her husband at the home of her brother in Whittier and he promised to drive her to Long Beach, where she then was living.

"Instead he drove for hours through the hills and finally took me to Ventura," she said.

"At every curve he threatened to drive the car over the bank and kill us both."

All of this, she said, occurred before McIntyre left the United States for Borneo. She said she repeatedly told him she did not love him.

TIME OF MEETING

Mrs. McIntyre asserted that she first met Kemp in the fall of 1925 when he came to her home with a Mr. Drum to play cards.

The wife admitted she was the one to first write to him after he had left for the Argentine. Her examination was conducted by counsel for Kemp, Attorney Phil Swaffield.

Mrs. McIntyre was subjected to only a brief cross-examination by Attorney Edward Penprase, counsel for McIntyre. She was asked relative to a cablegram she sent on April 4, 1928, to Singapore asking her husband if she might go to him in the East Indies. She said she was torn by conflicting emotions when she wrote the cablegram.

Following this bit of evidence Mrs. McIntyre was questioned as to dates of the filing of various suits for divorce.

Wife Bemoans Necklace Sale

Mrs. Mauriel Lee Lollier was forced to sell a diamond necklace piece by piece and an automobile given to her before her marriage in order to support herself and her husband, George A. Lollier, she told Superior Judge Collier yesterday when asking for a divorce. The couple married at Las Vegas, Nev., on September 19, 1927, and separated on October 22, 1929.

Under the examination of her counsel, Rex B. Goodcell, Mrs. Lollier told Judge Collier her husband is addicted to drink, that he called her names and refused to work.

A decree was granted.

NEW WIDE FILM DEVICE SHOWN

Universal Buying Pre-Publication Rights to Stories; "Fifty Million Frenchmen" Filmed in Paris; Ona Munson Plays First National Lead

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

The bugbear of wide screen and film difficulties is about to be banished into the limbo of forgotten worries, with a new system provided for the showing of the extra-width films, according to the announcement of M. H. Hoffman.

The producer yesterday demonstrated before a group of producers and technicians at the Metropolitan studios the giant screen system, which is a combination of lens, camera and film process, requiring no new projection equipment, double film, or any other innovation to worry the theater men. As explained by Hoffman, the giant system requires only a screen to suit the width of the stage or proscenium, which will make it practical in the smallest theater. There will also be a big saving to producers, according to Hoffman's explanation.

At the same time the formation of a new producing organization to be called Liberty Productions Company, Ltd., was announced, embracing in its personnel M. H. Hoffman, who recently sold his interest in Tiffany, and who, among other things, is known for the Mae Murray pictures; Victor and Edward Halperin, producers of "She Goes to War," "Party Girl" and other films; and Herman Gumbin of the General Fiber Company of Chicago.

The plans of the new organization include the license for use of the giant screen system. The company will launch at the Metropolitan studio in Hollywood a program of twelve talking picturizations of outstanding stage plays, to be known as Broadway playhouse productions, and in addition eight Victory productions, promised to be even more pretentious, and suitable for long runs, road showing, etc.

Included in the latter list will be Richard Barrie's "Davy Jones Locker," a Broadway stage play, and Alexander Kosorotov's "The Worst Woman in Paris," successful European stage production.

While these twenty pictures will be produced with the giant screen system device, they will not necessarily have to be run as such in any theater, declare the Halperin brothers, as they will be adaptable to any screen and any production mechanism. The wide screen film will be served the exhibitor at but a nominal increase over the usual rental for ordinary film.

UNIVERSAL SEEKS PICTURE RIGHTS

Universal would appear to be a new company and to be entering on a new era of prosperity and artistry, what with the success of "All Quiet On the Western Front" and "King of Jazz."

CARL LAEMMLE JR.

Not only are these films proving the equal of any product now being shown, but the concern, under advice of Charles Logue, acting editor-in-chief of the story department, is acquiring the prepublication and pre-exhibition rights to many new stories and plays by noted authors. Also, the story-writing department is being changed.

It is the judgment of Carl Laemmle, Jr., Logue and others that the acquisition of plays and stories before they have reached the public by way of stage or magazine will make for a freshness, brilliancy and appeal of product that is possible in no other way.

This method will bring to film fans the chance to view the productions at the same time or before they reach stage and publication, with Universal reaping many consequent advantages.

Two productions thus planned to be shown on the screen in this manner include a play and a novel. The play is "Reckless Daughters," by James Hagen, and the novel is "St. Johnson," by W. B. Burnett, author of several recently published novels.

Already scenarists are at work on talking screen adaptations of the Burnett story, including Tom Reed, who is preparing the story, and no less noted an author than Joseph March, author of "Wild Party" and of the screen version of "Journey's End." March will write the dialogue.

"It will be the policy of Universal henceforth to be ahead of time with its productions, according to word received yesterday; and Universal is also to be in the market, declare its officials, for the finest stories obtainable.

WARNERS TO MAKE MUSICAL IN FRANCE

Paris is to be the scene of much Warner Brothers film production activity in future, we learn.

The first important film to be made there will be, quite appropriately, their musical film version of the big New York hit, "Fifty Million Frenchmen."

The cast will be chosen from among the Hollywood actors, with some additions for smaller roles to be chosen in Paris, and with quite possibly also a French version made by native players. So far, however, no members of the cast have been selected.

The production will be made in color photography and will be one of the most elaborate films of the year.

Comedians to Shine

If "Going Wild" isn't a success, it isn't going to be because First National hasn't hired enough comedians to play in it.

MAY BOLEY

May Boley, brilliant comedienne of "So Long Letty," "Hit the Deck" and other stage pieces, and of several pictures, will add to the gaiety in "Going Wild," while Johnny Arthur, noted comedian, will be another member of the cast who is certain to add to the hilarity of the production.

Ona Munson, beautiful young leading woman, and star of several noted New York successes, has been chosen as leading lady, while Joe E. Brown, and Lawrence Gray, as heretofore announced, will be co-featured. Other noted members of the cast will be Frank McHugh and Laura Lee. Miss Munson in private life is the wife of the comedian, Eddie Buzzell, and we do hear that Buzzell himself is likely to take to the talkers.

FRED NEWMEYER

Fred Newmeyer to Direct

When Paramount starts the production of the late Avery Hopwood's play, "The Best People," Fred Newmeyer will direct. So far no members of the cast have been selected.

"The Best People" is to be produced at the Long Island studios, and Newmeyer, who has been in New York, arrived from there yesterday to confer with Paramount officials regarding cast. He will return to the East as soon as the principals have been chosen.

'One Romantic Night' Shows at United Artists

Star Displays Best Ability in Dramatic Scenes

Marie Dressler's Cleverness in Comedy a Feature

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Following close in the wake of her success on the stage in New York, already widely acclaimed, Lillian Gish's first talking picture opened yesterday at the United Artists Theater. One might therefore say that it enjoys an opportune release.

The film is "One Romantic Night," and is taken from Ferenc Molnar's play "The Swan," though in process of reaching the screen it has gone through a very liberal adaptation.

The picture drew an interested audience at the show which I attended, who were more inclined to seek the occasion for mirthfulness rather than seriousness. They responded readily to the humorous ingenuity of Marie Dressler, which seems one of the high lights of the production. She it is who manages, a trifle clumsily at times, the romantic life of the fair Alexandra, who must marry for the welfare of her principality rather than to suit her own desires.

Doubtless many people here remember the stage play, "The Swan," which was given a notably excellent performance here two or three seasons ago as an Edward Everett Horton attraction. A few may also remember it from a silent version of the picture filmed several years ago, that was not one of the more brilliant cinema achievements.

I think that "The Swan" benefits somewhat by being brought to the talking screen, rather than the silent, but I cannot feel that it retains either the deftness or the delicacy of the original. There are moments when the gloved drama of Molnar is present, but the adherence to his skillful style is not consistent.

There is a naive quality of the treatment as achieved, which reminds one somewhat of the more familiar mythical kingdom stories. The irony which threaded the play is only here and there suggested.

For all that it lacks the more vital elements of the play, "One Romantic Night" will doubtless elicit attention because of a certain novelty of plot, and because of the fact that it presents Miss Gish's first audible film portrayal.

She exhibits qualities that are at times exceedingly promising. I would say that her talents would more fittingly be brought out in sterner dramatic stuff than this play affords. There is also something to be said for her efforts in comedy. But romance is not her milieu, and the picture unfortunately demands too much of her in this respect. In many of the love scenes her voice has an almost plaintive and childlike note, not strictly in accord with the royal character, unless it is to be assumed that "One Romantic Night" is essaying the style of Maeterlinck. And I rather doubt that.

The whimsical spirit in "One Romantic Night" is perhaps its most distinct attribute, and each performance seems to be more or less in that vein. I do not think that Rod La Rocque is well cast in his particular role, as the light and frivolous heir to the throne. One finds too many similarities to Maurice Chevalier's character in "The Love Parade," and the comparison is not favorable to La Rocque.

Conrad Nagel gets comparatively little chance to do aught but make speeches as the tutor. His reading is clear but the part is restricted in interest, except for the interlude of the banquet table.

Marie Dressler and O. P. Heggie are distinctly in the foreground, Miss Dressler being exceedingly clever. Billie Bennett is good, too, and creditable is the work of Albert Conti. Philippe de Lacy, Byron Sage and Barbara Leonard are others in the cast. "One Romantic Night" was adapted by Melville Baker, and directed by Paul Stein.

The Mack Sennett comedy, "Fat Wives for Thin," a Robert Bruce scenic, a screen song cartoon and Gaylord Carter at organ are other units of the program. The Sennett comedy has very amusing moments, but lacks diversity of ideas. The cast includes Marjorie Beebe, George Barraud, William Davidson, Mildred Van Dorn, Andy Clyde and Aggie Herring.

Phillips Holmes Learns Part as Author Writes

An actor said to be so familiar with his role that he needed no rehearsal for his part is Phillips Holmes, featured in Edmund Goulding's "The Devil's Holiday," starting today at the Paramount Theater.

For more than a month the popular young actor witnessed the growth of the part he plays in this romance-drama of emotional appeal. Cast in the role of David Stone, an unsophisticated middle westerner, he was, with Goulding, author and director of the picture, from the time the idea for the character was conceived until its production at the Paramount studios. When Goulding entered into contract to direct the story it was a mere idea. He went to Palm Springs to develop the idea and Holmes, already selected for one of the leading roles, accompanied him.

Arrangements Completed for Benefit Show

Sponsors of the monster milk fund show announce that all is in readiness for the first fifty-act performance at the Shrine Auditorium tomorrow night.

A different program will be presented Saturday and again on Sunday. More than 150 acts ranging from circus novelties to singing and dancing ensembles and featuring as many as 100 artists each have been offered to the 233 Club, staging the benefits. Fanchon and Marco will personally supervise each program.

Eddie Cantor, who is starring in Samuel Goldwyn's picturization of "Whoopee," is slated to head the Friday evening bill.

Life Ten Years Hence Dramatized

Benita Hume

Plays the leading feminine role in "High Treason," a film with a futuristic theme, which will reopen Fred Miller's California Theater tomorrow night.

ACTORS INSPIRED IN FILM

That there was more genuine feeling inspired in the actors playing in "All Quiet on the Western Front," now showing at the Carthay Circle Theater, than in any piece in his whole career of thirty-five years on stage and screen, is the opinion of Arnold Lucy, who portrays the role of Kantorek, the schoolmaster, in the war film.

"Consider my own case," Lucy says. "I believed from the start that the picture could have a lasting effect upon the peace of the world. I, therefore, created in Kantorek not a histrionic characterization but what I considered to be a faithful impersonation of the patriotically inspired schoolmaster, whose only thought seemed to be final his students must enlist—to aid his country's cause."

Lucy is a veteran of the English and American stage, and has appeared in motion pictures periodically since 1915.

NEW BILL DUE TODAY AT R.K.O.

"Rich People," Starring Constance Bennett, Listed as Film Attraction

Constance Bennett's Pathe picture, "Rich People," and the Weaver Brothers, an aggregation of musical "hillbillies," are the features of the stage and screen program starting today at the R.-K.-O. Theater.

Regis Toomey, Robert Ames, John Loder, Mahlon Hamilton and others are in the supporting cast. Edward H. Griffith directed.

The Weavers and sister Elviry are known as the original bandsaw musicians. They bring the atmosphere of the backwoods of Arkansas. Other features of the vaudeville include Heras and Wallace, Orville Stamm and Billie De Vane.

Donald Clarke Uses Discovery as Story Basis

Donald Henderson Clarke, newspaper reporter and student, is said to have made an unusual discovery and introduced it as unique psychology in his novel, "Louis Beretta." It is that gangsters have souls. The discovery has been retained in the screen version of the story, "Born Reckless," which starts today at Loew's State, it is claimed.

Edmund Lowe portrays the man whose destiny is shaped by his environment, circumstances and surroundings into which he was born. Catherine Dale Owen heads the supporting cast, which includes Lee Tracy, Warren Hymer, Marguerite Churchill, Frank Albertson, Eddie Gribbon, Ben Bard, Paul Page and Mike Donlin.

"Romance" is the title of the new Fanchon and Marco stage idea. Georgie Stoll leads the band.

Actress Wears Unusual Attire in Latest Film

Male dressmakers brought from London to Hollywood, made Dorothy Mackaill's extensive wardrobe for "The Flirting Widow," her latest First National comedy, opening tomorrow at Warner Brothers' Downtown Theater.

The actress tried a new style of hair bob, especially worked out by her hairdresser, which further adds to the unusual theme of the picture. Her blond locks are combed straight back and reveal the ears.

"The Flirting Widow" is based on an A. E. W. Mason story, "Green Stockings." Basil Rathbone, Leila Hyams, William Austin, Claude Gillingswater and Emily Ritzroy are prominent in the cast.

Sheehan to be Guest of Honor

Louis B. Mayer and Irving Thalberg of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, Joseph M. Schenck of United Artists studio, Harold B. Franklin, president of Fox West Coast Theaters, and Sol Wurtzel of the Fox Films, will tomorrow night banquet Winfield R. Sheehan in the Blossom Room of the Hotel Roosevelt.

Will Rogers will be toastmaster and Eddie Cantor master of ceremonies. Joseph M. Schenck will make the speech of welcome. The list of guests, the affair being invitational, will include Will Hays, William Collier, Sr., Cecil B. De Mille, Sam Goldwyn, Sid Grauman, D. W. Griffith, William Le Baron, B. P. Schulberg and many others.

AUDIENCE APPROVES VAUDEVILLE TOUCH

Nine O'Clock Players Present One-Act Skits in Jovial Mood

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

A smart audience greeted the 9 O'clock Players of the Assistance League in their little theater excursion into new pastures at the Windsor Square Theater. The three-one act plays were offered with a nice assumption of professional assurance and proved adequate vehicles.

Frank Pollock, acting as a sort of facetious entrepreneur, administered a gayety to the proceedings and his mimicry of Italian grand opera tenors and opera was most diverting.

"The Minuet" by Louis N. Parker revealed the aristocratic tradition during the French Revolutionary period, with the protagonists delicately poised. As the Marquis, Philip Strange betrayed the charming philanderer, and Rene Denny played the part of the Marquise with charm and candor. Mario Dominici as the gaoler gave a realistic touch.

Poignant in the manner of its unfoldment and dealing with the infinitesimal concerns which often go to make up a woman's life, "Trifles" by Susan Glaspel was easily the feature of the evening's entertainment. Helen Ware gave a sympathetic and finely shaded performance. As Mrs. Peters, the sheriff's wife, Margaret McWade was excellent, and George Wright, Robert Conville and Erville Alderson added much to the play's meaning with competent portrayals.

The quintessence of ironic fare was served in "The Angel Intruder" by Floyd Dell. Love is dealt with somewhat summarily here. Kenneth Thomson was at his debonair best, giving a vivid delineation. Bramwell Fletcher made of his role a personification of genuineness. Marjory Hollis was attractive as the girl.

COLORFUL PROGRAM ENJOYED

Lyric Club Offers Varied Concert, Composed Largely by Local Persons

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The Lyric Club's last-of-the-season concert was a varied and interesting success. The chorus, under the inspiring direction of J. B. Poulin, sang a colorful program, more than half of which had been written by resident composers. Mrs. Hennion Robinson, the able accompanist of the club; Joseph W. Clokey, Homer Grunn, Elmor Remick Warren and Charles W. Cadman were the Los Angeles musicians honored.

A "Viennese Serenade," written by Frederick Stevenson, a composer whose memory is revered in Los Angeles, gave Raymond Moremen, baritone, fine opportunity as soloist, and the abbligatos were played by Mrs. Walter Wessels, violinist, Margery Stoddard, violoncellist. Dorothy Robinson assisted her mother at the second piano. The serenade was a highlight of the evening.

Mrs. Robinson's new choral work, "The Dream Shall Live," dedicated to the Lyric Club, is a spirited setting of a beautiful poem of aspiration and faith written by Corinne B. Dodge. The music mounted with the exuitance of the words.

Mr. Clokey's fantasy, "Nights," has dramatic contrast in its changing moods and merited the hearty approval expressed by the audience.

Homer Grunn played the accompaniments to five songs: two Japanese, one Chinese, one Indian and one entitled "Venus." Anina Mueller gave them sympathetic interpretation and charmed her audience by her stage poise and graciousness. The Grunn songs are in characteristic vein with attractive melody and possessing a soft and haunting beauty. It is always a pleasure to have a composer give his own works the stamp of authority but when Mr. Grunn accompanies, it might be better to remember that the singer is, after all, the soloist.

Miss Warren's "Hymn to the Night" is a lovely choral piece, well knit together and musicianly. The harmonic background is rich and the Lyric Club found it especially singable. It moves along through six verses smoothly and without a dull moment.

Cadman's jolly jazz chorus, "Out of Main Street," the solo part of which Pearl Berry Boyd essayed with good effect, has been sung here before. It never fails to bring down the house. It is 100 per cent American, and I don't mean red Indian. It is not a small feat to direct a large number of women's voices in the clear enunciation of modern syncopations, but Mr. Houlin managed it well and the club entered into the spirit of it with zest. Mrs. Boyd displayed a high, clear soprano voice to advantage and the audience was vociferous in its approval. An encore was demanded and given. Once more Cadman scored a hit.

'Temple Tower' Mystery Next at Boulevard

A characteristic which is said to be found in every motion-picture patron is the love of mystery and adventure. This is particularly true in the picture that begins a week's run at the Boulevard Theater today. Audiences will have the opportunity to fathom one of the most baffling mysteries that has ever been made into film form, the management reports. This is the mystery of "Temple Tower."

Marceline Day and Kenneth McKenna are cofeatured in this tale of hidden passages and secret panels. Henry B. Walthall, Peter Gawthorne, Cyril Chadwick and Ivan Linow are other members of the supporting cast. Laurel and Hardy will also be seen in their latest comedy, "The Brats."

BURLESQUE PLEASES

"Ginger Girls" is the title of the burlesque at the Follies Theater. The show has been arranged with a view to please the eyes and ears and affords brisk entertainment. There are many humorous situations and the songs are attractive. Bumps Mack and Jim Willis contribute comedy. Ray Parsons carries the straight role. Evelyn Myers and Wanda Devon dance agreeably.
